THURSDAY - - - JULY 7, 1892

LOCAL BREVITIES.

County court is still grinding away on local matters, without formality.

Three wagons loaded with immigrants from Washington, crossed the ferry yesterday.

Mr. Jim Harkleroad of Des Moines, Iowa, is spending a few days in the city, and is the guest of Mr. G. W. Johnston.

Friends of Rev. and Mrs. Eli Sutcliffe, will be pained to hear of the death of their little one at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., yesterday, of brain fever.

The engagement is announced of Mr.
Edwin Gould to Miss Sarah Cantine Shrady, daughter of Dr. and Mrs.
George F. Shrady, of New York.

Col. Sinnott, of the Umattilla house, has a strong backing for the position of stock inspector, but it is understood he will not stand in the way of Hon. W.
H. H. Dufur.

The Baker City Democrat seems to think the beef market is all right. In whom does it put its trust? With the butchers, whose sales on the block never decrease in price.

It is claimed that Mr. Paul Mohr, and his associates, will have the dalles portage railway completed in time to connect with the cascade locks. The plan involves trans-shipment from the upper Columbia to ocean craft at The Dalles.

After all said and done, a great many people would not be surprised to learn that the murderer Wilson has at no time been out of Portland since he was turned over to Sheriff Kelley by Sheriff Sampson. Pun can stand it if the people can.

There are said to have been some three or four thousand dollars bet in La Grande on the senatorial contest, and that the money has not yet been given up, there being a report there that the election would be contested. The losers may as well settle.

Our sympathies are extended to Mr. and Mrs. A. C. and Lulu Stevens on the death of their infant son Le land Hermann. The funeral will take place tomorrow from the residence on the bluff, at 4 o'clock p. m. Friends of the family are invited to attend.

It is of no use to go to Europe for rest.
Mr. Lowenberg, a citizen of Oregon, who has just returned says there is more fatigue and discomfort from a five hours ride in Italy than is experienced in making the trip from Portland to New York.
The trans-Atlantic steamers, are floating in seas, and every comfort can be enjoyed on them.

The Portland wheat market is reported extremely quiet. Little is being offered from either section, and the export demand shows no improvement.
The situation abroad has undergone no material change. The Liverpool market, while firmly held, is inactive; option trading continues quiet, but prices and generally better. Cargoes remain more or less neglected. Eastern markets show some improvement.

THE SECOND CELEBRATION.

Cascade Locks Jollification at The Dalles Last Night.

A regulation old-time Fourth of July celebration was indulged in by The Dalles people last night, on receipt of the news from Washington that the river and harbor bill had passed congress, and that the cascade locks contract system was retained. Both bands, the Regulator and Dalles City, were out and discoursed fine music, while Messrs. E.
Jacobsen & Co., and M. T. Nolan opened their Fourth of July preserves, and bomb, bomb, followed bomb, bomb, with an occasional sparkling balloon, frequent explosions of rockets and the burning of flash chemical fires which set the people ablaze with enthusiasm.
Between the music of the bands, the firing of rockets, bombs, etc., Judge Bradshaw, Capt. John W. Lewis, and others, got in a few opportune speeches from the balcony in front of Snipes & Kinnerslys store, and all taken together, as a friend wrote to Hon. Binger Hermann: "There was not a soul in The Dalles last night but was glad that Mitchell, Dolph and Hermann represent Oregon in the nations' capital."

All Bills Paid.

The Fourth of July committee met last night and audited all the bills. As it usually happens, in such cases, the committee has generally to go down in their individual pockets and make up a deficiency. In this case the generosity of The Dalles public met all expenses, and the committee, as well as the public, are largely paid for the investment. At no time in the history of the celebrations of July 4th has a committee met with more hearty response. This is in part perhaps owing to the fact that the dear people did not know who the committee was to "squander" this money. Now that the affair is all over it may not be amiss to say that Mr.
Lochhead, Jud. S. Fish, H. J. Maier, Sam Campbell, M. T. Nolan, E. Jacobsen and D. C. Ireland were the fellows who did the grand. If the public is satisfied "we the committee" should be likewise pleased, but as to any future celebration committees, pardon us, but it is the unanimous expression of this committee to be excused.

