LOCAL BREVITIES.

Misses Pearl and Jessie Butler left for Collins Landing.

Mr. and Mrs. Farley returned from Hood River last evening.

Lost. A pair of eye-glasses. Finder please leave at CHRONICLE office.

Mrs. A. Keller and family left on the Regulator for Portland this a. m.

Messrs. Hight and Wilson spent Sunday in camp with their families, below Hood River.

May & Crowe received a stump pulker for E. T. Highy, see it and make your own comment.

The Regulator, Baker and ferryboat, were officially inspected yesterday by Messrs. McDermott and Edwards.

Capt. Coe's new steamer, the Irma, was inspected yesterday, on the return of Messrs. McDermott and Edwards.

P. W. DeHuff left for Ripari this morning, to look after the steamer service of the U. P. R. Co., on Snake river.

Messrs. M. A. Moody, Green, Joslyn and others, returned from a fishing jaunt last night, saturated with satisfaction.

The fire department will not have it as Judd S. Fish wants it, hence have reappointed him chief of The Dalles department.

According to quotations of the Chicago cattle and horse market, given today, The Dalles would be a good place to reach out for a supply of either.

Col. John McCracken returned from a trip to the interior on Saturday. He says the weather was extremely warm in Utah. At Huntington on Saturday the thermometer registered 104 degrees, northern exposure.

Prof. J. M. DeMoss has decided not to give a concert in The Dalles by his family, in consequence of the lack of a suitable hall. Their last concert was given in Chicago June 27th, and the family are now returning to their home in Oregon.

The D. P. & A. N. Co., having dropped the way freight business between the Cascades and Portland are now enabled to land passengers in Portland and The Dalles much earlier than formerly. During the summer months this route should be patronized by all.

Hon. Van B. DeLashmutt, ex-mayor of Portland, passed through Saturday on his return from Boise City. He thinks matters will soon be all right again in Cœur d'Alene, as justice will be done to both sides. This will necessitate the hanging of three or four hundred people, probably, but justice should be done, certainly.

Even the circus brought nobody good, in Portland last week. It was a caravan of thieves. Persons living in the neighborhood of the performances hope never to be so afflicted again. The mob of thieves operated extensively in a small way, rifting cellars and kitchens of provisions, stealing garden hose and in fact anything else that could be carried away without attracting much attention.

The Tuna Hedge, the future fence of the country, which is described today, may be secured of Johnson & Moon, at the Umatilla house. Orders should be sent in as soon as possible, as there is no permanent office here. Mr. Johnson is well known in The Dalles, and will furnish any recommendations needed.

Portland is the dustiest city on the west side of the continent at present. There is not the slightest effort made to suppress the dirt. On the other hand taxes continue to be levied to increase the stock of dirt on hand by opening new streets which are not needed, and turning them over to the winds to be blown in with the unreconstructed nuisances everywhere abounding.

So Mars is not peopled after all. This verdict from the Lick astronomers does away with the last hope of marshaling blocks of five from that quarter. It is hardly probable that the patience of the good Lord great as it is, could tolerate another uninhabited world. The decision that there are no canals there, also disposes of the fanciful theory that the inhabitants of Mars were advanced enough to provide against railroad combines. The canals are not parallel lines, the observers now say, but broad bands. That the astronomers are making hay while the sun shines is very evident. Telescopes on both hemispheres are pointed to the beautiful red planet nightly, and observations of great interest and scientific value are being made. The Lick telescope has brought forth discoveries of great importance.

THE ANTELOPE REGION.

Latest Information Through the Spicy Columns of the Herald.

Last and this week were the hottest experienced in the Antelope country this season. Last Saturday the thermometer registered 104 in the shade.

Although July and August are the extremely dull months of the year in this country there is more business done here right now than there is in most towns in the busiest season.

Where drummers are to be found "in abundance" there is where an "abundance of business" is transacted. Antelope has been swarming with drummers all summer.

The demand in British Columbia for Oregon mutton, has somewhat stimulated a great interest in this line amongst stock commission dealers.

On Friday last Frank Irvine became very ill and the Drs. Beers, who happened to be passing through at the time, were called in. It was discovered to be an attack of pleurisy, and while under the doctor's examination Mr. Irvine fainted away and remained unconscious for considerable time. Finally he was resuscitated and is now gradually getting better. Mr. Irvine wrote down for his partner, E. M. Wingate, who has been visiting his relatives in The Dalles for several weeks.

Seventeen years ago while Wm. Hinkle and Johnnie Clarno were bringing a brand new freight wagon belonging to Mr. H. over the John Day river on the ferry boat run by Mr. Clarno, one of the wheels came off the wagon and sunk in the river. The wheel was never discovered until last week when Johnnie Clarno saw it sticking out of the water about 200 yards below where it had sunk. The wheel, having always been under and preserved by the water, was found to be solid and sound as ever, with the exception of a little wearing by the water.

CASCADE LOCKS.

Some Local Notes and Pertinent Remarks by the Way.

CASCADE LOCKS, August 8.—This place is very quiet since Uncle Samuel has shut down on canal construction. All the surplus men and hangers-on are off duty. Speaking of the suspension, in looking over the plant, everything is cleaned up and stored away as neatly and carefully, as if the thing was put away in its little bed, to go to sleep for a long repose. In conversation with an authority I learn that those in charge here are in waiting for orders from the engineer, who is in waiting for orders from headquarters. One cannot but be impressed with the feeling that the slumbering delays of the past are a precedent for fears of a repetition of the former fifteen years, which has wearied the patience of the Inland Empire.

