The Telegram speaks very discouragingly of democratic prospects for the present campaign. After calling to remembrance that at the last general election the party elected the governor and a constable, the head and tail of the ticket, it winds up with the following: "We had just finished hunting up Mr. Tut-hill's record, and were ready to publish it when he resigned. The candidates jump around so that one can't name them. The ticket of today is different tomorrow. At least this is the shape of things in this campaign. There is no telling what next."

A census bulletin just issued devoted to state indebtedness shows that Oregon has by more than $200,000 the smallest indebtedness of any other state in the Union. Oregon's indebtedness in 1890 is given as $1,685, as against $300,000 for Washington and $2,522,325 for Calif. Oregon's county debt is $905,711, her municipal debt $1,386,444, and her school district debt $186,020.

The passage of the river and harbor bill is of immense import to The Dalles, and Eastern Oregon. Now if the senate does not load it down with amendments that will defeat it there, it will surely pass that body and then—The Dalles will take a spurt in material advancement such as she has never seen since George Francis Train walked across the Columbia on the backs of the salmon.

Speaking of Binger Herman, the Welcome perpetrates the following joke: He cannot compare, and is not to be mentioned in the same sentence with R. M. Veatch, his opponent, who is to Hermann as Hyperion to a Satyr. If we want a first-class man, leave Hermann at home and send Veatch there.

The wicked editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat remarks: "Canada would be a nauseating dose for the Americans, but if she makes any more trouble for us we may be compelled to swallow her."

Economist Holman has got so used to kicking against appropriations except when made for his own state of Indiana, that he is even now kicking at those recommended by democratic committees.

"Owing to peculiar circumstances over which he has no control" John P. Wager of the Portland Telegram, cannot locate in Condon, to practice his profession of law, as he had intended to do.

A woman named Levtine L. Bouvier, who claimed to be a daughter of the last Napoleon died recently in a house of ill fame in Philadelphia.

Quarrels About Coal. WASHINGTON, May 8.—As a result of the row raised by Pacific coast people over United States war ships purchasing coal, the secretary of the navy will order a board of officers to convene at Mare Island yard to test the samples of coal, and decide upon some particular product of the Pacific coast mines which will hereafter be purchased by the government for the war ships. The officers of the Baltimore and Charleston are to have a summer's cruise in Puget sound. When the Astoria centennial is over they will be ordered to Tacoma and Seattle.

How Ancient Builders Built. The builders of Babel built well. Tradition relates that it was only a confusion of tongues that checked their aspiration. There can be no doubt that the foundations of the celebrated tower that was designed by its architect to reach "heaven" were of the broadest and heaviest sort; let us say—vast walls of the most solid granite, bound and knit together by that most excellent insoluble cement that is one of the lost arts to modern constructionists. Yet if latter day engineers be not hopelessly in error with concern to the conclusions they have drawn as respects ancient masonry from the ruins of ancient structures, ancient builders counted only on the law of gravitation, which they knew in an empiric way, for the safety of the works they wrought. The projector of the Nag-on-Wat, whose walls and roof might have sheltered a St. Peter's and a St. Paul's and still have had room for a building like the Equitable in Broadway within its vast inclosures, would never dream of setting his masons to begin the laying of his walls say at about fifty feet from the ground.—Harper's Weekly.

Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that state during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w

TO THE TRADE AND CONTRACTORS.

I DESIRE IT TO BE UNDERSTOOD that I have appointed Wm. Butler & Co. exclusive agents for the sale of the "Oregon" lime, at The Dalles, and surrounding country. Other parties have, through surreptitious and unbusinesslike methods, obtained a small quantity of this lime, which may naturally cause the idea that Butler & Co. are not the exclusive agents of these goods. Such, however, is not the fact, and further stock of this article cannot be obtained from others than Wm. Butler & Co. The trade, however, will not lose sight of the fact that the great strife to obtain the Oregon lime by other dealers proves conclusively that "Oregon" is the best lime in the market. Very truly, T. F. OSBORN, Gen. Agt. Or. Marble and Lime Co.
