LOCAL BREVITIES.

If you want the news,
You want THE CHRONICLE.
If you are not a subscriber, please read this and hand in your name.
Robert Kelly of Kingsley, came into town this morning.
Read A. M. Williams & Co.'s advertisement on the first page.
Judge Bradshaw, and his wife, intend visiting friends in Yamhill county next week.
J. M. Filloon & Co. today received the fourth car load, this season, of Haines' headers.
Mrs. James Hurst of Ten Mile, and her two grand-daughters, paid the CHRONICLE office a pleasant visit today.

The Dalles firemen are making some remarkably fine displays, and doing active work preparatory to the tournament on the 4th of July.

J. A. Wagner of Pine Hollow, Eight mile, will leave next week, with the intention of spending the summer on Cherry creek, Crook county.

Capt. Scott's new steamer Flyer, built at a cost of $110,000 in Portland last year, was almost wholly destroyed by fire in Seattle on Wednesday.

This is the season for annual picnics, and returns from nearly every county show a greatly increased acreage over past seasons for many years.

Russell & Co. will have one of their fine traction engines in The Dalles fourth of July procession. It will be under full head of steam, and run without horses.

A man may cry: "Church, Church," at every word with no more piety than other people: A daw's not reckoned a religious bird. Because he keeps a-cawing from a steeple.

Charley Richmond's new delivery wagon has arrived, and will be on the street in a few days, running in connection with his family grocery establishment in the East End.

Mr. Malcolm MacInnis announces in another column that he has withdrawn from the contest for city recorder. The fight will now lie between Messrs. Menefee and Knaggs.

C. C. English of Company Hollow, lost this forenoon a check drawn in his favor for $50. The finder will be rewarded by leaving it at French & Co.'s bank.

The president is said to have filed notice that he will veto the river and harbor bill should it exceed the sum appropriated by the house. If this is true then good by to the dalles boat railway.

C. W. Phelps & Co.'s new building on Second street, will be under cover today, and within a week the firm will be comfortably at home to patrons. A heavy stock of goods is on the way to The Dalles for their trade.

A dispatch from Chicago, under date of June 17, says: "Many presidential backs are tossing on the political sea tonight, but through the mists and shadows the hull of Cleveland's hopes looms up ominously above all."

In the house yesterday Mr. Hermann made an earnest and able fight for the appropriation for the dalles boat railway. He bitterly denounced the attempt of some unseen influence to prejudice congressional action upon this subject and referred to a libelous pamphlet which had been placed upon the members' desks which attacked the boat railway scheme. A further conference was ordered.

The Episcopal convention, which is now in session at Astoria, has been very handsomely welcomed by the Rev. W. S. Short, of Grace church, and Rev. T. A. Hyland of the new Skipanon church. The members form an intelligent dignified body of men, and they represent a prosperous, growing church in Oregon.

Rev. E. D. Sutcliffe of The Dalles, is the guest of Mrs. A. W. Ferguson, formerly of this city.

Mr. E. Olds of Grass Valley, gave the CHRONICLE a pleasant call today.

All reports from the Dufur and Tygh Ridge countries indicate that crops are in fairly good condition, with an encouraging prospect of a good outcome.

A rare opportunity for the ladies is now afforded by Mrs. Phillips, who is offering millinery at one third less, as she has decided to retire from the business. See advertisement.

Thos Conlon had his case decided by a Washington county jury in the circuit court at Hillsboro, yesterday. The verdict was for $2,250 against the Oregon Short line and Utah Northern.

L. L. McCartney left at this office today a sample lot of gooseberries, the largest we have ever seen grown in this country. They were raised, without irrigation in the Thompson addition.

Some vigorous thieving is being done in the Dufur, Nansene and Deschutes precincts. Quite a number of horses are missing and several stables have been raided of nights and valuable saddles and other things taken.

The Barlow road over the Cascade mountains is now open. Several wagons have arrived over this road. The snow has not entirely disappeared, but it is going fast. In a few days the road will be in a very good condition.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill, and the day was duly celebrated in Boston. The banks were all closed and business generally suspended. Even the regular daily papers did not publish their regular editions.

The steamer Regulator leaves at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning on another one of those popular excursions to the Cascades. Fare only fifty cents for the round trip. Be in time to secure a front seat, as the weather will be fine and much pleasure may be anticipated.

Astoria comes to the defense of Capt. Whitehead who has been relieved of his command of the Baltimore because of petty jealousy at San Diego, Portland, and on Puget sound. It is perhaps true that some of this muss has been instigated by a desire of some subordinate for promotion.

Readers of Mr. Spurgeon's sermons will be glad to know that the publishers have at least eight hundred discourses that have not yet been published, so that the weekly issue can be continued for sixteen years longer. Each sermon is now accompanied by an exposition given by the preacher.

