THE IDAHO AFFAIR.

More Men are Driven Out of the Coeur d'Alene Mines.

TROOPS ORDERED TO THE SCENE.

The Sheriff Fails to Secure a Posse,
Calls on The President.

THE SITUATION REPRESENTED.

The Command at Fort Sherman to Send Troops Under Generals Ruger and Merritt.

BOISE CITY, July 13.—The governor of Idaho and Senators Shoup and DuBois, acting together on reports of the condition of affairs in Coeur d'Alene, have arranged to have troops sent to the scene of trouble immediately, from Fort Sherman, under Generals Ruger and Merritt. The Sheriff at Wallace utterly failed to secure a posse of citizens to aid him in quelling the work of destruction. Monday night armed bodies of miners went from Wallace all evening, and about 9 o'clock a large crowd went to the Union Pacific yards and took a flat-car, put it on the main track and started it for Wardner. Being all down grade no trouble was experienced. The mill of the Bunker and Sullivan company is located on the Union Pacific track two miles from Wardner. The miners took possession of this during the night, and sent word up to the mine that unless the non-union men would surrender before 9 o'clock Tuesday morning the mill would be blown up. Large bodies of miners went up to Wardner proper and toward the mine to await an answer and developments. Before 9 o'clock Tuesday morning all the Bunker Hill and Sullivan forces walked out of the mine and surrendered. The Sierra Nevada forces also surrendered. Not a shot was fired. What will be done with the non-union men is not yet known. The Frisco and Gem companies paid their men off yesterday. U. S. Marshal Pinkham sent a dispatch to Senators Shoup and DuBois as follows, from a man named John Pinch at Wallace: "We are powerless to stop the conflict, and fear many will be killed and the mills burned." The latest dispatch, sent by Gov. Willey, to Washington city last night is as follows: "The casualties so far are six killed and seven wounded, and the fear is expressed that violence may extend to other parts of the state, necessitating a proclamation of martial law. The union miners are described as an undisciplined mob of 400 to 500, armed with Winchesters and revolvers. They are elated with success, and will not be satisfied until every new man is driven from the mines." President Harrison ordered the federal troops to be sent and General Schofield ordered Generals Ruger and Merritt to forward them.

A Portland Compromise.

Telegram. Councilmen Nicholas, Myers, Forbes and Parker, of the city license committee, met Saturday, and decided to issue licenses for the ensuing quarter to all applicants. The question of recognizing the application of Saloon-keeper Oleson, who was arrested on election day for selling liquor, was settled in his favor by his showing that his barkeeper opened the house while Oleson was away. The committee deemed it advisable not to shut out any of the disorderly houses, as the new police department should be given a chance to show their ability to keep such places quiet. By Saturday evening the city treasurer had received $30,000 of the next quarter's license fees.

The Hot Bed of Poesy.

Review. The head-line artist of the Tekoa Globe touches off the military encampment in this manner: "Company K comes home to stay; the boys have had enough, they say; but want to go back in '93; what is the matter with corporal B?" Let none say that the glorious west is deficient in poetic talent. The Palouse country is the hot-bed of Poesy, and may emit as many golden pastorals in years to come as it now does bushels of wheat. Even its infants lisp in numbers, and scarehead writers talk in verse.

Dead as a Smelt.

Tekoa Globe. The Lake Washington canal scheme is as dead as a smelt, notwithstanding Senator Allen's noble speech.

Management vs. Protection.

Oregonian. Has protection enriched Carnegie? Then why have so many who have engaged in the same business failed? It is not protection that has enriched Carnegie so much as superior management. With or without protection some would grow rich. About one-half the steel beams in the Oregonian building were made by a firm near Pittsburg, that had the contract to furnish all of them. This firm failed in business and the rest of the beams had to be ordered from Carnegie's. There was just as much protection for one of these firms as for the other. Success, then, depends mainly on management in business. What there is in protection goes chiefly to labor.

Personal.

Moro Observer. C. W. Phelps, formerly of Rufus, this county, has started a machinery establishment in The Dalles and is already doing an extensive business. He sold three mowers and a header on Thursday of last week. The firm name is C. W. Phelps & Co.

Ashland Tidings. Hon. J. F. Caples, of Portland, is the most popular 4th of July orator in the Northwest. He was invited to speak at more than forty different places in Oregon and Washington on the 4th this year. Pendleton put in the first call, and he spoke there.

