LOCAL BRIEFINGS.

If you want the news, You want THE CHRONICLE. If you are not a subscriber, please read this and hand in your name.

The awning makers harvest is upon us.

At 8:30 sharp this evening, choir practice at the Court house.

Yesterday the thermometer rated 99 1/2 in this city, northern exposure.

Rev. Mr. Sulcliffe left for the east today. He will be absent until October.

T. B. Merry has been discharged from the asylum and returned to San Francisco.

Mr. H. C. Nielson met with a painful accident, by dropping a tailors iron goose on his foot.

Mrs. Wallace Mahn has given up her Dalles boarding house and returned to her home on Mill Creek.

Rev. O. D. Taylor and several friends from various portions of the east, left for the Atlantic states today.

Inspector C. P. Heald of Hood River, is after all orchardists who are selling fruit known to have the scale.

The Columbia river is again on a stand today, within the tenth of an inch of thirty-three feet above low water mark.

The Woodmen of this city and vicinity expect a rare treat tomorrow evening when they assemble to receive their officers.

Hon. J. D. Lee, of East Portland, came up on the Saturday night train, and is packing up his household effects for removal to the metropolis.

Farmers and wool growers must go to work to rid the Inland Empire of hoarhound, before Oregon wool is denounced on account of its burly flocks.

A special meeting of Jackson Engine Co. No. 1, tonight at the City hall. Business of importance, 7:30 p. m. By special request. A. KEXLER, Secretary.

The dwelling house of Mrs. Dow now for rent has been newly repaired, inside and out, is one of the most desirable tenements in the city. Should be seen to be appreciated.

The fire alarm bell tolled this forenoon. In sad relays the news spread over the city that Wolf Schrader was dead. Mr. Schrader was an old time citizen, and an active member of the department.

Mr. Lord returned from his ranch over in Klickitat today. His foreman Wm. Dunn, was buried yesterday. The funeral consisted of thirty carriages. The widow and her two little children, so suddenly left fatherless, have the tender sympathies of the people.

The Dalles tenders a cordial invitation to the people of Wasco and adjoining counties to join with us in celebrating the 4th of July. Let all our neighbors come and take part in the amusement that will be provided for their entertainment. There will be lots of fun. Every one will be in good humor.

A conviction for selling cherries infested with scale, ought to stir orchardists to a sense of the situation. Trees should be looked after.

Snow is reported as still quite deep in the blue mountains, being in some places forty feet deep. It is packed so hard that horses can travel over it.

A wireless smoker set the mail bags on fire in the Prineville stage Saturday night. One pouch had a hole burned in it, and some of the mail was scorched.

A portion of a fleece of wool left at this office, is so thickly filled with hoarhound burrs that it hangs together like a felt. Grubbing is now staring wool growers in the face of a dreaded reality.

Master Brad, Bonney, son of A. A. Bonney, was picked up insensible near the east end circus track, where he had fallen from a horse, this forenoon. It is feared that his case may prove to be a serious one.

Tunnel riding, with a car load of jolly young people returning from Amos Quito camp at Bonneville yesterday, was rather animating sport, in which everybody indulged except the snoozer who wasn't permitted to snooze.

The champion Royal Chinook of the season, sixty-seven pounds, was caught Saturday evening just as the wheel was hauled up off the mouth of Three mile. It was properly embalmed in ice and shipped east by C. L. Phillips.

Col. Cris. Taylor died at his home in Dayton on the 23d. He was one of the early pioneers, and a mason of the highest honors in the United States. The funeral was largely attended by the fraternity from Portland yesterday.

A brilliant display of the aurora borealis was witnessed last night between twelve and 3 o'clock, by all who were fortunate enough to see it. The banner was crimson hued, and stretched about 64° above the aurora, which appeared to stretch into space of about 40°.

The owners of the old wooden shells that collapsed in Portland last week, have been charged with all the blame for loss of lives by the fall of the structures. So long as excessive rents can be got for such miserable shacks owners care little as to their condition and refuse to incur any expense in making them safe.

Seven car loads of people from Portland, and six car loads from Heppner, The Dalles, etc., met at Bonneville park yesterday and gave the mosquitoes a feast of blue blood from 10:10 a. m. till 5:10 p. m. The pesky mosquitoes, however, didn't prevent many of the excursionists from enjoying themselves. It was the occasion of the Conductor's annual basket picnic.

The Astorian and other papers, with the most laudable intentions, seem to think something should be done promptly, to uphold Senator Dolph in his action on the dalles boat railway. Opinion at The Dalles is divided on this question. A good many people think that Senator Dolph's adherence for the dalles project may peril the cascades locks. We want an open river.

Mrs. Lawler, a widow woman, formerly living in The Dalles, was arrested during the week for the heinous crime of allowing a motherly old hen and a brood of young chicks to run at large in the streets of Albina. A Mrs. Dyer was the prosecuting witness and the arrest seems to have been the culmination of a neighborhood row. Judge Carey promptly discharged Mrs. Lawler, when he heard the evidence and should have read somebody a lecture regarding the making of frivolous arrests.

