When Hot Springs Were First Discovered America had been discovered and the colonies were feeling their way toward the Pacific ocean. In the vanguard was the famous expedition of Lewis and Clarke, which went overland to the mouth of the River Columbia. John Colter was a hunter in this expedition, and by some chance he went across the mountains on the old trail of the Nez Perces Indians which leads across the divide from the Missouri waters to those of the Columbia.

When he came back from the Nex Perces trail he told most wonderful tales of what he had seen at the head of the Missouri. There were cataracts of scalding water which shot straight up into the air; there were blue pends hot enough to boil fish; there were springs that came up snorting and steaming, and which would turn trees into stone; the woods were full of holes from which issued areams of sulphur; there were canyon of untold depth with walls of ashes full of holes which let out steam like a locootive, and there were springs which looked peaceful enough, but which at times would burst like a bomb.

Every one laughed at Colter and his yarns, and this place was familiarly known as "Colter's Hell." But for once John Colter told the truth, and the truth could not easily be exaggerated. But no one believed him. When others who afterward followed him over the Nez Perces trail told the same stories, people said they had been up to "Col-ter's Hell" and had learned to lie.—David Starr Jordan in Popular Science

Salt Lake is by no means a saturated solution of salt, yet it is five or six times as rich in salts as the ocean, and nearly as strong as the Dead sea. In summer it contains between 20 and 22 per cent. of salt, the saturation point not being

Not infrequently they are shallow and entirely disappear during the dryness and heats of summer, leaving to mark their sites only a stretch of some acres—or it may be miles-of clay or mud, entirely covered with salt.-Goldthwaite's Geographical Magazine.

Weight of Paper Money.

In the treasury here one day the ques-tion came up as to the weight of a dollar bill. Scales of perfect accuracy were brought into requisition, and the sur-prising discovery was made that twentyseven one dollar notes weighed exactly as much as a twenty dollar gold piece. The latter just balances 540 grains. However, the bills weighed were perfectly crisp and new. Trial made with soiled notes, such as come in every day for redemption, showed that twenty-seven of them weighed considerably paper do its way through the paper do. world con... v accumulates dirt, so that after a year ose it is perceptibly heavier.-Washin, Letter.

A Necessity.

The consumption of tea largely increases every year in England, Russia, and the principal Eurocountries. But it es not grow in America. alone that, but thousands of Europeans who leave Europe ardent lovers of tes, upon arriving in the United States gradually discontinue its use, and finally cease it This state of things is due to the fact that the Americans think so much of business and so little of their palates that they permit China and Japan to ship them their cheapest and most worthless teas. Between the wealthy classes of China and Japan and the exacting and cultivated tea-drinkers of Europe, the finer teas find a ready market.

The balance of the crop comes to America.
Is there any wonder, then, that our taste for tea does not appreciate?

In view of these facts, is there not an immediate demand for the importation of a brand of tea that is brand of tea that is guaranteed to be uncolored, unmanipulated, and of absolute purity? We think there is, and present Beech's Tea. Its purity is guaranteed in svery respect. It has, therefore, more inherent strength than the cheap tear you have been drinking, fully one third less being required for an infusion. This you will discover the first time you make it. Likewise, the flavor is delightful, being the natural flavorof an unadulterated article. It is a revelaon to tea-drinkers. Sold only in packages bearing this mark:

Wasco County, Oregon, The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.

ITS TERRITORY.

It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market.

The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here.

The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS. The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.

The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH.

It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon. Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these
