It has been decided that all prisoners be put to work on the county roads eight hours every day. The rule will go into effect immediately and is expected to greatly aid in reducing the number of petty crimes in the county.

Oregon will have an agricultural and Democrat. and hortfcultural exhibit at the world's fair after all. The plan is to collect the exhibits of the Portland exposition, the state fair and Eastern Oregon fairs and a host of imitators. The Watkin tower, send them to Chicago after the fairs are through with them.

The Troutdale distillery company whose property was lately destroyed by fire are making overtures to the people of Sherman county, looking to their locating at Grants. The company asks a bonus of 25,000 bushels of wheat from the farmers. They have already secured about 15 acres of land on the river. They offer to put up an $80,000 plant, consisting of a distillery and 50 barrel flouring mill. It is believed the negotiations now in progress will be suc-

last week doing the surveying. The name of the town has not yet been decided on, nor are the lots yet on the market, but they soon will be. "Is the tariff a tax," was recently asked of a prominent Canadian politician. "It is a tax," was the answer, "and I'll prove it. Suppose I have ing found, to his astonishment, that it 1,000 bushels of barley on this (the was quite impossible to effect it. Canadian) side which I desire to sell in the United States. I don't add to that price the 30 cents per bushel that I paid in at the customs house. Therefore, 'the tariff is a tax,' but unfortunately it is a tax upon

A number of republican exchanges quote with approval the card of Killen, Starr & Thomas, which is an attempted justifican of F. A. Moore, republican capsule is taken at 5:30 in the morning, candidate for supreme judge. The card followed at once with a small cup of black is held to be a complete refutation of the charges. The CHRONICLE regrets its inability to see where the refutation comes in. Moore is charged with having written a will for a woman who was unconscious, according to his own testimony, and in the very article of death. mony, and in the very article of death, on a lump of sugar, is sometimes emat the time her mark was put to it. It ployed to ward off scarlet fever where was made in favor of the woman's husband and disinherited her three daughters. Afterwards Moore made a contract with the three girls to break the will and sell the land in question for $6,000. The will was accordingly broken, the land was sold and Moore received a fee of $1,000 for the job. At the same time Moore sold two of the three shares in the land to himself and partner for half their value. These are the charges, made on no less authority than the court record and the testimony of Judge Moore himself. Mesers. Killen, Starr & Thomas have not refuted these charges, nor any of them. They have from the river the buyer has be not attempted to refute them. They can be supply any that the charges are that the simply say that the court completely justified Judge Moore, whereas Judge Moore was never on trial, except as he is now, at the bar of public opinion. There are thousands of republicans all over Oregon who want to vote or Mr. Moore and will do so if he can clear his skirts of these charges; but se more is needed than a daub of perfunc-tory whitewash, and that, too, admin-latered by the attorneys for the defend-Istered by the attorneys for the defend-ant, who like Judge Moore himself were interested in a verdict for their clients. What She Saw While in a Trance. A full revelation of her experience while in a trance has been made by Mrs. W. M. Barber, of Freedom, Pa. She claims to have been with God and expects to receive many future revelations and declares she will shortly begin to work miracles. Mrs. Barber's statement, made to a reporter, was as follows: All that I saw and learned while my body lay helpless I do not remember. It will come back to me as I grow stronger, and I shall also receive more light, and in future trances, or by some other means, I know the Lord will reveal much more to me. I do not know where I was, but I was not in heaven nor in hell. I caught a glimpse of heaven, though, and saw God. I cannot describe him except to say that he appeared all light. All the time of my seeming un-consciousness he was making things heavenly known to me. It seemed a long period of time that I held this spiritual discourse with him. Hell I did not see, except that it appeared as it were on one side of me—blackness and smoke. I saw my dead mother. She appeared as in life, even to her clothing. I could not reach her nor speak to her. The Al-mighty seemed to stand between us, but I know that before my death I shall clasp hands with her in the spirit land. It has been decided that all prisoners I saw also and recognized my little in the Douglas county, Wash., jail shall brother, who died before I was born. I did not see my father, but I expect to learn before long whether or not he is saved. I saw no other persons than my two relatives. The angels and saints were not visible, but I shall grow in faith until I see them and until I can walk upon the water.-St. Louis Globe-

Imitations of the Eiffel Tower.

The great success of the Eiffel tower, both financially and otherwise, has led to 1,200 feet high, is being designed by Sir Benjamin Baker, and it is to be erected at Wembley park, near Willesden, the foundation being nearly completed. The cost is estimated at £200,000, of which £70,000 has been subscribed privately. The Blackpool tower has been designed by Messrs. Maxwell & Tuke, and the contract has been let to Messrs. Heenan & Froude for £40,500, the total weight of the structure being 1,500 tons. It will be between 400 feet and 500 feet high. The Isle of Man tower at Douglas is now well advanced and does not improve in appearance as the work proceeds. The Brighton tower has not yet been started, and the plans are not defi-nitely decided. The Columbian tower A new town has been laid out at Hood River falls. E. F. Sharp was there all bottom of the foundation to the top of the flagstaff. It has a profile very similar to the Eiffel tower, but the construction is entirely different. The total weight of the structure alone is 7,000 tons; of the floors and staircases, 2,000

> That hypnotism is a dangerous science, even in skilled hands, was once more demonstrated at Le Bourget, near the evening's amusement by an exhibition of his skill.
