THE ASTORS MOURNING

Mrs. Drayton Comes to New York With the Body of her Father.

THE ASTOR'S DOMESTIC AFFAIRS.

The Strictest Family Seclusion Will Still be Maintained.

EFFORTS TO PREVENT A SCENE.

Strained Relations in the Family May Prevent a Funeral Fitting the Millionaire Astor.

NEW YORK, May 3.—When Mrs. William Astor comes to this country with the body of her husband, she will be accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. J. Coleman Drayton and Mrs. Orme Wilson. Society has been wondering what Mrs. Astor would do to force such social recognition of Mrs. Drayton as is compatible with mourning, and yet enough to drive away the clouds that still linger over the Draytons' domestic affairs. It has been expected that Mrs. Astor and her daughter will remain here for a considerable part of the mourning season, but she planned to escape all uncertainties by returning immediately to Paris. Since Mrs. Astor left the city, the house on Fifth avenue and Thirty-fourth street has been closed, except that three caretakers have remained there. Preparations were in progress to increase the retinue of servants to the usual number until a cable message from Mrs. Astor put a stop to the work. Not even for the two weeks which Mrs. Astor and Mrs. Drayton expect to spend here will the number of servants be enlarged, so it is evident that the strictest family seclusion will be maintained. Mrs. Willing, of Philadelphia, mother of Mrs. John Jacob Astor, will accompany the party on its return to Paris. This exceptional privacy which is to be observed, it is said, is to be brought about by Mrs. Drayton's presence in the city. Extraordinary efforts will be made to prevent any sort of a scene when the husband and wife meet. Mr. Drayton has not called at the home of his brother-in-law, John Jacob Astor, since his return and their relations are strained. Mr. Drayton, it is expected, will attend the funeral.

The Governor's Day.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 3.—Delegates to the state convention tomorrow arriving in large numbers. Fifer's nomination for governor is practically assured. There will be a lively contest over the auditorship. Gen. Pavey, the present incumbent, is antagonized by R. H. Stassen, of Joliet, basing his claims on nationality and religion. It is generally conceded that a German Lutheran should be on the ticket, to reclaim that element of the party. George S. Willets, of Chicago, and General I. H. Rinaker, of Carlville, are favorably mentioned for congressmen-at-large. Rinaker seems to have formed a combination with Hartz, which promises to beat young Richard Yates, of Jacksonville, the choice of the young republicans. The compulsory school question is one which promises to trouble the platform-makers, as the leaders are divided on the question of repealing the compulsory education laws.

Missing From the City.

PORTLAND, May 4.—E. L. Anderson, captain of the battery of the first regiment, and transportation clerk of the Ainslie Lumber company, is missing from the city and his absence is mourned for by the many sorrowing friends of the gay captain to the extent of several hundred dollars' worth. It is the same old story of misplaced confidence. He "led the pace that kills," and to buy up his sinking fortunes, made several drafts upon the funds of his trusting friends and the treasury of the battery, which he failed to restore on his departure for other climes, and his whereabouts are unknown. The captain is accompanied by his wife. Anderson was a very popular man among his associates, who deeply regret that he has taken this unfortunate step. Had he only placed the matter before his friends there is little doubt but what they would have helped him over the difficulty.

Stony Creek Strike.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 3.—Nearly a thousand quartermen are on a strike near Stony creek, for an advance in wages and a reduction of hours.

Illness of Archbishop Kendrick.

ST. LOUIS, May 3.—A great deal of anxiety has been caused in Catholic circles by Archbishop Kendrick's inability to fill his confirmation engagements. On Sunday his grace was announced to administer the sacrament of confirmation to the children of Holy Trinity parish in North St. Louis. Full preparations had been made for the event, but word was received from the archbishop Sunday morning that he would be unable to come. There was more sorrow and anxiety expressed than disappointment, as the event seemed to indicate that the archbishop had reached that period of advanced life when he would no longer be able to fulfil the arduous duties he had imposed on himself. The archbishop seems never to have rallied completely from the attack of feebleness which seized him shortly after his jubilee celebration.

Deeming Biography.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Advises from Australia say that much interest is manifested in the biography Deeming is writing, upon which he has spent much of his time since he was imprisoned. It is believed that the man's overwhelming vanity will impel him to confess in this work all the crimes he ever committed. By appealing to the judicial committee of the privy council Deeming may succeed in putting off the execution for a time, but his haste to complete the book shows he has little, if any, hope of escaping hanging. Early this morning he resumed writing on the biography, which he says he will bequeath to Miss Rounbevel, the young lady to whom he was engaged at the time of his arrest. He expressed hope that the profits which she may derive from its publication will, in some degree, compensate her for the wrong and annoyance which he has been the means of inflicting on her.

Closely Watched.

