The Columbia commenced rising again at this point this morning.

Mrs. Dr. Ingalls has gone on a professional visit to Hood River.

Miss Etta Crabtree of Portland came up on the noon passenger today.

John Irvine, one of the pioneer settlers of Wasco county is here on a visit.

Mrs. Jud. S. Fish has returned from a very enjoyable visit with friends in Portland.

Two hobos occupied the calaboose last night. One was fined and the other was fired.

Senator Hilton reached his Dalles home from the Minneapolis convention, in a fine condition.

Capt. John Lewis returned this morning from a trip to his old home near Dayville, Grant county.

The steamer Regulator leaves for the Cascades at 7 a. m. tomorrow. See schedule in another column.

Major Ingalls is recovering very slowly from his late injuries. He was able to be on the street today for the first time in ten days.

Drs. Doane, Sheckelford and Logan examined four candidates for United States pensions this forenoon, and one this afternoon.

Waters of the Columbia have been on a stand still from 9 a. m. today, the gain being less than one-tenth of an inch from 7 a. m. up to 3:30 p. m.

Wood which was banked below the Cosmopolitan to be kept out of the impending high water, is now just along the moistened edges of a flood.

In consequence of so many farmers being in the city, the dining room at the Umatilla house today looked like convention days at the meal hours.

Mr. Wolf's wheat crop on Second street, is a sample of what may be grown in The Dalles. Every grain of it will be worth a dollar and a half a bushel for seed.

The high water covers so much sand along the beach above The Dalles now that the wind gets a fairer sweep at it, and the labor of keeping the sand off the railway track is thereby increased.

The London Telegraph, commenting on the transfer to the American registry of the steamers City of Paris and City of New York, expresses the hope for the future that the admiralty will not permit the Atlantic greyhounds to step out of their hands.

The first barge of English coal ever laid down in Ottawa, arrived in the canal basin from Newcastle yesterday, by way of Quebec, and it will be put on the market at lower rates than all-rail American coal. Thus does evidence accumulate showing the national importance of the Columbia river as a transportation route.

The river is higher than it has been at any time this season and is still rising.

The CHRONICLE regrets to learn that Hon. W. McD. Lewis is still confined to his room at the Umatilla house. He has been very low but is a little better today.

Judge Farrington, of Columbia precinct, informs us that the Fairfield Sunday school propose to give a strawberry festival next Wednesday, to which all the good people of the surrounding country are invited.

The supreme court has sustained the decision of the lower court in the case of Frederick Zorn, who was sentenced to death at Pendleton for the murder of his wife. Zorn will be re-sentenced tomorrow or Friday.

Dispatches tell us that at a meeting of Emperor William and King Humbert yesterday "they embraced three times." This is according to the royal court customs perhaps, but the model American looks upon it as a waste of the raw material.

Messrs. S. R. Husbands of Mosier, Frank Pike of Moro, John Medler of Wasco, A. S. McDonald of Monkland and William Holder, of Grass Valley, directors of the Eastern Oregon Co-operative Association are in the city attending to business connected with their store.

Reports from the western part of the Palouse country indicate that the fall wheat has been badly damaged from the effects of a few hot days succeeding cold rains. The damage seems to be a kind of scald. It is probable that this will reduce the yield 50 per cent. In the vicinity of Endicott and Pampa.

A little before five o'clock yesterday evening an alarm of fire was sounded by an engine at the company's shops. The fire department turned out in force but found their services were not needed. The fire started from some cause in a small closet building belong to the company at the west end of the Mill creek trestle but was soon extinguished by the company's hose.

The schooner Hayseed, Capt. Gisler, has sailed from San Francisco in search of the millions of Spanish doubloons which are supposed to have been buried "before our time," on Cocos island. Capt. Gisler has been on the island three times, and five of his men have been with him, so they know what they will have to endure in the search for gold. One of his party is a man who has been herding sheep in the John Day country.

James Darnelle, the new county commissioner elect of this county qualified for office today. Mr. Darnelle won his position in a square and fair fight and has the honor of having polled the largest vote where he was best known. The new county court will enter upon its labors next month with the full confidence and friendship of all parties, but alas for the incumbents! the harder they strive to do right during the next four years the more enemies they are sure to make.

