WAR IN VENEZUELA.

A Battle Expected With the Revolutionists Soon.

ENGLAND REACHING AFTER POINTS

The Island of Socorro Purchased From Mexico for $100,000.

REPORT CONSIDERED DOUBTFUL.

Large Reward Offered for the Printers of Anarchistic Pamphlets in Russia.

BARCELONA, Venezuela, May 4.—President Palacio has sent an army from the capital to engage the enemy. A battle may be expected south of Caracas. The object of the president in this move seems to be to draw the revolutionists from Valencia and Calabossa, which they now surround, preventing communication between the government generals Ybarra, Arango and Casanas, who are located in these towns and the capital. If Palacio's forces should prove victorious, they will undoubtedly march to the relief of the besieged cities. Palacio seems to have arrived at the conclusion that he must act aggressively or the revolutionists will become so powerful that they will sweep all before them.

Reported Purchase of Socorro.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—A rather startling story is circulated here, that part of the island of Socorro, off the coast of Mexico and belonging to that republic, has been sold to the British government. It is stated the price paid was $100,000. Socorro is not much of an island, but there is a good bay there and it would be a first-class place for a coaling station. England is very anxious to make a coaling station in that part of the world, and this fact lends color to the story. At the Mexican consulate they say they have no news of such a sale and do not think it is a probable event. A merchant, whose advice keep him constantly informed concerning occurrences in Mexico said: "The Diaz government would not dare make such a sale. In the first place they would not offend the United States, as this would undoubtedly do. But the main argument against the probability of the sale of the island is that the Mexican people are exceedingly jealous of their land and would resent the sale of a foot of it. It would produce much the same effect as the sale of an American island would on your people." The island of Socorro is one of the group near which the brig Tahiti was lost. The island is uninhabited, and is covered by rugged mountains.

Arson as a Fine Art.

CHICAGO, May 5.—The recent trapping of certain professors of arson in Chicago is very important for more reasons than one. The disclosures prove that the detestable crime is not confined to skulking maulers, bent on revenge or plunder. The systematic defrauding of insurance companies was carried on by fires started deliberately in fashionable residence districts. According to the preliminary evidence, a band of well-dressed conspirators moved from place to place, taking out policies on cheap furniture and then setting fire to the furniture. In this way a snug sum seems to have been realized from the insurance companies. The boldness of this procedure is not the only thing connected with it that is of interest to the public. It is the possible consequences of arson that render it so infamous a crime. Bad as is the burning of business property, those who deliberately set fire to occupied dwellings at night easily surpass that grade of crime.

Believers in Dr. Teed.

CHICAGO, May 5.—The college of Life, headquarters of Dr. Cyrus Teed's Kovehan faith, received sixty converts from California yesterday, among whom is a Mrs. Knight, niece of the millionaire Charles Crocker deceased. Mrs. Knight is a widow, forty-eight years of age, and has three children 17 to 20 years of age, who, as soon as they finish their education they will join their mother and devote their lives to Dr. Teed and the promulgation of his doctrines. It is said Mrs. Knight has given all her wealth into the hands of Teed.

Sweaters and the Public.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The wage-workers have persuaded congress to undertake an investigation of sweaters in American cities that have already had good results from the publicity of its inquiries. Repressive legislation may be found necessary but no one expects that it will reach the root of the evil. The influence of loosely administered immigration laws upon the overcrowded labor market in cities is a legitimate corollary of the present investigation. The awakening of boards of health to the enormity of disease-breeding workshops is another result that is hoped for. But the setting of the legal machinery in motion will hardly help the victims of the sweating process as much as the formation of a sound public sentiment against thoughtlessly countenancing the evil. Individuals can make sweat shops unpopular and unprofitable. The purchaser of clothes can insist on knowing the conditions under which they were made. He can refuse to patronize the emporium where goods are handled that are the product of sweat-shops.

Talked Indiscreetly—But Well.

BRUSSELS, May 4.—Today, at Mons, the man who divulged the anarchist plot was arrested. The prisoner, with four other men, arranged to blow up the residences of several leading citizens. The arrested man had in his possession five powerful dynamite cartridges, and it is believed if he had not talked indiscreetly to a supposed fellow-workman, who was a detective in disguise, that Mons would have suffered a serious and disastrous explosion. Four other men will soon be arrested. The police today discovered the location of the anarchists in the outskirts of the city. A printer was arrested and a dynamite cartridge found on a window-sill of a house near Liege. The fuse was ignited, but quenched, and the explosion thwarted. The police of Liege today searched over fifty houses in which anarchists resided.

River and Harbor Bill is Safe.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—As anticipated, economist Holman endeavored in every way to prevent the consideration of the river and harbor bill but it was shown beyond all question that the majority of the members of congress believes this bill is an important one and ought to be passed. The action of the house today in deciding to consider the bill means practically that when the time comes it will go through. It was observed that those members who opposed it were the ones who received nothing in their districts for river and harbor improvements.

