That the extension of the British franchise is effecting a quiet revolution among the masses of the English people is evidenced by the following from the London Christian, a paper of extensive circulation and reference and of conservative tendency: It is no exaggeration to say that we are living in the midst of one of the greatest revolutions that the English people have ever passed through. Its magnitude is apt to be overlooked because its progress is as subtle as it is all-pervasive. With no manifestation of popular excitement, with no building of barricades, or sacking of palaces, or sanguinary conflicts in the streets, like those that ushered in the French revolution, a movement is on foot among us which is involving as certain a transference of power, and as decisive results. We refer, of course to the rapid progress of the Labor Party. What the coming dissolution and election may bring it is impossible to say. But evidently even now there are striking symptoms of the rapid development of the power of working-men. The Prime Minister and the Leader of the House give a patient hearing to their representatives, and evidently shrink from meeting their demands with an unqualified negative. The members of the London City Council, sensible that their position is largely effected by the votes of the working classes, are conspicuously attentive to their interests, and quick to provide for them, as in the recent arrangement for working-men's trains. A peer of the realm, who is generally credited with the sagacity that can read the signs of the times, says that working-men will no longer be content with the crumbs which fall from the table, but will demand to sit at the board; and he admits that they are justified in their request.

The Portland World (dem.) denies that money is scarce in Portland. It says: "There is plenty of it to loan. There is eastern money, San Francisco money and lots of Portland money in the hands of bankers and money brokers. 'Money to loan' is the most prominent advertisement in the daily press, and it is being offered at from 6 to 10 per cent, according to the security and length of time. All that is necessary to get all the money one wants, and at low interest, is to own an eight-story building on one of the principal business streets of the city and give a first mortgage on it. Money is not scarce, it is the inability of the needy to furnish gilt-edge collaterals." This probably sizes up the situation everywhere.

It having been charged that Senator Squire, of Washington, was not aware of the existence of the Columbia river, a friendly paper disproves the slanderous statement by quoting a brief reference to the Columbia in a recent argument by Squire in favor of the lake Washington canal. It is therefore evident, it says, that the senator knows more about the Columbia than was known by Jonathan Carver, and quite as much as was known by William Cullen Bryant when he wrote "Thanatopsis."

According to advices from Turkestan, the cholera is making fearful ravages in Persia and Afghanistan. The streets of Turbatyshan are strewn with unburied corpses, and the inhabitants, as many as can, are fleeing from the town, while the Mollahs, Koran in hand, parade the streets at the head of thousands of the populace, beseeching Allah for deliverance from the scourge.

That was a wise and sensible decision of the Pope in regard to what is called the "Cahensy agitation in favor of foreign-born bishops of different nationalities foreign-born Catholics in America. His holiness says: "European immigrants in the United States must coalesce as one people and form one nation."

The Monsoon commenced blowing throughout Bengal and a large part of Madras yesterday, less heavily than usual, but sufficiently to remove anxiety as to crops and cattle. Ten thousand men have left the relief works, and prices are falling. Rain is still wanted in Bonjoub and Rapphajuputana.

A Pointer. "I am very much pleased with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says H. M. Bangs, the druggist at Chatsworth, Ill. "During the epidemic of la grippe here it took the lead and was very much better liked than other cough medicines." The grip requires precisely the same treatment as a very severe cold, for which this remedy is so efficient. It will promptly loosen a cold and relieve the lungs, soon effecting a permanent cure, while most other medicines in common use for colds only give temporary relief. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w

Rheumatism Cured in Three Days. Miss Grace Littlejohn is a little girl, aged eleven years, residing in Baltimore, Ohio. Read what she says: "I was troubled with rheumatism for two years, but could get nothing to do me any good. I was so helpless that I had to be carried like a babe when I was advised to get a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I got it from our druggists, Mr. J. A. Kumber, and in three days I was up and walking around. I have not felt any return of it since and my limbs are limber as they ever were." 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w

TO THE PUBLIC.—It having come to our knowledge that a party in the Dalles in selling lime has made the assertion that he charges more for other brands than the "Oregon" because they are better, thereby implying that the "Oregon" is an inferior article, we desire to state that the "Oregon" is the strongest lime on the market; that it will work more plastic and leave the work when set stronger and firmer than any other lime at present manufactured in either Oregon or Washington. Wm. Butler & Co., Agents at The Dalles for the "Oregon" lime, are instructed to furnish, free of charge, any and all Oregon lime, which does not fully come up to the stipulations above set forth. The object of this notice is solely to defend our goods against the false imputations and statements of any person whatsoever. The Or. Marble and Lime Company, by T. F. OSBORN, General Agt. 5-24dwl