Spasmodic efforts are being made to establish a democratic daily paper in Boise City.

The recent rain was worth hundreds of thousands of dollars to Umatilla county, Oregon.

If you wish to keep the doctors from your house and your children at home, raise a good garden.

A fish-wheel near Texas ferry in Columbia county caught 400 pounds of salmon in one night last week.

A company has been granted permission to experiment with electric omnibuses in London this summer. That would be just the ticket for The Dalles. The Cosmopolitan can furnish the omnibuses.

The latest fad in the line of collecting is that of colored posters; the bills with which the enterprising poster adorns boards and fences and dead walls about town. In France and in several of the German cities this mania has taken a deep hold and is spreading rapidly.

The Eastern Oregon Grange store in this city, will be closed perhaps today. It might be made a good paying business, as it has been in the past, but losses by the fire and other discouraging circumstances has rather forced the directors to a conclusion to close up. Mr. Chandler will still remain in The Dalles.

The Vancouver Independent discovered Farmer Jim Vernon passing through that city on the way to his ranch and says: "The delicate task of teaching feeble minded calf-lets to drink out of an old lard bucket, has left traces of care and disappointment on his face, and splashes of milk and cream on his boots and trousers, but in other respects he is the same old 'James.'"

Rapidly as the work at the Astoria end of the Astorian and Portland railroad line has progressed since the mills have been able to supply lumber in quantities to keep pace with the operations of the builders, the progress made by the Corey Bros., the chief contractors, and those who have secured sub-contracts under them has been more rapid. About 4,000 men are now employed on the work.

Harley Andrews, the Pacific Expressman at The Dalles, has some good news today from a mining camp in Montana. His friends in the camp have struck it! and the prospect here is that Harley will catch that old time contagion, the mining fever, that has in times past carried off so many people—good, bad and indifferent—from this city. That there is just as good gold in the ground as was ever mined, nobody has a doubt, and the farther the camp the coarser the gold is, perhaps, but we've seen something that tells that the secret of success is like the bird in hand being of more value than the one in the bushes.

Last Saturday noon as Mr. Frank Woodcock was unloading a truck load of logs at the Wamic saw mills, the team at the yard which is used to do the unloading, and is trained to work at the clink of a chain, heard the chain fall and started to pull the load off the truck, before the hind chock was loosened. This threw the log toward Mr. Woodcock, and he was struck by it with fearful force. It was thought at first that he was killed. As soon as possible a messenger was sent to The Dalles, and Dr. Logan was summoned to attend the case. He says Mr. Woodcock is terribly bruised up, and suffers considerable pain, but that no bones are broken, and he will pull through with careful treatment.

Instantaneous photography has revealed the fact that the former method of representing lightning as a fiery zigzag was entirely false, a sort of optical delusion.

Those who wish Dr. Tuckers professional services, will please call at their earliest convenience as he expects to permanently close his business, in this city, on or before July 10th.

A lover of piscatorial sports was set off by the Regulator yesterday, as she was going to the Cascades, and to his horror found out, after the steamer had left him, that the high water had caused his favorite landing to become an island. The only way out of the dilemma was for him to attempt to reach shore by a line of willows. He then placed his lunch in his fish basket, put his watch as high up as possible, secured a foot-log which he managed to push ahead to keep himself free from being stuck in the soft muddy bottom, and thus he reached the shore safely. He was not far from a fine trout stream, and the amusement of the next five hours made him forget the troubles he had experienced to reach the seclusion of the speckled beauties in his basket. Telling the incident to one of his friends he remarked: "But I can tell you, when I was crossing that sticky flat up to my arm-pits in cold Columbia river water, I felt as if Mrs. Butler might be a widow if I got stuck."

To The Singers.

Try and be on hand at 8:30 o'clock sharp this evening, at the 4th of July choir practice at the court house. Let us have a good rehearsal. Be on time.

The Klickitat Tragedy.

John Green has been placed under arrest for the murder of Wm. Dunn, in Klickitat county Saturday. The tragedy occurred about nine miles north of the ranch of Mr. Lord, at a station up on the mountain, about 7 a. m. Dunn had left home in the morning, and at the station as he drove up in his cart, Green came out and insultingly accosted Dunn. The latter threw off his coat, and slapped Green's face, but inflicted no injury. Almost immediately Dunn was shot. The ball from Green's pistol taking such fatal effect that Dunn stepped but a few paces, exclaimed "I am shot," fell and died. Trouble existed between the men before, on account of some cattle, and while it is almost a sure thing that Green intended to slay his victim this may not be established as a fact in court. The verdict of the coroner's jury was to the effect that Dunn came to his death from a pistol shot wound, inflicted by John Green with criminal intent.
