The Condon region was visited by a heavy rain shower Wednesday.

The Oregon press association will meet at The Dalles September 26th.

40 cents buys a box of Tanglefoot at Blakeley & Houghtons.

About fifty Dalles German citizens are with the singers in Portland today.

Editor Brooks, of the Dufur Dispatch, paid The Chronicle a fraternal visit today.

Mrs. O'Bar is preparing for winter by adding plastering to the walls of her hotel.

Mays & Crowe are making room on their premises today for a car load of hard wood, and a car load of stoves.

Tanglefoot Fly Paper 40 cents a box, twentyfive double sheets; at Blakeley & Houghtons, 175 Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McFarland and Mr. and Mrs. Bishop, of Heppner, went up to Cloud Cap Wednesday.

J. C. Parker, for many years justice of the peace for Burns precinct, died at his home there last week, after an illness of about one day.

Mr. Clarence O. Bunker is on a visit to his father in Portland, taking in Oswego. Miss Ouida, his sister, has just returned from a similar visit.

A London dispatch says members of the cabinet met at noon yesterday and formally agreed to resign. Most of the ministers will leave town today.

New wheat is being delivered at stations along the line of the Union Pacific. The receipts are yet small, but before many days teaming will begin in earnest.

Forty cents buys a box of Tanglefoot at Blakeley & Houghtons.

The county exhibit of fruits from Wasco is in the hands of a committee consisting of the secretary, Mr. Rawson, Frank Creighton, Alex. Anderson, Joel W. Koontz and N. Whealden.

Notwithstanding reports to the contrary it is authoritatively stated that the output of grain in Umatilla county will be greater this year than ever before, the yield in many localities being entirely satisfactory in quality and quantity.

An entirely new element appears in American politics this year, and it is one likely to grow in importance. It is the Indian vote. Few people realize what the Indian, under the Dawes law, if he shall take land "in severalty," and this year, for the first time, the red as well as the black wards of the nation, will help elect a president. Across the Columbia the Indian has made his appearance in politics already. Peter Stannup attended the state convention in Washington as a delegate from Pierce county.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Jacobsen are in Portland today.

Blakeley & Houghton sells Tanglefoot for 40 cents a box.

The popular bathing place in The Dalles is now off the Regulator wharf boat.

The breeze is refreshing today. Old Sol sends his rays straight down upon us, however.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Phelps are in the city, visiting Mrs. Phelps' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston.

Capt. Robert Grant, one of the expert seining fishermen of the Columbia, is at Celilo, near which place he thinks it will be profitable to introduce this method of catching salmon.

A disturber of the peace and quiet of The Dalles, late last night, was made to seethe his revolver and his angry moods at once and wend his way to the Hotel de Cross Bar for accommodations. He will plead this evening.

Some of the Condon girls just now do not follow the injunction of the doggerel about "hang your clothes on a hick'ry limb, but don't go near the water." They are just as fond of a dip in the Columbia as the members of the whiskered sex.

Cass Rogers, the well known Umatilla stockman, left for Dixon, South Dakota, yesterday, with a carload of well-bred horses. He expects to find a ready market on account of the heavy grain crop to be handled in that section of the country.

Noting the arrival of the headquarters paraphernalia of the Third regiment, which have been moved from The Dalles to Condon, the Globe says: "Col. Lucas has received his commission, and as soon as the large armory is completed, our city will present a very respectable military appearance."

The idea of a league ball-player riding through Portland streets on horseback, in uniform, carrying a banner and blowing a fish-horn to attract attention and to try and draw an audience to witness the game. Verily, the national game has not many admirers this season in the consolidated city.

Elmore, Sanborn & Co., whom we quote today on salmon, are grossly in error in their statement that the excess of 48,000 cases this season, as compared with 1891, is due to the large pack of steelheads by the Cascade and Dalles canneries. The fact is that the catch of steelheads at the cascades and dalles was considerably smaller than last year. The steelheads running poorer than either the blueback or the Chinook. Elmore, Sanborn & Co., should study their lesson better, before reciting it in public.

Yesterday Judd S. Fish, of the Umatilla house, set a man to work in the ice cave to sift over the saw dust preparatory to receiving another car load or two of ice this week. As the work was proceeding Judd happened in to see how things were going on when the shoveler informed him that he had dug up a half a ton of ice, a pair of ice tongs, a shovel, and some other things, that had been lost. "That's about as I expected," said Judd, "Keep on perhaps you may be able to dig up an express wagon and a pair of horses next; nobody can tell what may have been lost in this cave."

"Dalles to Boston"

Have you seen the photos in The Dalles, Portland and Astoria navigation company's office window in this city? It illustrates the all water route from The Dalles to Boston by photos: 1st, of the steamer Regulator; 2d, of the American ship Tillie E. Starbuck, laden for Boston with wool from The Dalles. It is only a forerunner of what is to be.