Will Be Properly Protected.

CASPER, Wyo., May 4.—A chain of testimony is being formed that will bring the prisoners now at Fort Russell at least under the shade of the gallows. Jones and Walker, two trappers, who witnessed the killing of Champion and Ray at the K. C. ranch, have been here several days. It has recently developed that the stockmen sent two men from Cheyenne to get them out of the way, either by fair means or foul. Today Under-Sheriff Kimball came up and took Jones and Walker to Douglas, where they will be properly protected.

Was Put Out.

LONDON, May 5.—Cunningham Graham, a socialist, who was suspended from his seat in the house of commons yesterday, amidst a confusing debate on the land question, still retains a vivid recollection of the hustling he received, and reiterates his determination today to arraign the house of commons as a swindle, and to expose it before 100,000 people in Hyde Park.

Telegraphic Flashes.

The Chinese exclusion bill, agreed to by the conference committee passed the senate by a vote of 30 to 15.

It is said that many democratic members of the house are opposed to putting lumber on the free list.

It is now admitted that President Harrison will be nominated. Two hundred and eleven delegates have been instructed to vote for him, and the New York Mail and Express has private information "absolutely accurate" that runs the number up to 302.

Another Kansas cyclone, this time ten miles south of Topeka, struck a farming country last night and demolished everything in a space of two miles. One man, James Mitchell was killed, and many were injured.

Henry Waterhouse, a forty years resident of the Hawaiian Islands who is now in Chicago, declares that the annexation of these islands to the United States, in the near future, is inevitable. The natives of whom there are only 40,000 want a republic and the vast body of American residents are anxious for annexation.

Col. Gilder to Make a Magnetic Survey of the North Pole.

A SUBJECT OF MUCH IMPORTANCE.

The Whole World of Terrestrial Physicists May be Benefitted by This Expedition.

STUBEN, N. Y., May 4.—Childlaw Evans is a well-to-do and easy-going farmer of this town, past middle age. He married, late in life, a woman much younger than himself. She liked to wear good clothes and have lively companions. Eli Jones, a young man about town, who was said to have been an admirer of Mrs. Evans before she was married, continued to pay her marked attentions. After marriage the unsuspecting farmer raised no objections, although other people were less tolerant, and wondered how farmer Evans could permit his wife to pass so much time in the company of the gay young bachelor Jones. One day last week Mrs. Evans expressed a desire to go to Utica, and get some spring dresses. The same day Mr. Jones came around and suggested to Mr. Evans that he contemplated making a business trip to Utica, and if Mr. Evans would lend his carriage, he (Jones) would drive Mrs. Evans to the city, and return that lady and the rig safely home at a seasonable time. Mr. Evans lent Jones the carriage and bountifully replenished his wife's purse for the shopping tour. The pair failed to return at the appointed hour, and a hasty search of the house disclosed the fact that they had carried off with them a big trunk containing all of Mrs. Evans' best dresses and jewelry and the family silverware. The fugitives have been traced across the country to Herkimer, and are reported to have taken a West Shore train there for Chicago. Mr. Evans will begin an action for divorce.

An Important Expedition.

NEW YORK, May 4.—W. H. Gilder, who, with Lieutenant Schwatka, won fame in bringing back from the Northern regions information respecting Franklin and his expedition, again proposes to make a journey to the North, this time at the head of a party to make a magnetic survey of the region immediately surrounding the Northern magnetic pole. The American Geographical society, the National Academy of sciences at Washington, members of the United States coast survey and a number of other scientists are interested in the proposed expedition. Although some funds have been pledged for fitting out the party and carrying on the work, nothing definite has been determined in the way of plans and the money required. The American Geographical society, with Col. Gilder, has taken the initiative in the matter, and for the purpose of discussing the exploration the society held a special meeting last night in Chickering hall. Prof. Trowbridge said as the result of the expedition the magnetic pole might not only be located, but the whole world of terrestrial physics benefited. He said in his opinion all magnetic surveys on land should be prohibited, as the true importance and benefits derived were on sea alone. He looked forward to the time when a station would be established in the neighborhood of the magnetic pole, and telegraphic communication made between it and the rest of the world.

Concerning Millbank.

NEW YORK, May 5.—It is intimated that when he gets through with the gory compact now in hand the redoubtable duelist, H. Vane Millbank, is coming back to America to rebuke by the code the impertinence of a number of natives who called him names. Mr. Millbank will doubtless be pained to learn that the entire population of the United States is still right at home, with no evident desire to get away.

Getting Down to Business.

MADRID, May 4.—The government will lay before the cortes a bill proposing that persons charged with dynamite outrages be tried by a special court, and on conviction be punished by death.
