A Phase of City Life. Crossus in a luxurious chair gazed languidly through a plate glass window upon a snow whitened thoroughfare, filled with urban humanity hurrying to the thousand avenues through which the fleeting hours escape. The panorama rolled noiselessly and monotonously by, until there was projected upon the indifferent gaze of the watcher a bent and decrepit form, which shuffled over the flagstones in strange contrast with the brisk and certain step of the strolling class that frequented that avenue. The figure was that of a woman clad in rags and tatters, and when her halting steps reached the lamppost in front of the rich man's palace, she hesitated, looked feebly about, and finally seated herself upon the edge of the flagstone sidewalk. The tattered figure made a grotesque outline against the snow incrusted street, and the watcher in his crimson chair looked upon it with languid interest.

From a mass of rags she produced a frail and soiled camp stool, and after setting this upon the pavement undid a red handkerchief and from its folds took two sticks of candy and a ball of pop-corn. The tawdry and slender stock was tenderly placed upon the stool and the patient wait for customers began. They did not come. Instead there appeared a liveried servant from the big ise who ordered the woman to move on, but tempered the roughness of the command with the gift of a piece of silver from his own pocket. The sight had grated upon the nerves of the master of the house, reminding him that poverty was not yet so old and obsolete as to have lost its sting.—New York

Swiss Diamonds.

According to M. Daubree, the well known French mineralogist, the diamond issues from the infragranitic regions of the earth's crust where periodot is prevalent, for it arrives at the surface along with that mineral and certain serpentine masses which result from the transformation of the latter. The imitation of this gem has reached great perfection. A material named strass, after its German discoverer, which is made from rock crystal, boracic acid and caustic potash purified by alcohol, is now used for the artificial gems. They are mostly made in Switzerland.—Good News.

"I am very much pleased with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says H. M. Bangs, the druggist at Chatsworth, Ill. "During the epidemic of la grippe here it took the lead and was very much betit took the lead and was very much better liked than other cough medicines." The grip requires precisely the same treatment as a very severe cold, for which this remedy is so efficient. It will promptly loosen a cold and relieve the lungs, soon effecting a permanent cure, while most other medicines in common use for colds only give temporary relief. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w

History of Worcestershire Sauce.

Many years ago Mrs. Grey, author of "The Gambler's Wife," and other novels well known in their day, was on a visit at Ombersley Court, when Lady Sands chanced to remark that she wished she could get some very good curry powder, which elicited from Mrs. Grey that she had in her desk an excellent recipe which her uncle, Sir Charles, chief justice of India, had brought thence and given her. Lady Sands said that there were some clever chemists in Worcester who, perhaps, might be able to make up the powder; at all events, when they drove in after luncheon they would see. One firm looked at the recipe, doubted if they could procure all the ingredients, but said they would do their best, and in due time forwarded a packet of the powder. Subsequently the happy thought struck some one in the business that the powder might, in solution, make a good sauce. The experiment was made, and by degrees the thing took amazingly. All the world to its remotest ends now knows of Worcestershire sauce as an article of commerce, and, notwithstanding that, in common with most good things, it is terribly pirated, an enormous trade is done in it. The profits amount to thousands of pounds a year. -London World.

Walk Straight.

My dear sir or madam, if you cannot walk briskly along the pave, I don't see that you are to be blamed for it. But there is one thing you can do, namely, walk in a straight line. Give others a chance to pass you. Don't worry the life out of them by vibrating like a pendulum from side to side. Keep in a straight line. Don't wabble.-Exchange.

Marshall, Brunswick House, S. F.; Geo. A. Werner, 531 California St., S. F.; Mrs. C. Melvin, 136 Kearny St., S. F., and many others who have found relief from constipation and sick headaches. G.W. Vincent of 6 Terrence Court, S. F. writes: "I am 60 year of age and have been troubled with constipation for 25 years. I was recently induced to try Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. I recognized in it at once an herb that the Mexicans used to give us in the early 50's for bowel troubles. (I came to California in 1839,) and I knew it would help me and it has. For the first time in years I can sle well and my system is regular and in splendid condition. The old Mexican herbs in this remedy are a certain cure in constipation and bowel

A Necessity.

The consumption of tea largely increases every year in England, Russia, and the principal Euro-pean tea-drinking countries. But it does not grow in But it America. And not alone that, but thou-sands of Europeans who leave Europe ardent lovers of to upon arriving in the United States gradually discontinue its use, and finally, cease it altogether.

This state of things is due to the fact that the Americans think so much of business and so little of their palates that they permit China and Japan to ship them their chespest and most worthless teas. Between the wealthy classes of China and Japan and the exacting and cultivated tea-drinkers of Europe, the finer teas find a rendy market.
The balance of the crop comes to America.
Is there any wonder, then, that our taste for tea does not appreciate?

In view of these facts, is there not an immediate determined the second of the sec mediate demand for the importation of a brand of tea that is guaranteed to be uncolored, unmanipulated, and of absolute purity? We think there is, and present Beech's Tea. Its purity is guaranteed in every respect. It has, therefore, more in-herent strength than the chesp teas you have been drinking, fully one third less being required for an infusion. This you will discover the first time you make it. Likewise, the flavor is delightful, being the natural fis-vor of an unadulterated article. It is a revela-tion to tea-drinkers.
