Poland Jealous of the Increasing Number of Jews.

THE MALIGNANT HATERS OF LODZ.

A Place Where Ignorance and Superstition is Above Par.

MERCILESS WAR UPON HEBREWS.

Poland at War With Herself and so Ignorant That she Does no Know it—Minor Mention.

New York, May 12.—Details from Vienna have been received of the attack on the Jews by a mob of strikers at Lodz, a town of Poland, seventy-five miles from Warsaw. It appears that the Polish people of Lodz have been for some time jealous of the increasing number of Jews in the woolen and linen mills. Many of these were from the interior of Russia, having been driven from their former homes by persecution, and they were willing to work for very low wages. This was one of the causes that led to the strike at Lodz. During Passover week some enemies of the Jews circulated the report that they had stolen and murdered a Christian child in the course of the Passover ceremonies. This report was not believed by the intelligent, but it created great excitement among the ignorant. When the strike began the Jews continued at work, and this increased the irritation against them. For a long time it has been customary for the more malignant of the Jew haters in Lodz and other towns to go about pulling the beards and noses of the Jews. Many of the Jews submitted meekly unless the pulling was too severe, when they retaliated, and an incident of this kind is said to have been the immediate cause of the riot at Lodz. One of the strikers, meeting a Jew with an unusually developed nose, gave it an extra twist, which provoked the Hebrew to madness, and he resented by making a desperate attack on his persecutor. The latter raised a cry that the Jews were attacking the Christians, and then the strikers to the number of thousands started to make merciless war on the Hebrews. The latter defended themselves with the energy of despair, but the strikers had the best of the conflict and a number of the Hebrews were killed, as well as several of their assailants. The Russian troops, who were called to the scene, favored the rioters, and the latter continued to carry on the attack until wearied out. Much property was destroyed. The number of lives lost is not stated. In consequence of the socialistic labor riots at Lodz, the authorities have expelled 300 foreign workmen from Lodz. Forty of the leading rioters, including a number of socialistic agitators, were sentenced to long terms in prison.

Not an Off Hand Affair.

Boston, May 12.—It is well to bear in mind, in making any forecast of the nomination at Chicago next June that the choice is not likely to be made by an off-hand count of noses. There will be many a confidential conference among the sagacious leaders from the different states before the balloting begins. Delegates will be weighed as well as counted, and the counsels of those who come from democratic states and from states that can be made democratic will weigh much more than the counsels of those who hail from states that are hopelessly republican. Preferences and prejudices will all have to yield at last to the superior consideration of success. The question is not, Whom can we nominate, but, whom can we elect.

General Gresser Worse.

St. PETERSBURG, May 11.—The illness of General Gresser, prefect of police, who is suffering from blood poisoning arising from the use of an unclean syringe in administering an injection, is increasing. Mortification in the legs is spreading, and he is delirious. There are crowds of anxious inquirers surrounding his home. Seven doctors are attending the patient.

Sugar Duties in Cuba.

HAVANA, May 11.—A committee composed of the representatives of all the economic corporations of the island wired the Spanish cortes a message petitioning that the duties on sugar and alcohol in Cuba be the same as those in force in Spain.

Fighting Looked For.

VENEZUELA, May 11.—The situation in Venezuela is not materially changed. Desertions continue from the government army. The deserters are principally peasants and laborers recently conscripted. Several skirmishes have taken place between the advance posts of the revolutionists and the government forces, but there has been no important fighting reported since the battle at Palito, in which the troops sent out from Puerto Cabello by Palacio's general were defeated. At Laguayra and Puerto Cabello all is quiet at present, and there is no longer any difficulty in discharging or loading cargoes. The normal condition of affairs is largely restored. No definite news has been received from the seat of the revolution. It is generally supposed, however, that the cause of rebellion is progressing favorably. In all likelihood the next big battle will be fought at La Victoria. The revolutionists surround that town on all sides, preventing communication between it and Caracas. Palacio's troops cannot render any aid to the besieged town. Crespo's men occupy all the commanding heights around La Victoria. The lull now existing cannot last long. Crespo continues to receive arms and ammunition. When a full supply shall have been obtained, he will assume the offensive. Until now he has been content to maintain his position around Valencia and La Victoria.

Idaho Miners' Strike.

