The story is that the friction which started the Coeur d' Alene troubles was a fight at a dance in a saloon at Gem on Saturday night. Early Sunday morning the fun was blowing fast and furious. and a fight occurred between a union CANDY FACTORY and a non-union man. The non-union combatant was worsted so badly that it was necessary to take him to the hos- Campbell Bros. Proprs pital. The wounded man was placed aboard a hand-car, and a couple of his companions pushed the car to the hospital. Upon their return they were met by a party of union men, and another set-to took place. The non-union men were again worsted and obliged to seek refuge in the Frisco mill. This little fracas served as a spark to ignite the past month, and in an hour both factions followed. The fighting element have or Retail sneered at the employment of attorneys, and have said that nothing could come of the fight at Boise; that it was a waste of time and resources, and that the nonunion men ought to be run out of the country. The example set by the strikers at Homestead exerted a great deal of evil influence in certain quarters. The turbulent elements declared that the strike was being conducted on milk and water tactics, and that if they had had their own way in the beginning the fight would have been won long ago. Then came the news that the federal court had made the injunction perpetual, and the flame broke out.

The controversies upon right and wrong, directly involved in the Homestead and Cour d'Alene riots, ought to be as readily disposed of as are controworsies between the people and the railcommittee of arbitration by congress and the states for such purposes, then it is equally so to arbitrate clashes betweenlabor and capital. Congress now has the subject up for investigation, and will probably see the necessity for, and the justice of, some such action. It would be a long stride in the effort to check the disposition of people to resor to lynch law, produce a better regard Torthwest corner of Second and for statute law, and materially lessen Court Streets. complaints following all legal restraint. With such commission as we speak of the growing disposition all over the country to ignore the forms of law and take its execution into private and un-

Landsdown house today. For some mysterious reason there seems to be a disposition on the part of the Astor family to suppress the cause of Astor's death. When the family decide whether or not he is dead, the press will be be

There is no probability that the tariff measures which have passed the house will get before the senate this session. The finance committee, to which they were all referred is of the opinion that if they are reported others would be urged. As they would prolong the session indefinitely the committee is adverse to take any action in the matter. The subject of the tariff, however, will probably be heard from again in the senate either on Hale's resolution as to a comparison between the republican policy and the "tariff for revenue only" or on Vest's resolution directing the Ed. M. Williams finance committee to report back the bouse bill putting wool on the free list.

Through an oversight doubtless, the prohibition party failed to remark in its platform that the floods in the west were not exactly the sort of uprising they want.

Pum Kelly comes out in the Oregonian again, in fourteen columns closely printed matter yesterday. He says not a word as to why he felt himself a stronger man than Sampson-to handle Wilson.

Mr. W. M. Terry, who has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for the past twelve years, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other cough medicine I have ever sold." There is good reason for this. No other will cure a cold so for this. No other will cure a cold so for this. No other will cure a cold acquickly; no other is so certain a preventive and cure for croup; no other affords so much relief in cases of whooping cough. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.