The Prices of Beef.

Beef buyers in Oregon have formed a combination against beef sellers. This is what THE CHRONICLE has for some time characterized as the "butchers trust." But they are liable to come to grief soon, as the Chicago market is advancing rapidly. On the day after the 4th, 10,000 head sold in Chicago at an advance of from 15 to 40 cents per head.
Choice to extra steers selling at from $5.70@6.20 per cwt; fair to good $4.50@ 4.90; Texans $2.25@2.30. This steady upward tendency in the Chicago market, has stimulated our Eastern Oregon stockmen to take the advantage of the high prices, and large shipments, will be made in the near future. Our heavy dealers in beef cattle will meet the Portland "beef trust," and go them one better.

A Trout Lake camping party consisting of Messrs. Frank Cram, Easter-brooks, et. al., left The Dalles today for a three weeks outing.

The box of elegant Royal Ann cherries from the Columbia River Fruit Co. lands that Mr. L. Hubbard sent to Buffalo, N. Y., arrived there in prime condition and attracted marked attention and many complimentary notices were made on account of their beauty, size, flavor.

And Still They Come.

It is a pleasure to hear that a party of gentlemen from the East contemplate coming on an excursion to our city about the first of August for the purpose of examining fruit, mineral and other lands in this vicinity with a view of investing therein. We are informed that they are men of strong financial standing and that their impressions, favorable or otherwise, will have great weight on their return home. It is reasonable to suppose that their taking this trip is the result of some of the praise and enthusiasm shown by their friends who visited The Dalles a month or so ago and went away well pleased with what they had seen. We would like to see our citizens extend to these gentlemen a hearty welcome on their arrival here and at the same time endeavor to bring their attention to some of the great resources of our country. There is a strong rivalry among the people of other cities to outdo each other in conveying to visitors a favorable impression of everything that will serve to enrich or enhance the value of their homes, and which, aside from general hospitality, cannot help but result in much good. Would it not be well for our own people to practice the same prudence and then take note of the results as time works them out?

The wool market in San Francisco is reported quiet. Desirable wools are firmly held. Defective stock receives scarcely any notice. San Joaquin, six months' fleece, fair to best, 10@15c; foothill, 15@17c; northern, choice, 18@21c; Nevada, 13@17c; Eastern Oregon, 10@17c; valley, Oregon, 18@20c.
The fleet of grain vessels coming to Oregon for fall loading is rapidly increasing.

Because it is Fashionable.

Spokane Review. The vacation season is now at hand; when busy man goes off into the mountains or down by the seashore, and finds that he has nothing to do and all day to do it in. All of which some people enjoy, some people think they enjoy, and many people realize that they don't enjoy, but stick to it because it is the fashion.

"I Should Say So."

Telegram. We in Portland are not afflicted with dust as much as people are who live in San Francisco, Walla Walla or many cities farther east, yet when there is a breeze there is frequently enough dust to be disagreeable. But the worst of it is that it is too often not only disagreeable but deadly.

The Thirst For Blood.

Tacoma News: The worst feature in capital punishment is not effect on the victim but its effect on the community, in which it develops a thirst for blood that is brutal. It makes the people lick their chops like a thirsty tiger.

If Chairman William J. Campbell knows as much about a political canvass as he does about the legal status of a canvassed man he is all right, as Senator Vest is prepared to testify.

The man who started the report that John Sherman was to be nominated for president by the people's party at Omaha is still a little ahead of the Colorado vigilance committee, to which the subject was referred with power to act.

Stanley failed of an election to parliament. His constituency knew it beforehand, but they say he was only an American adventurer at best.

FOR AN OPEN RIVER.

The Future Position of the Press Anticipated.