SPOKANE, Wash., May 12.—The trouble between the miners' union and the mine owners' association in Coeur d'Alene is assuming a decidedly serious aspect. United States Marshal Pinkham, of Boise City, has arrived at Spokane on his way to the scene of trouble with warrants for the leaders and injunctions against the miners from the United States district court. The miners have received several hundred rifles and a quantity of ammunition. A gentleman who arrived from Coeur d'Alene City tonight, saw the rifles being transferred to the steamer on the lake. They were addressed to the president of the miners' union. This leaves little room for doubt that there will eventually be a conflict between the union miners and the non-union men, who are soon to be shipped there, or their guards.

Measly Talk.

NEW MEXICO, May 12.—Jay Gould, with all his millions, cannot purchase health, and that is about all he wishes to purchase, at present, notwithstanding which a press telegram says: "It transpires that Jay Gould's protracted visit was not solely for health. The annual meeting of the Pecos Valley railroad stockholders was held here, and it is currently reported that the road has passed into Gould's control. The officers refuse to talk upon the subject, but no doubt a deal of some kind is on. This road is in operation from Pecos, to Eddy, heading for Albuquerque, where it will meet the road to Durango, and thus make a through line from Galveston to Santa Fe. Possession of this road will give Gould control of all the trade in southeastern New Mexico."

Frightful Accident.

DEKALB, Mo., May 12.—Fred Sampson, aged 19 years, met his death while driving over a temporary bridge near here with a load of produce. As he reached the middle of the structure one end gave way, the team went backwards into a deep gully, the young Sampson was caught by the wagon and pinned to the earth. His mother and cousin were in a wagon which proceeded him, and the woman was also seriously injured. The cousin ran to the nearest house for assistance, but before they returned Sampson was dead, having lingered in awful agony for twenty minutes and expiring in the presence of his injured mother who was unable to render him aid.

Crops in Russia.

St. PETERSBURG, May 11.—Reports received by the government regarding the condition of winter wheat show that the crop is in a favorable condition in the Polish, Baltic and the northwestern and the southeastern provinces, central Russia, Crimea and the Caucasus. In Kherson the crop is in an unsatisfactory condition. In the northeastern provinces the grain has not yet sprouted.

THE GENERAL OPINION.

The Astoria Celebration, as a Leading Idea a Success.

OF THE FORTUNATE ONES PIONEERS

Speakers Relate Their Varied Experiences Before and After Jay Gould.

FORCING THE UNITS INTO A WHOLE

F. X. Mathieu of French Prairie the Oldest one Amongst the Pioneers. Other News.

ASTORIA, May 11.—The opening day of the Columbia river centennial celebration, on the whole passed off very pleasantly, and it is the general opinion that it was a success. The accommodations are entirely inadequate for the number of visitors and much dissatisfaction was expressed by those who were not fortunate enough to secure a place to stay. To add to their discomfort, many arrived in a cold, drizzling rain, and had to wander up and down the city in search of lodgings. The members of the Pioneer Association suffered the most, as they are old men and women, who are unable to put up with the hardships and inconveniences which younger people would not mind. Most of them spent the first night sitting on the chairs and camp stools of the steamer. To occupy their time and to make the best of their miserable situation and experience, a meeting was called at 1, which lasted two hours. The meeting was presided over by John W. Cochran, and some excellent addresses were made by the pioneers from different parts of the state. The speakers related their varied experiences and enlarged the memory of those who are no longer among the living. The programme arranged for the first day was not fully carried out on account of the confusion and disorganized state of affairs. What was done during the day has already been stated. In the evening a grand musicale was given at Ross' opera house under the direction of J. B. Wyatt. The entertainment was given by the local talent of Astoria, assisted by the Marine band of Portland. The fine banquet and the enjoyments of the day put every one in good humor, and the troubles of the first night were speedily forgotten. A number of prominent citizens of The Dalles and other cities are present, and doing their share toward making the celebration a complete success. F. X. Mathieu, of French Prairie, who came here in 1842, is said to be the oldest pioneer in attendance. The government cruisers Baltimore and Charleston continue to be the chief features of interest, and all are anxious to see the warships which have attracted so much attention. Capt. Whitehead, of the Baltimore, when asked in reference to his ship-visiting Portland, could not give any decided answer. But later advices state that official orders have been given to have the vessels make the trip.
