SATURDAY - JULY 2, 1892

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Mr. Geo. Filloon is in the city.
Mrs. Harriet Wilson left homeward last evening.
To those who have never heard a callope it will be a rare treat.
Mr. J. W. Morrow of Heppner, was registered at the Umatilla house yesterday.

Harvesting will begin in some parts of the Inland Empire right after the Fourth.
The Prinz & Nitschke building will be covered with a tin roofing by Maier & Benton.

Mr. Frank Woodcock, who was so badly hurt last week at Wanac, is recovering.
The grand stand is ready so is the liberty car. Both are a credit to the committee.

It will be the most gorgeous thing in the procession. Expense did not figure in manufacturing the callope.

Mrs. S. G. Rigdon is in the city. He is quite active in preparations for Russell & Co., display in The Dalles 4th of July parade.

An experienced wool growers says: "Sell when the buyers leave there is the end of the market." Perhaps this may be a good pointer.

The Fourth of July programme ought to suit the most fastidious. It is the product of hours of toil on the part of the committee which we hope may be appreciated.

Messrs. Maier & Benton were awarded the contract yesterday for plumbing the McNerny residence; also the residence of Hon. J. B. Condon. They make a speciality of sanitary plumbing.

We understand that friends of Green the murderer of Wm. Dunn, have retained Hon. Wm. Lair Hill to defend him. Mr. Hill is accounted one of the best criminal lawyers on the coast.

Messrs. Nicholas and Roger Sinnott were among the passengers to arrive this morning. They spent one day at Denver, and would have laid off a day at Salt Lake but were anxious to be at home for the 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Rand, and Mrs. Graham of Hood River, were among the "watchers" who spent the night at the Umatilla house last night, watching for the yesterday afternoon train to convey them to their homes.

The many leading cities of the United States having representatives and visitors in The Dalles, as attested by the Umatilla house register, shows that as a commercial city in Oregon this place is entitled to rank close to the head of the procession.

To set everything at rest concerning the Columbia river improvements, we may as well say that there is absolutely nothing in the way of a speedy completion of the cascade locks: Unless it be the veto of the president; which is not at all likely.

The regatta in the river, and the skull races, July 4th, will form an attraction to the sports of the day.

Offers of lemonade to delinquents at the sheriff's office had a timely effect. The offer holds good for Tuesday.

Photographs of Cleve and Steve will appear in THE CHRONICLE Tuesday. We propose to give all candidates a "show."
The Cosmopolitan opened yesterday with our young friend, Claude Cooper, the trusted agent of Messrs. Sinnott & Fish, as managers.

A cross section of a pile, which come from Seattle harbor, is perfectly honey-combed with teredo. It is worth while to take a look at this, and to remember, while looking, that at the seaport for this Inland Empire Astoria, teredo is unknown.

Mr. H. C. Neilson says the man must be an idiot who presupposes that twenty-five pounds of iron is equal only to twenty-five pounds of feathers. He says a bale of wool, as it comes from the ranches, wouldn't have left his foot in the shape that iron goose of his did, a few days ago.

Accident in a Cut.

The up freight yesterday met with a serious accident in the cut between Grants and Blalock, but nobody was hurt or killed. The engine had passed a point when a sand slide occurred, just at the moment to catch the balance of the train, and as a result nine cars were piled up helter skelter. The work of clearing the wreck was extra laborous on account of the sand which in some cases completely covered the cars. But with all these disadvantages the road was opened so that the mail and passenger trains passed within saving time. The west bound passenger due here at 4:01 p. m. yesterday came in at 5 a. m. today, followed by the 3 a. m. passenger.

United We Stand.

Fare for the round trip only fifty cents.

Choir To-Night.

Please do not forget the choir practice in the Court house, this (Saturday) evening at 8:30 o'clock sharp. Last practice.

Tammany came in like a lion and went out like a door-mat.

The affection which Tammany suddenly evinced for the west would set the lachrymal glands of a crocodile to secreting like a freshet.

A Tall Volunteer.

Sentinel. A volunteer crop of rye in Asotin county, now being cut for hay, measures seven and a half feet in height. It will average two tons of hay to the acre. Samples of it will be sent to the Worlds fair to show that Washington soil will do unaided by plow or harrow.

Two men of Destiny now face each other for the second time.

Them as Has, Gets.

Press-Times. To the famous "Reveries of a Bachelor" may now be added a chapter by David B. Hill on current events. Cleveland has a wife, a child and a nomination. Which again illustrates the old biblical doctrine that them as has gets.

Regarding the coming Behring sea arbitration tribunal it is said there are only five men from whom Carnot can choose French arbitrators, for only five men fulfill requirements, viz., jurists of distinguished reputation, acquainted with the English tongue. Of these five, one only exactly fits the requirements.

Bryans Mistake.

Spokane Review. Bryant made a mistake when he wrote "Thanatopsis." The famous lines ought to read, "Where roll lake Union and Swinomish slough and know no sound save their own dashing."

The esteemed Chicago Herald still opines that Cleveland's nomination imperils the success of the democratic party and exposes it to the loss of the electoral vote of New York.