In Washington City.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The Portland free bridge delegation, consisting of J. C. Moreland, T. F. Osborn, G. H. Moffett and J. L. Sperry, arrived yesterday and are at the Arlington. This evening Senator Mitchell will give a dinner at Chamberlin's, in honor of the delegation, to which a number of his colleagues in the senate will be invited. They expect to have a hearing before Secretary Elkins on the bridge-Handbury case today or tomorrow. Secretary Elkins will come from West Virginia to meet them.

Americanism are They.

Spokane Review. In addition to such verbs as Sundayed, suicided and electrocuted, the Salvation Army War Cry, has invented another still more atrocious, and readers of that esteemed contemporary are spiritually edified by reading, Ensign Tambourine, farewelled here yesterday." Having farewelled in one place and Sundayed in another, it may yet be possible for the good people to have Julyed out west, studying the question of electrocution and suicidation.

Palouse and Averages.

Colfax Commoner. The damage done to crops from the recent heated term is not so serious as at first reported. Even where wheat fields are yellow from the work of the sun, the interior of the stalks are moist and the heads are, for the most part, uninjured. Is it possible that the Palouse country, as a whole, will furnish a good average crop after all.

Fusion in Iowa.

CHICAGO, July 13.—A Des Moines dispatch says there is no longer any doubt that the democrats and people's party will unite in this state. Conferences to that end have been in progress ever since the fusion in Kansas. The fusion will probably be on the basis of a people's party national ticket and a democratic state ticket.

For Senator Allen.

Palouse Gazette. The interests of every shipper in eastern Washington demand an open river, and if Senator Allen desires the support of this section he should display a willingness at least to assist whatever may benefit this vast region.

Greeting.

Klamath Star. The Dalles CHRONICLE is still in very worthy hands, its editorial management having passed to Mr. D. C. Ireland, a clever and well-known Oregon journalist. Long live the lively CHRONICLE.

The Combination.

Astoria Herald. It is a beautiful combination. The mugwumps can shut their eyes and vote for Cleveland, and the Jacksonians can grit their teeth and shriek for Stevenson.

HOMESTEAD TROOPS.

Martial Law Succeeds the Arbitrary Reign of a Committee.

PEACEFULLY RECEIVED BY ALL.

A Complete Acquisition of Power by the State Authorities.

STRIKERS GRACEFULLY ACCEPT.

If the Workmen are all Called out and Non-Union Men are Called in the end is not yet.

HOMESTEAD, July 13.—Three thousand troops arrived yesterday under command of General Snowden, together with two Gatling guns and three field pieces. Their sudden arrival in the absence of the leaders of the strikers disconcerted the programme for their reception, and the soldiers evidently did not desire such treatment from the men whom they were sent to keep in order. They descended from the train, formed silently, marched in perfect order, took possession of the mills, deployed artillery across the Monongahela opposite the mills, set pickets all about the works, and settled the question of taking possession of the town by marching one company direct to the strikers' headquarters, another to the vicinity of the depot, and a third to a slight eminence overlooking and commanding the commercial center of the town. Then Homestead was in the hands of the military and martial law had succeeded the arbitrary reign of the advisory committee. It was a complete acquisition of power by the state, and as gracefully as they could the strikers accepted the inevitable. The batteries across the river command the whole town as well as the Carnegie works. President Weihe, of the amalgamated association, substantially admitted this morning that the workmen in all the Carnegie plants, aggregating 20,000 will be called out if the company attempts to start up Homestead with non-union men. H. C. Frick, chairman of the Carnegie company, said in an interview today it was the intention of the company to resume work at the Homestead mills as soon as possible. There were many of the locked-out men who were willing to accept the terms of the company and return to work if they could be protected in doing so. It would be necessary, however, to secure additional outside non-union help. He thought it would not be long before the entire plant would be in operation.

Weather Reports.

PORTLAND, July 12.—Concerning Eastern Oregon, crop weather bulletin No. 15 says: The cool weather and partly cloudy sky have been of great benefit to growing grain. It is generally conceded that in all sections a half crop at the least will be harvested. To the east of Pendleton about an average crop is estimated. In Union and Wallowa counties the grain crop is fully an average. Heading has commenced in a few localities, but will not be general until next week. Corn is doing very well. Haying is about finished. The wool clip is being shipped. Sweet corn is ripe about The Dalles. Range feed is good and stock is in excellent condition. The rivers continue to fall. Wells and streams are becoming low.

How to Retaliate.

Review. The state of Kentucky having been refused further credit by the Western Union Telegraph Company can get even by the legislature memorializing congress to take government control of the railways and telegraphs. This would hardly be an honest act, but it is about as honest as the proposal that the government parallel the lines of the Westegn Union by wires of its own, and by underselling, drive the private concern out of business.