Our Favored Climate.

Pullman Tribune. The great valley of the Mississippi, prior to the settlement of the Pacific states, was considered the finest and most productive in the United States. During the present year it has been devastated by floods and during the past months has been scourged by heat, followed by severe and disastrous storms of rain and wind. Many persons died of heat prostration, and life and property were destroyed by the succeeding storms. The Pacific states are free from such climatic changes as the Eastern and Southern states have experienced during the present season, and our people should be thankful that their lines are cast in pleasant places, that health and happiness dwell beneath its genial sun, and prosperity comes with the balmy breath of its invigorating climate.

LADY ANALYSTS.

They Play The Same Tricks Resorted to Here and Get Caught.

The Portland Oregonian gives the following amusing account of a lady expert, or canvasser, who was playing the house-to-house sample test dodge in that city:

The city for several days has been canvassed by a company of women who have called at private residences for the ostensible purpose of explaining the superior merits of their baking powder through a series of alleged chemical experiments. A lady who has been annoyed by the agents determined to test the efficacy of the experiments and she brought out some of the baking powder they are advertising. The agent submitted the substance to the usual tests and called the lady's attention to the presence of alum, ammonia and various other alleged ingredients, which could be distinguished by a peculiar odor, the residuum, etc. The lady of course saw all these unmistakable signs of scalded impurities, and allowed the agent full swing to expand upon the merits of her own cooking powder. The agent finally inquired of the lady what brand of baking powder she had been experimenting with. "That baking powder," replied the lady, "is the same that you have been cracking up so high." The agent turned all colors, and beat a hasty retreat. Our informant has not been bothered with baking powder agents since.

THE PEOPLES PARTY.

Gen. Weaver Holds a Levee at the Holton Yesterday.

From the Telegram.]

Gen. James B. Weaver, the peoples party nominee for president, arrived here this morning, accompanied by a small party, consisting of Mrs. Weaver, Mrs. Lease, V. O. Strickler and C. O. Strickler, representing the national committee, Mrs. Strickler and C. A. Powers, of Terre Haute, Ind. The party took rooms at the Holton house, where temporary headquarters were opened. When the general arrived he was met by a large number of peoples party adherents, who thronged the headquarters till lunch hour. During that time a general conference was held between the general and his Oregon managers, who informed him that this state would send peoples party men to the electoral college beyond any doubt.

"I am sure of election," said General Weaver to a Telegram reporter, "and I will be elected, too, right in the electoral college. I do not think the election can possibly be thrown into the house. During the past two weeks a wonderful change has taken place in the political situation of this country. By virtue of this change, the republican party stands not a shadow of a chance for success. The Homestead matter has caused a study of republican principles and methods. Therefore, the battle lies between the people's party and the democrats, and the former has every advantage.

"We will carry the solid south. We can do that easier than the democrats can carry a single southern state. The people of the south are taken with the Omaha platform. It suits them. The elimination of the republicans has emancipated the south, and the colored and white people alike will vote their choice of tickets. We will carry the entire west solid. Our party will get the entire silver vote, since there is no choice on that line between Cleveland and Harrison. The republicans lost nine states in 1890 which they held two years before. To win they must regain those states and carry all the silver states, and this they cannot do.

"The recent election in Alabama gave us half the legislature, and but for fraud perpetrated by the democrats we would have carried everything. From 95,000 Jones fell to 7,000 majority. During my campaign, which began in Indiana, I have seen wonderful demonstrations. Thousands have flocked to hear me speak wherever I stopped. No; there is no power on earth that can defeat us. Providence is behind this movement. It has been coming for years, and the people will no longer be oppressed. It is a fight between labor and capital, and labor is in the vast majority. I want to say that we have been asked to divide our electors with the democrats, but we have refused. This is not a campaign to be dropped just before election. We are in it to win, and we will win or suffer defeat."

Funeral Notice.

To The Public.

I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the public, as I do to my friends and patrons. I need it myself after other well-known remedies had failed, and it cured me in a few minutes. I recommend it candidly and cheerfully upon its merits, not from a financial standpoint, because I have others in stock on which I make a larger profit, but because Chamberlain's is the best remedy I know of for bowel complaints. There is no doubt about it. It does the work—JAMES FONGY, Druggist, McVeytown, Penn. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. dtw

The Old Times are Not In It.

While at our other store at Big Island, Va., last April, I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhoea. I never had it worse in my life. I tried several old-time remedies, such as Blackberry Wine, Paregoric and Laudanum, without getting any relief. My attention was then called to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy by Mr. R. C. Tinsley—who had been handling it there, and in less than five minutes after taking a small dose I was entirely relieved. —O. G. BURROLD, Harris Creek, Amherst Co., Va.
