MORE DRESS REFORM.

As at the Chautauqua convention of a year ago, the ladies who have assembled this year at that famous spot are absorbed in the question of dress reform. They are, if anything, more ardently radical than ever. One earnest reformer made a long address denouncing half the articles of the feminine wardrobe. She attacked heavy skirts, corsets, tight dresses, collars and high-heeled boots. She also denounced fripperies and superfluous ornamentations. What the sex needs, she explained, is a light costume, simple and plain, and so perfectly hygienic that diseases might be cured simply by wearing one, as a man wears a liver pad. She said, however, that her ideal gown is durable as adamant. We judge from her remarks that before the gown would be worn out it would wear the wearer out.

All this and much more to the same effect produced an obvious sensation among the lady attendants and innumerable harsh things were said about the styles now prevailing. There is no real reason for doubting that the promulgator of the new dress speaks truthfully of its many merits. But she does not tell us that this highly sanitary gown looks either stylish or pretty or winsome. Therein her cause is weak and her argument falls to the ground. Reformed dresses may be good things, but they are useless unless somebody will wear them. And what woman proposes to make herself a fright for reform's sake.

The hot-tempered little republic on the western coast of South America has acknowledged the error of her imperious ways and come up with a pecuniary reparation for them. A substantial indemnity has been paid both to the families of the two seamen of the Baltimore killed at Valparaiso and to the other sailors who were maimed by enraged Chileans. There is a difference, of course, between involuntary or reluctant reparation and spontaneous remorse. But we prefer to give Chile the benefit of the doubt and believe that her spasms of pugnacity has given way to calm judgment and a sentiment of reform. If, as we hope, this is the end of the "episode," Chile ought to know that her big northern neighbor is not loath to make up and be friends again. The South Americans have certainly shown themselves to be beautifully spunky if they do make errors of judgment. Therefore let the apology be accepted with good feeling all around.

Jerry Simpson is downcast. The corn and wheat crops in Kansas are the best in the history of the state and the farmers are so full of business that they have not time to listen to a calamity speech. If Jerry could only have had a drought in his district, with a heavy crop of mortgages and three or four labor strikes and riots to set it off, what a joy it would have been for Jerry.

It will be neither good law nor good health for those Homestead rioters to seek to get a change of venue to the west when they are hauled into court to make answer to the charge of murder. That plan of adjusting differences is by no means in favor out west.

The democratic party worries a heap about the force bill. On the other hand it seems to advocate the kind of force which has been rioting around with shotguns and revolvers in the vicinity of Pittsburg.

No more fawning upon congress, Chicago is capable of running the worlds fair, and she will do it, in the highest style of the art. But she will run it her own way and it will be open on Sundays.

A campaign life of Grover Cleveland will soon be published. The appendix will contain a report from a prominent geologist explaining when, where and how Adlai E. Stevenson was dug up.

As the supply of Congressional Records is about to be cut off, druggists will lay in an increased stock of opiates for nervous patrons.

Kentucky appears to be paying more attention to mint-julep than to the campaign of the democracy's leaders.

Gone—all the painful disorders and chronic weaknesses peculiar to the female sex. They go, with the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Periodical pains, weak back, bearing-down sensations, nervous prostration, all "female complaints" are cured by it. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless—a powerful general, as well as uterine, tonic and nerve, imparting vigor and strength to the whole system. It costs you nothing if it fails to give satisfaction. It's guaranteed to do so, in every case, or the money is refunded. It can be guaranteed—for it does it. No other medicine for women is sold on such terms.

That's the way its makers prove their faith in it. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to derange digestion; a legitimate medicine, not a beverage. Purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system.

Treas. Dalles City.

The Old Times are Not In It.

While at our other store at Big Island, Va., last April, I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhoea. I never had it worse in my life. I tried several old-time remedies, such as Blackberry Wine, Paregoric and Laudanum without getting any relief. My attention was then called to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy by Mr. R. C. Tinsley who had been handling it there, and in less than five minutes after taking a small dose I was entirely relieved.
