Whoever wrote the following got the truth down fine in a nutshell: "If you have a little farm or business, or steady employment, and are out of debt, do not fret and work yourself and wife into the grave for the sake of making money. You have but one life to live, and that is very brief at best. Take a little comfort and pleasure day by day as you go along, and try to do a little good to others. A morbid, insatiate desire to possess the earth, and to grab everything in sight, is at the foundation of more misery than any other one thing. Wealth alone will never keep your memory green after you

Washington, June 9 .- Rep. John De-Witt Warner of New York, perhaps the staunchest advocate for the nomination of above Mr. Cleveland, is not at all cast down because of the anti-Cleveland sentiment in the state, and argues from past experience that it is a good sign. He said: 'There is one point that cannot be too often repeated or too emphatically insisted upon, and that is that the state is never so safely democratic as when the party has been divided before the election. The history of past elections ever since 1872 shows that the years when everybody has been confident, we have lost the state, and when we have been apparently hopelessly divided and many people have despaired of our success we re carried the state.
