Self Conceit versus Self Confidence. While conceit may produce a nega-tively agreeable effect it cannot be called a positive charm. We do not think a person more charming because of his conceit, and we do not encourage it in those who are dear to us. A parent rees rather than stimulates it in his child, and a person who should plainly and laboriously cultivate it would not be in peril of canonization. It is doubtful if conceit ever accompanies real greatness. A great man, indeed, may have the self confidence that springs. from the consciousness of power: but consciousness of power is very different from conceit of it. The one is a fact: the other a fancy.—George William Curtis in Harper's.

A Youngster's Wish

The African explorer Paul B. du D. P. THOMPSON. Chailln was explaining to a very small boy the various inconveniences of life is the equatorial forest. "It's dreadful, Dickie," said be, "to think there are benighted tribes who do not know what soap is, and who do not wash from one year's end to the other." Dickie was pensive for a moment; then, "I wish," said he. "I was a brighted tribe."—Once a Year

An Empress' Mantle.

One of the handsomest silver wedding presents received by the empress-of Rusis an ermine mantle, which cost over $50,000. It was presented to the czarina by the nobility of the province of Kherson, but was made up in Paris, for the making up of furs has been for years and remains still a pre-eminently Parieian art. -Exchange

When a man slips on a banan peel or anything else his face lights up with astonishment rarely shown on any other occasion. He invariably stops turns and mentally marks the location of the article, as if he might come that way again some day and it would be just as well to be posted; then looks at his foot quite as curiously, probably dropping a casual observation or two concerning a possible future state of existence. None of these things tend to modify the fact that he slipped and that he is no more likely to slip again on the same thing than he is to be struck by lightning.-New York Herald.

Just Like a Mar

Child That Acted Like a Wolf. A child caught in a wolf's den would only eat raw flesh, on which he put his hands as a dog puts its fore feet. He drank by suction and habitually ran on all fours, from which his knees and knuckles were quite hard. Though reclaimed by his mother he was quite untamable, and at last lived in the village streets like a pariah dog, going every night into the jungle.—London Specta-

How to Tell Gallants Apart. According to an epilogue writer of the Seventeenth century, it was then easy to distinguish the country from the town gallant in a theater, the latter being known by putting his periwig in order with a comb, while his provincial brother was content to attain the same object with four tingers and a thumb.-Chambers' Journal

So much harder is the enamel of teeth than anything else of organic origin in nature that they outlast all things else apparently, even the rocks, and are preerved for the enlightenment of science -Washington Star.

derangements of the stomach and bowels. As Joy's Negetable Sarsaparilla is the only bowel gulating preparation of Sarsaparilla, it is seen why it is the only appropriate Sarsaparilla in siel-headaches. It is not only appropriate; it is an amounte cure. After a course of it an occasional dose at intervals will forever after prevent

Juo. M. Cox, of 735 Turk Street, San Francisco-writes: "I have been troubled with attacks of aick-headache for the last three years from one to three times a week. Some time ago I bought two bottles of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and have only had one attack since and that was on the second day niter I began using it."

of tea largely increases every year in England, Eussia, and the principal European tea-drinking countries. But it does not grow in America. And not alone that, but thouwho leave Europe ardent lovers of tea, upon arriving in the United States gradually discontinue its use, and finally cease it This state of things is due to the fact that the Americans think so much of business and so little of their palates that they permit China and Japan to ship them their cheapest and most worthless tess. Between the wealthy classes of China and Japan and the exacting and cultivated tea-drinkers of Europe, the finer tess find a ready market.

The balance of the crop comes to America.
Is there any wonder, then, that our taste for tea does not appreciate?

In view of these facts, is there not an immediate demand for the importation of a brand of tea that is guaranteed to be uncolored, unmanipulated, and of absolute purity? We think there is, and present Beech's Tea. Its purify is guaranteed in every respect. It has, therefore, more in-herent strength than the cheap teas you have been drinking, fully one third less being required for an infusion. This you will discover the first time you make it. Likewise, the flavor is delightful, being the natural fla-vor of an unadulterated article. It is a revelation to tea-drinkers. Sold only in packages

DALLES.

Wasco County,

Oregon,

The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.

ITS TERRITORY. - It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles. The Largest Wool Market. The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here.

The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS. The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future. The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH. It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.

Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these corner stones she stands.

Daily and Weekly Editions.

THE CHRONICLE was established for the express purpose of faithfully representing The Dalles and the surrounding country, and the satisfying effect of its mission is everywhere apparent. It now leads all other publications in Wasco, Sherman, Gilliam, a large part of Crook, Morrow and Grant counties, as well as Klickitat and other regions north of The Dalles, hence it is the best medium for advertisers in the Inland Empire.

The DAILY CHRONICLE is published every evening in the week (Sundays excepted) at $6.00 per annum. The WEEKLY CHRONICLE on Fridays of each week at $1.50 per annum.