From Ed Harriman, whose ranch is on upper Eight mile, we learn that crops are still in good condition in his neighborhood, and with favorable weather from this time forward, will undoubtedly turn out better than any they have had for some years. Favorable reports continue to reach us from the Tygh Ridge country where grain still keeps in good condition under the influence of the present cool weather and south west winds.

The run of salmon is very light. It is said the catch is always light when the river is rising.

There will be a meeting of the King's daughters tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. S. L. Myers.

W. H. Farlow and P. W. Knowles of Wamic took out today two McCormick self-binders which they purchased from John Filloon & Co.

Constable Heater of Couer d'Alene has been driven crazy by the treatment he received at the hands of the miners' union during the late strike.

A grand celebration will be held at Wamic on the Fourth, in the grove a short distance above Prativille. G. J. Hudson will deliver the oration and F. S. Gordon will read the declaration of independence.

The faultless Hardman piano seems to have become the ruling favorite among the best critics of the world. Mr. Shannah, the agent in Portland, states that the demand for the king of pianos is rapidly increasing, and that applications for its use in concerts has necessitated the ordering of two concert grands to meet the aesthetic taste of the music-loving people of the consolidated city.

Capt. James H. Fieks suit against D. V. B. Henrie and others bubbled up again in Judge Shattuck's court yesterday, in Portland. This is a suit for the recovery of $50,000 and was started about fifteen years ago. It grew out of a real estate deal involving several hundred acres in Wasco county, and the lawyers ever since have been contesting it. The case appeared twice in the supreme court in Washington; once in the United States court in Oregon, and this makes the third time it has graced the bar of Judge Shattuck's legal temple. The principals had come to a decision, and the case was dismissed, each party to pay his own costs.

The sobriety, not to say dullness and lack of enthusiasm of the Chicago convention stands out in marked contrast with that held at Minneapolis. It was next to impossible this forenoon to get delegates to speak. Flower was called on but declined, saying the time had not come for him to speak. Burke Cochrane refused to address the convention but said he expected to have business with it later on. Gov. Taylor was called for but also refused, saying he was not well enough to speak. Waterson was called for but he was not in the hall. Hensill, of Pennsylvania, was asked to speak, but he, too, declined. Mills was asked to speak, but he too pleaded sickness and left the wigwam for his hotel.

Profitable to Publishers.

Astoria Examiner. Arresting editors for criminal libel, when the libel has a political smell, is one of the greatest sources of profit that a newspaper can enjoy. A suit draws a few dollars out of the publisher's pocket, and may cause temporary inconvenience for a short time; but the cost is nothing compared with receipts. There are many ways to make a newspaper popular and profitable, but the best way is to get up a fight with a lot of corrupt politicians, who are affected with the swell from long continuance in power. It is a sure thing game for a newspaper of nerve and courage.

Ladies' Purse Lost.

A ladies purse, containing a five dollar gold piece, about four dollars in silver, and a gold dollar, engraved "Sept. 25th, 1887." If found please leave at the store of Mays and Crowe. 6-246

CHICAGO BULLETINS.

The Gift of the W. U. Tel. Co. to the American People.

CHICAGO, June 22, 11:30 a. m. - Weather clear and pleasant. The convention was called to order amid great cheering for Boies, whose banner passed down the hall.

The anti-Cleveland men threaten to make a fight on the question of abrogating the unit rule in order to prevent a ballot being reached. To this the Cleveland men assert that they will hold the session until a ballot is reached if it takes until midnight.

Pending report of credentials committee Senator Mills was called upon for a speech. Begged off—sickness. Senator Palmer is called. In his speech he predicted that Illinois would go democratic next fall, both on the presidential and state ticket. He advocates and appeals for harmony in the party as absolutely necessary to success.

The report of the committee on credentials was unanimously adopted. It favors admitting both delegates and contestants to the floor while contest is going on, in Ala., Penn., Ohio, Utah, New York and Arizona.

When the report of the committee on permanent organization was called for, Palmer said: "We have good men to choose from." Loud cries of "Hill" were met with hissing. After Palmer's remarks, Flower was called for.