The contract clause, as interpreted by some, means wearisome years of fooling and a lingering construction of the locks. One thing must be corrected, which has gone abroad through the press, and that is the charge of recutting stone. Only in a few instances has it been done and that, was when a certain dimension stone was needed to finish a certain course which had not been cut as directed. Your correspondent is not an apologist for the engineer in charge if he does give you the item.

The discovery of coal on Tanner creek has resulted in running a tunnel in on the vein nearly one hundred feet which does not show any great encouragement to the discoverers however. The vein, is twenty-two inches thick, and does not appear to be of much value in quality.

THE CHRONICLE of late had something to say about The Dalles and Sandy wagon road, which is impassible between Hood River and Wythe. We Cascaders think Wasco county should see that it is put in a traveling condition. And, since the railroad company destroyed it, they should be made to put it in as good fix as they found it. We have hopes that our new county judge will look into the matter.

There is a party of gentlemen from Portland in camp, a few miles from the river on Herman creek, where they are having a good time hunting and fishing. Messrs. Cram, Shontel, and Wm. Michell are in camp near the railroad on this stream.

The Misses Lang of The Dalles, are the guests of Lieut. Taylor of the engineer corps, and are charpered by Mrs. A. L. Newman.

Messrs. S. L. Brooks and L. W. Heppner, with their families, are in camp at a lovely spot opposite the Regulator landing. They are delighted with the Cascades as a summer resort and express themselves as being surprised at the idea of going to the sea coast when this locality affords such attractions in the way of magnificent scenery and a cool, bracing atmosphere.

The steamers Dalles City and Regulator arrive on railroad time. The Dalles City arrives at the lower locks at 12 o'clock sharp every day, and the Regulator at the upper locks at 10 a. m. daily.

People went from The Dalles to Hood River, outing, yesterday. A party from Hood River took in Bridal Veil; and a Bridal Veil party stopped off at Troutdale, where a party stepped on board for Portland. Once at Portland half a dozen steamboats were ready to carry as many as could go comfortably to Astoria, Clatsop and North Beach. Thus do we rest on Sundays in Oregon.

Bro. John Michell couldn't stay at home yesterday. He too had an outing down in the direction of the cool umbrageous shades of Mosier, angling in pebbly brooks for the speckled beauties like other disciples of Isak Walton.

A Card From Mrs. Birgfeld.

I see in the Oregonian of Aug. 4th a statement that a report is being circulated here, that William Birgfeld, my husband, was with my father in Cal. at the time of his death, and that certain parties in The Dalles are intimating that my husband had something to do therewith.

My story is as unjust and without foundation as are other stories that are being industriously circulated by my husband's enemies. The facts about my father's death are simply as follows: In May 1888, my father, who had been ill for over a year because so much worse, that the doctors here advised him to go to Cal. for his health. He thought a great deal of Mr. Birgfeld, and desired him to go with him to take care of him which Mr. Birgfeld consented willingly to do.

Mr. Birgfeld stayed in San Francisco two weeks. My father seemed much better, and Mr. B. returned to The Dalles, where he remained but a short time, when my father got worse and telegraphed to him to come down, as he needed him to take care of him. Mr. Birgfeld went at once to California in response to the telegram, and upon consultation with the physicians, found my father in so dangerous a condition that he telegraphed immediately for my mother, who went down, and Mr. Birgfeld came home, leaving my mother with my father, and did not see him again until he was brought up here for burial. He was not with my father and did not see him for nearly two weeks before his death, my mother being with him all of that time.

It seems impossible that even a man's most bitter enemies would start such unjust and malicious reports against him, and surely the object of all these fabrications that are going around, without any foundation, must be for the purpose of deliberate persecution, and to prevent my husband from establishing his innocence of the terrible charge now pending against him. I know that my husband has many enemies, but it seems to me that for my sake and for the sake of our little children, if not for his own, people should accord him common justice and a fair show to prove his innocence, and not be constantly inventing and spreading these false and unjust stories for the evident purpose of prejudicing his case.

To The Public.

I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy to the public, as I do to my friends and patrons. I used it myself after one or two well-known remedies had failed, and it cured me in a few minutes. I recommend it candidly and cheerfully upon its merits, not from a financial stand-point, because I have others in stock on which I make a larger profit, but because Chamberlain's is the best remedy I know of for bowel complaints. There is no doubt about it, it does the work—JAMES FORGY, Druggist, McVeytown, Penn. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w

Examination of Teachers.

Notice is hereby given that for the purpose of making an examination of all persons who may offer themselves as candidates for teachers of the schools of this county, the county school superintendent thereof will hold a public examination at his office in The Dalles, beginning Wednesday, August 10th, 1892, at one o'clock p. m. All teachers eligible for State Certificates, State Diplomas and Life Diplomas must make application at the quarterly examinations. Dated this Aug 3d, 1892.

TROY SHELLEY.

County School Superintendent of Wasco County, Oregon.

The Old Times are Not In It.

While at our other store at Big Island, Va., last April, I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhoea. I never had it worse in my life. I tried several old-time remedies, such as Blackberry Wine, Paregoric and Laudanum without getting any relief. My attention was then called to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy by Mr. R. C. Tineley who had been handling it there, and in less than five minutes after taking a small dose I was entirely relieved.—O. G. BURFORD, Harris Creek, Amherst Co., Va.
