LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

If you want the news. You want THE CHRONICLE. If you are not a subscriber, please read this and hand in your name.

The Odd Fellows' grand lodge is in session at Astoria.

Mr. Kennedy is busily engaged putting the machinery in his new boat.

Read the advertisement of Stoneman & Fiege, on the third page, new today.

This office is indebted to the courtesy of Hon. Blinger Hermann for valuable documents received.

J. B. Pinkerton, contracting agent for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway is in the city.

Mr. Hardy is putting the finishing touches on a new 25 foot sign, in black and gold, for Pease & Mays.

Mr. Geo. Baxter, of Antelope is in the city. He says the prospects for big crops was never equalled in Oregon.

Boating on the river such balmy evenings as these, is the next nice thing to a drive behind a fleet footed roadster.

Today, says the advertisement of Pease & Mays, on the first page, ladies will be attracted by the display of goods.

Hon. J. C. Moreland of Portland, and Judge F. A. Moore of St. Helens, registered at the Umatilla house at noon today.

C. L. Richmond has bought out the stock in trade of C. A. Orchard, in the East End and will continue the business at the old stand.

Mr. Button of Hood River, who has some fine horses in training at The Dalles, was in the city yesterday on a tour of inspection.

Cord wood dealers are making the best of their time to remove stocks along the river away from the flood lines.

One hundred cords were landed on Mill creek today.

The Great Northern is undoubtedly preparing for an early participation in transcontinental traffic, and the appearances are that it will make a stir when the hat drops.

Companies A and C, O. N. G., were out last evening for drill, headed by the drum corps of The Dalles citizens' band.

These companies make a very creditable appearance in their bright uniforms.

Henson McCoy paid a welcome visit to this office today, and in answer to the question, how is everything in the country? replied: "The prospects for good crops are brighter everywhere than they are for the election of anybody on either ticket of the two old parties."

Mr. Kinnery returned from Portland last night. While in the city he availed himself of the opportunity to visit the cruisers Baltimore and Charleston.

He says there are numerous steamers and small craft, making a lively trade in carrying passengers at ten cents for the round trip, and the patriotic and sight-seeing public are liberal in their support of the enterprise.

OUR LOCAL FIREMEN.

Talk About the Coming Tournament--Hydrants, etc.

The fire department of The Dalles is greatly elated with its future prospects, which appear brighter than for a long time past.

Chief Engineer Judd S. Fish is in receipt of numerous replies to letters sent out to various departments of Oregon and Washington, respecting the proposed tournament, and these replies are filled with familiar greetings.

The Dalles department will become more closely allied with the state firemen's association, and with the increased facilities, provided by the council this year, feel capable of coping with any future fires that may inflict their presence upon the city.

At a recent test the hose attached to hydrants direct did much more effective work than the steamer pumping from the cisterns, and the boys feel elated with the result.

Mayor Mays assures Chief Fish, that whatever the department requires for energetic and useful activity the council will readily provide.

The tournament is yet in abeyance, as the firemen of the state generally prefer staying at home on the fourth of July; which, of all days, is the one most liable for local fires; but if it does not come off on the day we celebrate, it is pretty sure to materialize later on.

STOLE THE BEST TEAM.

A Livery Stable Man in La Grande suffers.

A few days since Mr. Haynes, a commercial traveler, was in La Grande on business, and called upon a stable keeper for his best team to make a short excursion into the valley.

The stableman told him his best team was out, and that he was somewhat anxious about it, as the team should have been in a day or two before, and he began to think the driver of it had skipped.

Mr. Haynes asked if he knew the man who had the team, and the reply was to the effect that it was Hiller, a representative of the Brunswick Blake Collander company.

"Oh," said Mr. Haynes, "if Hiller has your team you are all right." This seemed to please the stableman, and no more concern was felt about the probable loss of the team, but visions of a good fat fee flitted across his mind.

When Mr. Haynes returned, the best team was still out. Haynes took the next train for Pendleton, and the first man he met at the hotel there yesterday morning was Hiller. He said to him: "What are you keeping that La Grande team so long for?"

"I've had no La Grande team," replied Hiller, and after a short talk it was decided that the team had been taken out by a thief, personating Hiller. As Mr. Haynes had, by his conversation, assured the stableman at La Grande, he felt it his duty to inform the latter of existing circumstances and wired to him that Hiller was in Pendleton, and had had no team.

This dispatch was evidently misunderstood, as quickly following its receipt at La Grande, came another to the sheriff of Umatilla county to "arrest Hiller," "refer to Haynes." By this time probably the La Grande stable man has realized the full force of his first impressions.

Mr. Haynes reached The Dalles last evening, and was seen by a representative of THE CHRONICLE, at the Umatilla house. He says the fellow who took the team introduced himself to the stableman by presenting Mr. Hiller's card, and has probably driven over into the Harney country, disposed of the team somewhere and skipped out.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE NOTES.

Base Ball Game for Col. Sicknes--Special to THE CHRONICLE.

CONVALLIS, May 17.—Bunchgrass is now on the sick list, but will try to give you a few items anyhow.

Diphtheria has been causing considerable stir in this quiet town. John R. Bryson, the lawyer, lost two children with the dreaded disease last week. The public school has been closed, partly on account of measles, and there is some talk of closing the college.

Prof. Bristol's eldest daughter is lying very low with congestion of the lungs. Prof. B.'s family is just getting through with the measles.

Last Friday there was a matched game of base ball between the O. A. C. 4th nine and the Corvallis Giants, small school boys; which was barely won by the latter. Saturday, Jack's Hard Hitters, O. A. C. 3rd nine, played for $75.00, the best nine that Corvallis could afford.

SATURDAY'S EXCURSION.

Basket Picnic to the Cascades on Saturday next.

The steamer Regulator will give The Dalles people an opportunity to make a GRAND BASKET PICNIC to the Cascades, Saturday, May 21st, leaving her berth at the foot of Union street at 7.30 o'clock a. m., and returning at 6 p. m.

Excursionists will be given about three hours at the Cascades, which will afford ample time to see the Columbia in its angry mood, and notice for themselves the condition of things at the foot of the canal.

The fare, for the round trip, has been placed at 50 cents, in order that any one who may wish to avail themselves of the opportunity, may have a chance to do so.

Excursionists should provide themselves with well filled lunch baskets, to satisfy an appetite such as an excursion like this will stimulate. See advertisement, under the new today heading.

It is perfectly plain to an observer in Washington, if he desires to be fair, to see that every man from the Pacific coast in congress, is doing what he can for the benefit of the great waterways which are the commercial arteries of the Pacific northwest.

Rheumatism Cured in Three Days. Miss Grace Littlejohn is a little girl, aged eleven years, residing in Baltimore, Ohio. Read what she says: "I was troubled with rheumatism for two years, but could get nothing to do me any good. I was so helpless that I had to be carried like a babe when I was advised to get a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I got it from our druggists, Mr. J. A. Kumber, and in three days I was up and walking around. I have not felt any return of it since and my limbs are limber as they ever were."

A Pointer. "I am very much pleased with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says H. M. Bangs, the druggist at Chatsworth, Ill. "During the epidemic of la grippe here it took the lead and was very much better liked than other cough medicines. The grip requires precisely the same treatment as a very severe cold, for which this remedy is so efficient. It will promptly loosen a cold and relieve the lungs—soon effecting a permanent cure, while most other medicines in common use for colds only give temporary relief. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists, d&w