If political and other undue influences were entirely eliminated, the Seattle ditch would not have an advocate east of the Cascade mountains. It has no general merit. The people of this section would never have considered it, had it not been thrust upon their attention.
Their direct interest in the river and harbor bill is confined to the work of opening the Columbia river, and they have set their hopes upon the completion of that work. For these reasons they are protesting against the Seattle ditch. So far two papers in Eastern Washington have proved amenable to political influence and have lifted their voices in advocacy of the canal. In times gone by the editor of one of these has been quick to challenge the friendship of other journals to the work of opening the river. It is not surprising, perhaps, that he is now pleading for the ditch while the papers and the people whose motives he questioned are standing loyally by the river; but it is not creditable to him. The other paper is against the river because Portland is for it, and because "only that portion of the river in Oregon is to be improved." The Columbia at no point enters the state of Oregon, and as a matter of fact the proposed boat railway was to have been built in Washington. The truth is apparent to any person of preception.
Seattle desires the opening of the canal and the continued obstruction of the river; the people east of the Cascade mountains demand that Seattle shall make her own local improvements, and that the government shall be asked only to make appropriations for works of a general character. Circulate a Columbia river petition in Seattle and find how many people would sign it; circulate a canal petition this side of the mountains, and find how many people want that project.

A Tremendous Barley Farm.

"We have now secured 250,000 acres of land in North Dakota for barley farms, and next spring we will send thousands of German emigrants to that state from Ohio, West Virginia and Indiana," said Colonel O. M. Towner as he discussed the future of this great northern state. Colonel Towner is manager of what is best known as the Barley syndicate of Chicago. During the last two or three months the company has succeeded in securing 250,000 acres of land in North Dakota, on which it is proposed to place German farmers to raise barley for malt purposes. These lands have been purchased in Nelson, Norman, Towner, Ramsey, Steele and Bottineau counties.
It is the opinion of the managers of this company that barley can be most successfully grown in that state, and they have the conviction of their belief sufficiently to purchase these lands and to send out emigrants from other states.
The Germans are chosen on account of their knowledge of barley culture for this purpose. These emigrants will not be tenants, but owners of the land, it being sold to them on easy terms. The crops will be bought by the company and shipped to all points where there is a demand for barley.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

To Celebrate the Marcellaise.

Another effort is being made by the inhabitants of Choisy-le-Roi, outside of Paris, to observe with much solemnity and ceremonial what is vaguely called the "Centenary of the Marcellaise." Choisy-le-Roi claims to possess the dust of Rouget de l'Isle—the composer of the hymn—who was buried there in 1886, his birthplace being Lons-le-Saulnier, in the department of the Jura. On this account the members of the borough council consider that they have the right to take the initiative in organizing a Right Republican festival this year, as the Mar-cellaise, under the title of "Chant de Guerre de l'Armee du Rhin," was first heard in 1792.

President Carnot is to be asked to become honorary president of the committee of the fête, and appeals for funds will be made to all the cities, and also to communes which possess more than 4,000 inhabitants. No date as yet has been fixed for the celebration of the centenary, to which it is presumed that every patriotic Frenchman will give his sentimental and sympathetic—if not practical and pecuniary—support.— Paris Cor. London Telegraph

A Much Traveled Volume.

In opening a package of books wrapped in tin, the custom house inspectors cut with a knife the binding, by Ruban, of a "Poor Richard Almanack." The importer made no claim for damage from the government, paid the duty, returned the book to Paris to be rebound and wrote an ode to Diana of Poitiers, goddess of book lovers, in gratitude for the miraculous escape of the text of his Almanack.
The book, rebound, came back fifteen days ago. The owner supposes that it is intact, but he does not know, and he cannot learn even by paying the duty again, for the official wants a new invoice, and the importer is naive enough to think that he can persuade the official that the first invoice, which is filed at the custom house, accurately describes the book on its fourth voyage across the Atlantic.—New York Times.

A Russo-Chinese Railway.

A Russo-Chinese railway is reported as the objective point of negotiations now going on between Russian and Chinese representatives. Russia wants the right to build a railway from Vladivostok, the Pacific terminal of the proposed Siberian railway, across the northern boundary of Corea to Tien-Tsin, and thence to Shanghai. The alleged object is quick transit of Chinese tea and silk to Europe. The Chinese, however, are very jealous of Russian influence in the east, and will probably decline Russian aid in railway building.—Engineering News.
