Gen. Lew Wallace, the author of Ben Hur, will make a lecturing tour of the Pacific coast next winter and his manager is trying to arrange a date for The Dalles. It seems as if this city could stand the amount necessary to hear this talented author.

ABOUT COWS AT LARGE.

A Petition Which Breathes the Vox Popularis in The Dalles.

To the Hon. the mayor and common council of The Dalles City, Oregon. Gentlemen: The undersigned, respectfully represents that he is a resident of Dalles City, out of jail and a taxpayer thereof, under protest.

That your petitioner resides upon the bluff in said city, the headquarters of the champion hose team and of the festive bovine as hereinafter stated, that the time was, not long ago, when the impressive pound master was abroad in the city, and peace and harmony reigned supreme in the ballwick of yours truly. Then, the birds twittered, the grass grew, the flowers bloomed, the waters laughed, the gentle zephyrs whispered and the lads and lasses strolled in the shadows and in the gloaming and talked and laughed and billed and cooed and thought of naught else but love, heaven, happiness and the most approved brand of Black Jack.

Now, alas and alack, that important personage, the poundmaster is no more; the town cow with a seven by nine smile, that once knew him, knows him not at this time. Gone is the herbage, the birds and their songs, youth, beauty, quiet, peace, harmony forever gone and in their stead have appeared innumerable cattle of high and low degree, sand dunes and general desolation. The air is filled with the howling of heards, the tintinnabulation of divers and sundry discordant bells, broken gates, fluttering night shirts, cobble stones and profanity against the peace and dignity of the undersigned and against the ordinances of the city in such cases made and provided wherefore your petitioner prays that the city provide itself with a poundmaster, whose duty it shall be to wrestle with these innumerable bulls of Bashan that the ordinary citizen may pursue the even tenor of his way without molestation. Respectfully Submitted, GEO. WATKINS.

THE CITY FATHERS.

An Appeal for a Non-Cow Ordinance. Respect of Persons.

The regular monthly meeting of the city council was held last evening. Present: Mayor Mays and a full council.

Petition of A. H. Curtis for correction of assessments was granted.

Petition of Geo. W. Roland and others for construction of sidewalks was referred to committee on streets and public property.

On motion it was ordered that when the council adjourn it be to August 24th. Appeal of E. P. Fitzgerald on taxes was referred to a special committee.

A communication from the chief surgeon of the U. P. R. Co., relative to carrying small pox patients that might be brought to the city was read.

Councilman Haight spoke upon the matter, and it was finally decided that in case the Union Pacific company should leave any case of small pox in the city, the city would immediately be quarantined and the company would not be allowed to leave any passengers at The Dalles.

Councilman O. E. Haight was empowered to take action relative to the impounding of cattle running at large in the city, especially cows with bells on them.

James McCoy was politely informed that he must repair his sidewalks, or stand the additional expense of having it done by the city.

An ordinance transferring certain unexpended balances from the special sewer fund to the general fund, was enacted.

A report of the fire and water committee was read and adopted with the exception of the recommendation in regard to the sale of the engine house lot, and building of a fire engine house.

Mt. Hood hose company's petition was referred to the committee on fire and water.

Warrants were ordered in payment of claims as follows:

Upper Columbia Steamers.

There is quite a fleet of steamboats now plying on the Upper Columbia, in the Big Bend country. A visitor to Wenatchee recently witnessed the arrival there of the Nixon, 4 days from Pasco, up through Priest, Rock Island and Cabinet rapids. 185 miles, which was considered a very quick passage when the swift current and powerful rapids are taken into consideration. The Ellensburg came down the same evening at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour, true, she had a very swift current to assist her. The distance from Port Columbia to Wenatchee is about one hundred miles, which she makes in four hours. She is a powerful little boat 120 feet in length, 22 feet beam, five foot hold, is handsomely furnished, has 18 berths and sets an excellent table at 50 cents a meal. She is in command of Capt. M. S. Danaher. From her deck a grand panorama of lovely scenery is constantly viewed. Huge mountains, masses of rocks and perpendicular cliffs towering hundreds of feet above are always in sight. The trip to Port Columbia is grand and exciting.

HAVING AN OUTING.

Scraps of Incidents Picked up Here and There From the Camp.

In summer woods its nice to camp and eat out side, no trouble brooking: For than there are no cares to dump. Unless you have to do the cooking. —Booth.

There's one thing, it makes man content with his lot. When he looks at the stale bread in his kit, He'd be willing to give quite a sum on the spot For a batch of his young wife's tea biscuits. —Butler.

The kicker never has a word to say when the old farmer comes down and reads the riot act about trespassing on his property.

When a fellow starts out to supply the camp with fish, if you are only careful to fill his flask he is sure to bring home a load.

The difference between the estimated expenses and the actual outlay makes one believe that figures sometimes lie.

Unless you know a man pretty well, never play poker with him by the light of a lantern.

From the way the snake-bite remedy disappears it would seem that the boys believe that prevention is better than cure.

Don't look for perfect seclusion. The summer girl in the country can ferret out a man in the densest forest.

The man who makes a failure of it is the one who afterward writes a book on camping out.

Because the rain comes in a waterproof tent is no sign that there is a hole in it.

You will find it cheaper in the end to have an experienced man to put up your tent.

The member of the party who tries to make his expenses by introducing a deck of cards is generally the one who finds himself in debt when the camp breaks up.

When you take back a borrowed tent the man always finds that some damage has been done to it.

You never pick up old bottles, pipes and cards so quickly as when the girls pay an unexpected visit to the camp.

The fellow who has done the least, all day insists on monopolizing the hammock all the evening.

The night you are very tired is the one the snake selects to be caught in the tent.

Never indulge in gratuitous insults, so don't ask the fellow who has been left in camp to do the cooking if he has enjoyed himself.

To The Public.

I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the public, as I do to my friends and patrons. I used it myself after other well-known remedies had failed, and it cured me in a few minutes. I recommend it candidly and cheerfully upon its merits, not from a financial standpoint, because I have others in stock on which I make a larger profit, but because Chamberlain's is the best remedy I know of for bowel complaints. There is no doubt about it, it does the work—JAMES FORAY, Druggist, McVeytown, Penn. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w

NOTICE.

City taxes for 1892 are now due and payable within sixty days, at the office of the undersigned. L. RORDEN, City Treasurer. DALLES CITY, July 6th, 1892.

The Old Times are Not In It.

While at our other store at Big Island, Va., last April, I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhoea. I never had it worse in my life. I tried several old-time remedies, such as Blackberry Wine, Paregoric and Laudanum, without getting any relief. My attention was then called to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy by Mr. R. C. Tinsley who had been handling it there, and in less than five minutes after taking a small dose I was entirely relieved. —O. G. BUAROUND, Harris Creek, Amherst Co., Va.