Rising to a chair, in his delegation, Mr. Flower declined, said the time had not arrived yet for him to speak, and refused to take the platform.

Wilson, of West Virginia, was chosen permanent chairman of the convention, and the report of the committee on permanent organization was adopted.

At ten minutes past 12 o'clock another heavy rain storm set in, and business had to be suspended during the storm. Bands are playing until it clears up.

During the storm today, as yesterday, delegates sit under umbrellas to keep off the rain. The wigwam is uncomfortable and unsafe, but the crowd comes.

A dispatch was read from Minneapolis tendering the committee the hall there if the convention wished to come to Minneapolis.

The following reply was made: It will require more wind than that prevailing to blow the national democratic convention from Chicago to Minneapolis.

12:26. The hall is darkened by clouds, but the committee of five gropes its way to the platform, escorting Chairman Wilson, who takes the seat amidst cheering.

At 12:54 reports of committees were being acted upon. The New York people say they have given up the idea of contesting the unit rule, and will, therefore, not prevent the minority report from favoring it.

The adoption of the report of the committee on rules, makes the unit rule hold in this convention.

Waiting for the report of the committee on platform, the time was filled in with music, calls for speeches, principally declined, etc. When a motion to take a recess until 5 o'clock was adopted.

It is said the silver advocates are making a strenuous fight in the committee on platform, for a silver plank, and if necessary will carry the question into the convention with the likelihood of a long debate, which would prevent any ballot being reached tonight.

Further bulletins received this evening after we go to press, will be posted at the Umatilla house.

FAITH IN UNCLE SAM.

BY WALLA WEST.
Written for THE CHRONICLE.

So you seem to be dissatisfied?
'Bout the way the gov'ment's run?
Well, there's lots of them kind nowadays.
So you're not the only one.
No, I don't know no remedy,
But, I tell ye, cool and calm,
I've got a pow'ful heap o' faith
In this 'yer 'Uncle Sam.

He's a great big brainy feller,
An' a mighty worker too;
An' the job o' weedin' 'is yit to find,
'Ats too big for him to do.
Fust he struck fer Independence,
Kicked up a terrible row,
But he gained his point, so they tell me.
Then made his proudest bow.

Since then, he's tackled yar'us jobs,
Frum courtin', down to war;
Makin' 'em all men equal,
Puttin' moneys all at par.
Republican or Democrat?
No matter what I am,
I jes' hold on't the plow handles
An' vote fer 'Uncle Sam.

My opinion o' them fellows?
That's what you want to know?
Well, I've took some observations
Of this 'yer 'world below.
An' 'consolidatin' all I know,
'Bout traffin', and sich;
'Pears like the farmer never wuz
Calc'lated to git rich.

I mean like them there millionaires
They talk about so much:
That wheat, an' corn, an' pork, an' beef,
Grows golden at their touch.
Some even them the'r bines p'ints
An' grumble night an' day,
Some's in fer shouderin' up the'r guns
An' take the'r gold away.

Some wants to choke the railroads out,
An' raise a strong dislike,
Then, the boys all get dissatisfied
An' go off on a strike.
But they find the job's too big fer them—
They can't spring the awful jam;
So they get the'r places back ag'in
An' wait fer 'Uncle Sam.

He's settled lots o' quarrels,
An' settled 'em jes' right too;
An' 'fixin' matters fer the very best;
'Ain't no easy thing to do.
So go on 'bout your bines boys,
Jes' like 'yer 'pap an' mam;
An' thank the Lord ye've got a seat
'Tongside o' 'Uncle Sam.

Fossil Notes.

The Gilman-French land and live stock company have built perhaps ten miles of barbed wire fencing this year, enclosing a large part of several townships of land. Their properties, with a few exceptions, include all the finest ranches of southern Gilliam county.

A. W. Knowles, of Wasco county, veterinary surgeon, passed through this place week before last. His old-time good humor and republican principles have not deserted him.

P. C. Martin, a former resident of Wasco county, and Chris Davis, started to the Willamette valley last week, with a bunch of horses.
