Mr. Geo. G. Lindsay, of Hartman, made us a very clever call today. He reports everything fine in the vegetable kingdom, with the exception that in some parts a worm pest abounds, doing wholesale damages to fields it attacks.

Patriotic parents in Portland have already begun commemorating the visit of the cruisers. Mrs. Frank Dow presented her husband with a son and heir; they name him Charleston Baltimore Dow, then a few of the sailors of the cruisers who wished to show their appreciation of the compliment to the ships, presented young C. B. with a handsome eilver knife, fork and spoon.

Mr. F. A. Kirby presented this office with a sample box of magnificent strawberries the product of Mr. Klint's garden on Mill Creek. The berries averaged an ounce each, 16 to the pound. They were taken to Portland Saturday evening, where they were greatly admired.

There were several bets made in The Dalles on the scrap between Jackson and Slavin, some of which will not be paid without protest, as the loser claims they were "sure thing" puts. Slavin was so badly punished by the negro that he scarcely considers he was in the fight at all.

The congressional candidate of the people's party for the second Oregon district made a speech the other day up in Grant county on the currency question. If there is anything in the world about which Mr. Luce knows everything that is to be known it is the currency and the per capita circulation, "My friends" said our next congressman, "the great trouble is we hain't got enough money in circulation. We want Mrs. James Wilson, who has been on more money to do business with. In 1864 the per capicia circulation was $26. In 1892 the per capicia circulation is reduced to seven dollars. Where is the money gone to my friends? I'll tell you where its gone to. You hain't got it."

> THE CHRONICLE was in error Saturday in stating that the cow which attempted to swim the Columbia sank below Rockland landing. She swam into the eddy and landed on this side, and after much difficulty was safely secured. Her owner, Peter Aggins, who was knocked senseless by her, is still in a critical condition, but is doing as well as can be expected for a serious case like his. The cow struck him, with all her force, in the stomach, and he fell over backwards, injuring the brain by a fall on the sidewalk. He has recovered consciousness sufficient to remember coming on to the ferry boat with the cow, but remembers nothing of events happening after leaving the ferry.

Geo. W. Childs of Philadelphia, Col. Shepard, of the N. Y. Mail and Express, You have seen the advertisement of and ten car loads of other eastern editors have discovered Oregon the past week, and will return to their various sanctums with a far better understanding of the webfool nation than they ever had before. "Seeing is believing," said Wm. F. Day as he left the car in Salem and returned a few moments later with a bouquet of clover and red-top grass which he presented to the Kentucky delegation with the greetings of the Webfoot state. He told them that Oregon could boast of her beautiful women, green grass and fast horses, the same as Kentucky. The greeting was received with thanks, but. it is said, a subdued murmur of dissatisfaction pervaded the Kentucky car when it dawned upon some of the members of the sterner sex that nothing had been said about whisky.

Decoration Day.

The blustering winds of yesterday and the blinding dust, did not deter a large number of citizens from accompanying the march of the James Nesmith Post, G. A. R., to the cemetery and joining with them in the celebration of decoration day. At two o'clock the two companies of militia, under command of Lieut. Colonel Thompson, headed by the Regulator formed in line and marched out of the city as an escort to the veterans. The fine soldierly bearing and movements of the militia boys were observed marked improvement over last year. S. Myers interspersed with music by the band and a select choir of vocalists. Then followed the formal decoration of the cenotaph by the comrades which, by special invi- finity for other substances has heretotation was participated in by companies A and C, third regiment O. N. G. At the close of the services the bugle discovered that carbolized oil is one of sounded taps, the line was reformed and the best preservatives of the colors of the procession marched back to the city fish and other animal specimens.

Republican Rully.

A moderately well filled house listened to a very able address at the Court house last Saturday evening, by Hon. C. W. Fulton of Astoria. Mr. Fulton reviewed the history of the two great parties in their relation to the tariff question and pointed out, by an interesting series of facts and figures, that the United States low is said to be as told as a frozen had always prospered under a high prooyster to the tender passion, but if he tective tariff. He contended that the United States had a right to take advantage of her situation with relation to out, and his imperial dad may book other countries as well as to her own the photographer. natural resources. In March 1892. the same class of wool that brought 19 cents in Philadelphia sold at 101/2 cents in Liverpool. He explained the reciprocity clause of the McKinley law and showed how it had increased our exports. Our trade with Cuba has nearly doubled. In January 1891, Cuba bought from us 2,700 sacks of flour and 38,000 from Spain. Under reciprocity in January 1892, we shipped them 64,000 sacks and Spain none. Competition has reduced the price of our home products. There is not a protected article in existence that is not cheaper than it was when we used to buy it abroad. Thirtyeight million dollars are already invested in the tin industry and if protection is continued, in a short time tin will be cheaper than it ever was. The foreigner has no interest in the stars and stripes. Why should he be admitted into the best market in the world without pay ing for the privilege? If the protective policy is worth anything, it is worth supporting and it was his hearer's duty, to put men on guard devoted to it, as an economic policy. -

Not the Worst Girl in the World. Professor Chapman, of Bowdoin college, told the following story at an alumni dinner: "I feel like the little daughter of a friend of mine in Portland. She had just mastered the art of expressing herself in intelligent sentences. One day she had done something for which her mamma had to reprove her. The lady gave her daughter a sound lecture and then told her to go up stairs, alone, in her room, and ask God to forgive her for her error.

"In a few minutes she was surprised to see the baby come down stairs again, appear in the sitting room and stand back with a great deal of seriousness. "'Well, did you go up and do what l told you? asked the fond mother. "'Yes,' replied the guilty one, 'and God said, "Great Scott! Elsie Murray, I've known a great many wo than you."'"—Boston Herald.

A Four-Year-Old Philosopher. Among the many anecdotes relating to the late Rev. Thomas Hill, D. D., is one told by himself. Dr. Hill and his wife awoke quite early one morning and regarded with interest a crib which contained a precocious child of less than four years. Presently the child turned her face up to the ceiling and soliloquized: "Oh, how much easier it is for a person to think than to act. Now, with a dog it is right the other way."-Boston Traveller.

Not a Five Cent Loaf. While treasurer of the Maine Central

Mr. Linscott always made his own bank deposits, taking the immense amounts in bills wrapped in a newspaper under his arm as he rode up town on a street "Why does that old gentleman carry up that loaf of bread every day?" on one occasion inquired the conductor. The value of the loaf of bread was probably not far from $50,000.—Lewiston Journal.

A Gentle Malden. Friend—So Miss Beauti refused you? De Sappe-Yes, but she did it very gently. "Expressed sorrow, eh?" "It amounted to that. While I was proposing she gently slipped out of the room and sent her mother in to talk to me about the weather."-Good News.