MELBOURNE, May 3.—After Deeming was conveyed last night from the courtroom in which the sentence of death had just been passed upon him and returned to jail, his clothing was taken from him and he was compelled to don the attire of convicts. He was then placed in the condemned cell, with heavy irons locked upon his wrists to prevent him from committing suicide. There is scarcely a doubt that he would kill himself if the opportunity offered. A close watch must be kept upon him that he does not cheat the gallows. He did not appear at all cast down by his fate, and, after a short conversation with the wardens detailed to watch him, threw himself upon the pallet in the cell and slept calmly until morning.

Will not be Instructed.

STOCKTON, Cal., May 3.—The republican state convention to choose delegate to the Minneapolis convention to be held here today met this afternoon. The platform will endorse the Harrison administration, but it is believed that the delegates will not be instructed. Irwin Stamp, who will call the convention to order at 2 o'clock, stated this morning that he did not think it likely that the matter of the election of delegates to the national convention would be reached before tomorrow, unless a night session be agreed upon. He expected that considerable time will be consumed in the reports of committees and contests over credentials.

A Kick Committee.

NEW YORK, May 3.—On Wednesday the executive committee of the republican clubs of the ninth assembly district resolved to erect a transparency in front of the clubhouse with the inscription: "For President, Benjamin Harrison." The transparency was erected last night. The club held a meeting and voted that the action of the executive committee was premature, as they had no right to declare the political preference of the club, and ordered that the transparency be taken down within forty-eight hours, or it will be removed.

To Be "Much Cut Down."

VICTORIA, B. C., May 3.—The British Columbia seal claims commissioners met yesterday and received forty-one claims, aggregating $630,000. Commissioner Glendowe said they would have to be much cut down. He had expected to send interim reports, but would have to make them on his return to England.

Destitution in Newfoundland.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 3.—Captain Farragher, of the steamer Harlow, from Newfoundland, reports a prevalence of destitution north of Flowers Cove, Newfoundland, with two actual cases of starvation.

A Victim of a Grippe.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Cal., May 3.—Don Jose Pico, prominent in the early affairs of California, died here from an attack of the grip, aged 85.

ABOUT THE ISLANDS.

A Court Decision Respecting the Vote of Oahu.

ELECTION OF THE NOBLES VALID.

The Legislature to be Opened May 28th By the Queen.

THE ANNEXATION MOVEMENT.

Prominent Americans Taking Part With the Hawaiians in the Management of Affairs.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Honolulu advises by the steamer Australia, which arrived at noon today, state that a severe earthquake shock was felt on the island of Maui on April 22d. It caused no damage. Political affairs have been very quiet during the month, not the slightest ripple being observed. The decision of the supreme court that the election of the nobles on Oahu island was valid was expected to cause some dissatisfaction in the ranks of the Wilcox party, but the decision of the court was not altogether unexpected, and that party accepted the situation. Queen Liliuokalani issued a proclamation April 11th, convening the Hawaiian legislature in regular session at Honolulu, May 28th. The legislature will be opened by the queen in person. After the election of president and other officers, adjournment will be had for one week, as there will not be much business presented before the middle of June. John S. Walker, Henry P. Baldwin, and William O. Smith are mentioned as contestants for the honor of presiding over the session. Gen. A. S. Hartwell, a leading lawyer here, who has been mentioned in connection with the movement, has published a card admitting his sentiments, but denying any treasonable intent, believing in legal means only for forwarding the movement. Godfrey Brown, ex-minister of finance for Hawaii, returned here from England on April 8th, and it was rumored that he was the representative of a large amount of English capital, which is to be used in starting a bank in Honolulu.

The 8-Hour Proposition.

LONDON, May 3.—The deputation appointed by the Hyde Park meeting yesterday meandered about town and called upon the leading statesmen to learn their opinions as to the eight-hour proposition. Lord Salisbury and Mr. Balfour declined to receive the deputation; so did Mr. Gladstone, but he sent it word in writing that he believed the eight-hour system had not been sufficiently considered by those most affected by it. The deputation, subsequently discussing Gladstone's reply, showed considerable ill-feeling at it. A motion was made that it be placed in the waste paper basket. A member, however, pointed out that it was evident that Gladstone's mind was still open, and after further angry debate, the subject was dropped.

Should Hang, Probably.

LONDON, May 3.—The grand jury returned a true bill against Charles Mowbray, publisher, and David Nichol, editor, of an anarchist paper, the Common Weal, for soliciting and encouraging certain persons to murder Rt. Hon. Henry Mathews, secretary of state for the home department; Sir Henry Hawking, one of the justices of the high courts of justice; and William Melville, inspector of police. The prosecution is based upon an article recently published in the Common Weal in connection with the conviction of the Walsall anarchists.

Foreign Amusements.

LEICE, May 3.—A dynamite cartridge exploded on the threshold of Count Minette's residence last evening. The house and building adjoining, which is that of General London, of the civic guard, for whom it is thought the dynamite was intended, with their contents were partially wrecked. Flagstones were torn up, and all windows within a radius of 200 yards were damaged. A German, who fled just after the explosion, was arrested, but denied being the author of the outrage.

Want More Pay.

SAGINAW, Mich., May 3.—All bricklayers in the city are on a strike for an advance of $1 a day in wages. Building operations are at a standstill.
