S. P. R. TRAIN WRECKED

Deliberate Robbery Supposed to Have Been the Object.

THE TRACK WAS BADLY TORN UP.
Fortunate However From the Fact That No One Was Killed.

MESSENGER APPLGATE'S ESCAPE.
Locomotive Upside Down—Luckily the Right Side—Mail Car Telescoped. Fire Broke Out.

PORTLAND, April 30.—Passenger, express, mail and baggage from the north bound S. P. R. train which was wrecked north of Myrtle creek station yesterday morning, reached here this a. m. Passengers gratefully expressing themselves that they were fortunately saved from death. The wreck was a deliberately planned one. Two heavy ties had been placed crosswise of the rails, and stuck under the ties in the main track so as to clear the pilot. It must have been done by some one who understood how to place the ties so as to prevent the cow-catcher from throwing them off. The engine was turned bottom side up, and Engineer Morris, who jumped, was badly cut about the head and face. Fireman Galling had a leg broken and was considerably bruised otherwise. The mail-car was telescoped, but the clerk escaped any injury. Fire broke out in the mail-car at once, but the agent, with the assistance of the passengers, succeeded in extinguishing it before much damage was done. All the letters were saved, but the paper mail was nearly all destroyed. None of the passengers were injured. The locomotive was thrown to the right of the track, which was most fortunate, as on the opposite side there is a steep bank sloping to the river, and if the train had gone over the bank, the loss of life would have been fearful. The track was torn up badly for 200 feet. There is no clue to the perpetrators. Robbery is supposed to have been the object, but it was given up, perhaps because the train did not leave the track as the murderous wreckers had designed. The postal clerk escaped unhurt by a miracle. He was in the back end of the car tying up the Roseburg mail. Express Messenger Applegate, who was standing before the desk when the crash came, seized the rods overhead and swung himself off the floor. The freight was all thrown into the front of the car. The messenger would have been killed sure if he had stayed on the floor.

Blood Curdling Reports Expected.
PARIS, April 30.—In spite of the assertions of Paul-Lefargue, the workingmen's deputy, that if the socialists do not carry the day at the municipal elections they will at least cut a prominent figure; that it is not the intention of the socialists to resort to violence to attain their ends; that they will remain within the law, and whatever manifestations that they may make will be of a purely peaceful character; there is a dread apprehension that within the next three days from this there will be some blood curdling reports from this city. Socialists are certain of majorities in several places; and Culpine, who is now undergoing a long term of imprisonment for unlawful acts at Fourmies, will be selected mayor of that town. Jules Guesde, chief of the Guesdist division of the socialist party, in reply to questions as to what was proposed to be done in Paris, said: "I do not know what the future has in store for us. The party may have to resort to force if it does not obtain what it considers its rights by peaceful proceedings, and there will be nothing in that. Every form of government in France for the last century found its birth in violence, and a disregard for the established law." Though the authorities have repeatedly said no trouble was anticipated in this city, they nevertheless are taking the most extensive precautions to repress disorders on May day. The managers of the large English and American shops near the Grand opera have received threatening letters declaring that every house house not French will be blown up.

Reception Postponed.
PARIS, April 29.—Owing to the fear caused by the recent explosions, the police have dissuaded Monroe, the American banker, in whose custody the Irish funds are placed, from giving a reception at his residence on the Champs d' Elysees on the ground that a magistrate resided in the same house, and the anarchists might seize the opportunity to wreck the building with dynamite, and cause a terrible loss of life. At a meeting of the cabinet today, President Carnot said he approved the plan of making the most stringent measures to preserve order on May day.

A CELESTIAL HORDE.

Hiding in Sequestered Nooks, Ready for the Break.

ONLY ONE MORE RIVER TO CROSS.
Should the Chinese Exclusion Act Only Expire Tuesday Night.

THE AGGREGATION SPREAD ITSELF
A Possible Show for the Agents of the Government to Get in and do Likewise.

