A Lapse of Memory

"Humph! It's very clear that I am not in the proper vein today," growled Mr. Scribblor as he threw aside his pen and substituted a stumpy lead pencil in its place.

"What's the matter now?" asked Mrs. Scribblor as she left her ironing to come to his assistance.

"It's only that Christmas story I started to write for The Echo. I can't for the life of me get beyond the opening sentence."

"Let me see what you have written," said his wife as she looked over his shoulder and read from the paper on the table: "It was bitter cold. The poor little match girl on the corner shivered in the biting blast. Why, that's all right. Go on," she said encouragingly.

"But I can't seem to remember what comes next," remonstrated Mr. Scribblor.

"Let me see! Um—in the biting blast—and drawing her ragged shawl about her slender, frame body, timidly offered her scanty stock of wares to the passers by."

"That's it!" exclaimed the author as he drew his wife to him and kissed her tenderly. "What a help you are, dear. I suppose I have written that thing hundreds of times, and yet I had utterly forgotten it."—Life.

A Freak of Science.

An English chemist who was at a Washington hotel exhibited a little microphone he had made which would render audible the footsteps of a fly. It was only a small affair and consisted of a box with a sheet of thin straw paper stretched over the upper side. By means of a little electrical device, consisting of two carbon disks, a carbon pencil and a weak battery, the sheet of paper over the top of the box was caused to produce vibrations when a fly walked over it strong enough to react energetically on an ordinary telephone transmitter when held close to the latter.—Washington Post.

Just 24.

In just 24 hours J. V. S. relieves constipation and sick headaches. After it gets the system under control an occasional dose prevents return. We refer by permission to W. H. Marshall, Brunswick House, S. F.; Geo. A. Warner, 531 California St., S. F.; Mrs. C. Melvin, 138 Kearny St., S. F., and many others who have found relief from constipation and sick headaches. G. W. Vincent, of 6 Terrence Court, S. F. writes: "I am 60 years of age and have been troubled with constipation for 25 years. I was recently induced to try Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. I recognized it at once as an herb that the Mexicans used to give us in the early 50's for bowel troubles. (It came to California in 1839) and I knew it would help me and it has. For the first time in years I can sleep well and my system is regular and in splendid condition. The old Mexican herbs in this remedy are a certain cure in constipation and bowel troubles." Ask for

THE DALLES, Oregon.

The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.

ITS TERRITORY.

It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market.

The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here.

The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS.

The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.

The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH.

It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.

Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these corner stones she stands.