Portland has finally awakened to a sense of the situation and decided to celebrate. Some of the old committee are harnessed for the job of getting up a show, more for the purpose of keeping the people at home, perhaps, than anything else, and to spend $1,800 on hand, left over from last year.

Jacob Kamm and the N. P. R. Co. will make things lively for the "system," on the lower Columbia river soon. He has an understanding with Hon. H. B. Parker of the steamer Astorian, and they, together with the business which the N. P. R. Co., afford, intend to carry passengers at $2.00 for the round trip, Astoria-Portland, and freight at $1.00 per ton.

Wm. Butler & Co. have moved their business office over on Second street, and put on an extension which more than doubles the room. Butler says he can now keep a set of books without having to put the ink stand on the outer side of the window sill. The north side of their sign is now the east side, and will be whitewashed.

In consequence of the bridge burned at Wythe, cars were unable to run between Dalles city and Portland. Passengers, mail and express, were transferred by boat, and this gave rise to a rumor, which spread like the itch, that the Regulator company had purchased the Union Pacific railroad. It is probably unnecessary for us to state, for the benefit of intelligent readers, that there is no foundation in fact for the rumor.

That sack of political influence which reposes on the safe at the Umatilla house was sent to F. W. L. Skibbe for distribution, and briefly the facts are about this, no matter what anybody may say to the contrary: It is said there was $1,500 in the sack. Skibbe entrusted it to a man who was to take it with him to Antelope, but somebody got on to the racket, and for fear of prosecution he shipped without it, and now the sack and its contents is considered contraband.

EDUCATIONAL.

Annual Commencement Exercises at St. Mary's Academy--A Fine Programme.

The annual commencement exercises of St. Mary's Academy were held in the hall of the academy yesterday, commencing at 10 o'clock a. m. The hall was tastefully and appropriately decorated as only the deft fingers of these good sisters could do it. A large attendance of friends of the academy and the pupils was present and heartily enjoyed the interesting programme. The proceedings commenced with the overture, "Happy hours," finely rendered by four young ladies. This was followed by an address by Miss M. O'Leary which gave evidence of much careful culture and marked natural talent. The essay of Miss D. Mosier, "Monuments of Fame," was finely delivered and manifested an extended acquaintance with our best literature. Miss M. O'Leary's essay on "Self-sacrifice the Harbinger of Victory," was a splendid composition and was also well received. The little folks did their part extremely well and, especially so, in their German class song and their "Fairy Drill." The "Christian symbols" were very interesting and instructive. The graduating honors were conferred on Misses D. Mosier and M. O'Leary by Father Brongest, accompanied by a few well chosen words of council and encouragement. Then followed the presentation of a gold medal to Miss Annie White of Kingsley, for the best plain sewing after which came a very beautiful and touching valedictory by Miss D. Mosier. The "Adieu" by a vocal quartet brought to a fitting close an entertainment that could only be appreciated by those who had the pleasure and privilege of being present.

A Card.
To the electors of Dalles City: Owing to other business matters, which I am compelled to attend to, I cannot pursue the fight for city Recorder to a finish. To my friends who are yet still willing to stay with me, I extend my most grateful thanks, but beg leave to withdraw.
MALCOLM MACINNIS.

A Bicycle-Rider Missing.
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 17.—Much uneasiness is felt here for the safety of Otto Parager, the young reporter who started to ride from here to the City of Mexico on a bicycle. He was last heard from on May 19th, when he left the city of Durango for the port of Mazatlan, on the Pacific. His route lay across a wild chain of the Sierra Madre mountains.

A Great State.
Almost every one on the Pacific coast is familiar with the name of the able and genial editor of the Salt Lake Tribune, Judge C. C. Goodwin. He, speaking of the Columbia River Centennial, expresses this sentiment: "Oregon is a great state, and the Willamette valley is the most productive, we believe, for its size in all the west. Senator Baker was once asked what the chief attractions of Oregon were, and his answer was: 'Oregon is composed of the Willamette valley and two United States senators.' That about covered the case at that time, but while the Willamette valley and the senators still remain, the state itself on both sides of the mountains is advancing to a position among the very foremost in the nation. It has other valleys wonderfully rich; it has splendid mines; as a pasture land it is marvelous; and altogether it is an Imperial state. The state is really what all the people up there were celebrating yesterday more than the river, and they had a right to. In lumber, in fruit, in grain, in fish, in mines, in ranges and the product of the range, Oregon is a tremendous state. There are but few that can compare with her at all."

Lost.
A check for $50, payable to bearer, drawn by Henrietta English, in favor of C. C. English. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at French & Co's bank.
C. C. ENGLISH.