DETROIT, April 29.—The woods are full of Chinese over in Canada. It is said the denizens of the Flowery Kingdom, in large numbers, are dodging behind trees and hiding in sequestered nooks, ready to make a break for the United States the minute the clock strikes 12 on the night of 3d. They all firmly believe that on May 4th the Chinese exclusion act will expire, and they hope to slip into the United States before the law now under consideration in congress can be put into effect. This numerous aggregation has consequently spread itself out along the border all the way from here to Vancouver, and is only biding its time to get into this great republic. Detroit, however, seems to be the most favorable point at which the Celestials can cross the border, for it is the city most adjacent to Chicago, whither nearly all of them seem to be bound. Because of this fact, Detroit has always been a favorite port at which to land after the trip through Canada from the Pacific, and, although there are no statistics to prove it, it is undisputed that more Chinese have been smuggled across the Detroit river, at various points, than at any other place in the country. Capt. Pratt, special treasury agent, says the Chinese are avoiding Windsor, because they know they will be closely watched there. The border is as closely guarded as it can be by the small force stationed here. There is more chance of the Chinese trying to cross Marine city, or the mouth of the river, than at Detroit.

The Last Duel.
NEW YORK, April 30.—Yesterday another duel was reported "between Millbank and a Frenchman," as the outcome of the Drayton-Borrowe scandal. Later report confirms the fact. The Frenchman was the Duc de Morny, who was wounded and may not recover. It is thought Millbank had no intention of killing the duke. On the other hand, it is said, De Morny aimed for Millbank's head, intending to kill him, and missed only by a hair's breadth.

Somebody Finched.
LONDON, April 28.—Large sale of American railroad securities in the last day or two indicated that somebody is in difficulty, but the brokers are unable to ascertain whether the parties are inside or outside of the stock exchange. It is supposed that whoever it was managed to get assistance, as the settlement closed without a failure. A decidedly better feeling now prevails, and business for the new account is brisker.

Emin Pasha Still Lives.
ZANZIBAR, April 29.—Advices from the interior of Africa say that Dr. Stuhlmann, who was with the detachment of Emin Pasha's expedition, last reported marching on Bukoba, reached that place February 15. The march from Wadelai to Bukoba was greatly hindered by famine and disease. Emin Pasha is reported ill, and is following Stuhlmann from Wadelai by easy stages.

Disgraceful Troops.
LONDON, April 29.—A dispatch from Peshawar, India, says the troops of the ameer of Afghanistan acted outrageously, respecting neither party nor womankind. The men of three villages attacked, and severely defeated the troops, who, at last reports, were holding out against annihilation behind barricades. Reinforcements are being hurried forward to their aid.

Still Harping.
OTTAWA, Ont., April 29.—In the house of commons yesterday a bill to renew the modus vivendi was read a third time and passed.

San Francisco was again shaken up with an earthquake yesterday a. m., at 4:30. No damages followed. Several points interior felt the shock.

Relief of the Distressed.
CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., April 29.—The distribution of food sent from this section to famine sufferers on the Rio Grande city section began yesterday, when rations were issued to 500 people, some of whom were actually starving. Unless further assistance is soon had, many sufferers will die. The greatest distress is reported from the country back from the Rio Grande, where there are many people who had hundreds of cattle before the drouth, but are now destitute, their stock having died.

Telegraphic Fishes.
Five indictments were returned the other day in Chicago against the Union Pacific officials for rate manipulation. A bill recently signed by the president opens up 1,056,000 acres of land in the Klamath reservation to actual settlement.

A Grim Old Miser.
PARKERTOWN, N. J., April 30.—The old miser, Christian Grimm, whose death in rags occurred here yesterday, leaves property valued at $60,000. But few people had any idea that the old man was worth any such amount, as he appeared on the streets in poor, and generally soiled clothes. Several years ago Grimm sent to Germany for his sister to come over and keep house for him, bringing with her a daughter about sixteen years of age. Grimm treated them shamefully from the start. Before long the girl was taken sick and died. She was shortly followed to her grave by her mother. Both deaths, it is believed, were hastened by Grimm's refusal to buy proper food for the sick ones. Grimm left no will, and according to the New Jersey laws, if no heir is found, the property will be divided between the state and Middleton township.
