FRIDAY - AUGUST 26, 1892

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Mr. J. W. Cox, of Kingsley, is in the city.

The Lion pen pullers for ten cents at E. Jacobson & Co's.

Salmon fishing will begin again on the 10th of next month.

Mrs. W. J. Hensell and son, of Lyle, are at the Umatilla house.

Christian church services in the court house at 3 p. m. Sunday. Elder J. Dillard Holman will preach.

Among the arrivals from the east at the Umatilla house yesterday, was Mr. Warren R. Choate, of Washington, D. C.

E. Jacobson & Co. have but one of those big dictionaries for a dollar left. They are selling fine cloth bound books for 25 cents each.

The cheap river transportation, the Regulator line, says the Dispatch, has opened up a large fruit trade this season between Portland and The Dalles.

There are already twenty-nine candidates for fish commissioner in Oregon, to fill the position which will be vacated by Hon. George T. Myers January 1st, 1893.

Messrs. Jacobson & Co. wish us to say that notwithstanding what anybody may say to the contrary Mr. V. H. Brown, the piano tuner, will be here in a few days.

Hon. G. J. Farley has returned from Portland, and is busy opening new goods. The finest saddle on the coast is now nearly finished at Farley & Franks saddle factory and harness shop.

Mr. Jewett, the nurseman from White Salmon, is in the city to-day. He made a visit to the Mill creek farms of the Columbia river fruit company, in company with Manager Duhamel.

Mr. Charles Van Dym, of Tygh valley, returned last night from San Francisco, and left today for home. During his absence he has purchased a big stock of goods for the trade of Tygh valley.

Mrs. Douthit, of Cow canyon, proceeded homeward by stage this morning. In consequence of the crowded condition of the coach yesterday Mrs. D. was obliged to lay over a day at the Umatilla house.

Mr. E. S. Cooper, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Mr. James L. Mason of Greenfield, Ind., were passengers from The Dalles this morning by steamer Regulator. The pleasures they anticipate from the trip today will be very much more than realized.

The question as to whether Mars has any inhabitants has at last been authoritatively settled. Ex-Professor Totton says it is habitable, but not inhabited; no man, in fact, exists on any other planet, because, forsooth, Christ did not come to this earth to save men if there were men on the other planets. This seems to settle it, but one point may have eluded Totton's vigilance, and that is that possibly the men on the other planets don't sin.

Three deeds for record this week.

The Regulator wagon roadway is being widened.

Dr. Smith and Mr. Ed. Deady are amongst the visitors at Trout lake this week.

Mrs. Powell, the lady who was so dangerously injured, is rapidly recovering.

The application to admit Bergfeldt to bail was argued before Judge Bradshaw this afternoon.

Mr. Nello Johnson of Oregon city joined The Dalles boys at Grant today on the diamond field.

If you do not find the man you want to see today it is because he is up at Grant. Young ladies also.

J. H. Worsley has returned from a two weeks' vacation at Astoria, well spent and greatly enjoyed.

Mr. T. K. Ordway returned from Portland last evening and left for home this morning by steamer Regulator.

Mr. V. H. Brown the piano tuner and repairer, will be in this city in a few days. Leave your orders at E. Jacobson & Co's music store.

Mr. J. V. Mowry, of Moro, reports threshing about commenced in that part of Sherman county. He came in yesterday, and left for home again on the noon train today.

Plans for the new Christian church, corner of Ninth and Court streets, are to be seen at Mr. Geo. Roland's office. The new structure will be a credit to that portion of the city.

A dead axle wagon came into the city yesterday, laden to the top of a high box with watermelons from Klickitat. They were all watermelons at the start, but mostly mashed melons at the unloading.

A fruit cannery is needed very much in the Dalles. A plant costing $1,000 would do the work effectively and save $5,000 worth of fruit going to waste for want of a market. It is only a question of time when every fruit farm must have its cannery or dryer. They do not cost a fortune but they save fortunes.

