The rain-making craze has about run its course. In a little while it will be laid away on a shelf with the blue grass craze, the Brown-Seward elixir and the Keeley cure. After five days of futile effort, representatives of the Goodland artificial rain company, of Kansas, packed up their traps and left Hermota, South Dakota, without taking with them the $500 that was to reward a successful demonstration.

The report of Commissioner Carter shows that Oregon has had 209,313 acres of land surveyed during the present administration. Washington 166,032; Idaho 683,649. There is still in Oregon 24,106,334 acres of vacant surveyed lands, and 14,269,500 acres vacant unsurveyed lands.

A report from London yesterday states that the Coldden Club devotes a great deal of its review to Lord Salisbury's celebrated Hastings speech. The report laments the effect Salisbury's language must have on the European countries having high protective tariffs.

Spokane is testing a case to see whether that city has given away all of its rights to street railway combines. In the complaint the city alleges that "during the progress of a fire on Boone avenue Nov. 11, 1891, while the fire department had a section of hose stretched across the street railway tracks, a car was run over the hose, ruining two sections."

Stock cattle are selling in Montana at $20 per head, while two-year-old beef cattle bring $30 per head. There is a vast difference between Montana and Oregon. The Grant County News shows that in that valley stock cattle sell for $12 per head, and it takes a heavy four-year-old to bring into his owner $28.

Groups of respectable looking men may occasionally be seen roaming over our mountain passes, says the News, claiming to be prospectors. In this age of progress they are just as apt to be surveyors looking out a railroad site.

The assessor's roll shows that the total value of property in Clark county, Washington, amounts to more than $6,000,000. A large part of this increase over previous years is due to the recent planting of large orchards which have rendered valuable lands formerly of more account.

There is just this about the labor question: When a man wishes to work and another wishes not to work, all things should be centralized on giving the work to the man who wants it, and all the force of the government should be used, if necessary, to protect him in his choice between idleness and labor.

The Long Creek boys are still at work on their Marysville placers, and with good results.

A feeble woman is restored to health and strength, by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If you're overworked, "run-down," or debilitated, you need it. It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, and a soothing and strengthening nerve, imparting tone and vigor to the whole system.