These seem to be considerable old wheat in the country which farmers held for a rise, notwithstanding the big price reached last season. Some twelve or fourteen thousand bushels of last year's wheat were purchased Wednesday by W. S. Byers, at the Pendleton roller mill.

An old gentleman, a gardener at the Sisters, who was passing down Second street early this morning, was astonished at the flight of a kingfisher, which struck the window of Prinz & Nitechke's new store and fell against the sidewalk. He picked the bird up and carried it home with him. It is still alive, but its days of freedom have passed.

Doc O'Meara, who was found dead in an Ellenburgh lodging house on the 24th was at one time a great favorite in The Dalles. He was formerly a conductor on the O. R. N., and stood well with his employers. He has a brother at Fallsgate, Mont., and a cousin in Fallowsfield, Ont. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias, and the local lodge took charge of the remains.

The latest fad for donating a lot of gratuities advertising to the Louisiana lottery is the talk about its managers offering a tempting bait in the shape of $1,000,000 toward an ocean cable, as well as $100,000 per annum to further local enterprises, and an additional sum to meet half the running expenses of the government, and a weekly line of steamers to San Francisco, if the Sandwich islands will grant them a charter at Honolulu.

WORK ON THE FARM.

The Results of Summer Fallowing and Deep Plowing.

Special to THE CHRONICLE.)
TYGH VALLEY, Aug. 25.—Since making the statement last week that fall wheat was averaging from twenty to thirty bushels per acre in Wainic and Tygh; Mr. Kennedy has threshed eighteen acres that yielded forty-four bushels; Mr. B. Savage fifty acres which turned out thirty-three bushels; some others the same. These farmers, summer fallow their land and plow for the bed rock. The result is a large yield and A No. 1 wheat. It affords your correspondent a great amount of pleasure to make the above statement.

But you know the faithful historian states facts just as he finds them. Here is another statement that is not quite so fine. Some farmers plow shallow, use foul seed, cut their wheat with a mower, and rake it up with a hay rake. The result is a small yield of wheat, oats, barley and gravel mixed. They then sward at the miller because he won't buy their dirty stuff, and makes them dark flour. Such farmers are commonly disgusted with the country. More anon. W. M. M.

A 4-horse team made things lively in the east end yesterday. They started up town at a furious gait, centered the corral of the Dalles Mercantile company, but after getting inside concluded not to stop, and so pushed on, winding their way through the corral without damage, and out at the gate opposite the one they came in at. They then struck out for Prineville, but when they reached the top of Second street grade stopped for the driver, who came up to them soon after and returned to the city for a fresh start.

About the State Taxes.

According to a table prepared by the state officers, Wasco county has a balance standing against her of $1,414.30. The table shows that our county board of equalization returned a total of $2,660,036 assessable valuation for the county. This sum was raised by the state board to $2,942,908, which, under a decision of the supreme court was retained, making the total state tax of the county $3,714.54, of which the above balance remains unpaid. Delinquencies of other counties aggregate over $42,000. Hon. Phil Metcham, state treasurer, has recently addressed communications to the various county treasurers calling their attention to the amounts due, and urging immediate payment of the balances now due and payable. Unless the counties pay the amounts owing, the state treasurer will very soon be compelled to endorse the state warrants, a public expenditure that it is very much desired to avoid, if possible.

Saved His Child's Life.

A. N. Dillerbough, York, Neb., says: "The other day I came home and found my little boy down with cholera morbus, my wife scared, not knowing what to do. I went straightway and got a 25-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and gave it according to directions. You never saw such a change in a child. His limbs and body were cold. I rubbed his limbs and body with my hands, and after I had given him the second dose he went to sleep, and, as my wife says, 'from a death-bed he was up playing in three hours.' It saved me a doctor bill of about three dollars, and what is better, it saved my child. I can recommend it with a clear conscience." For sale by Blakely & Houghton, druggists.

THE PORTLAND EXPOSITION.

The Forerunner of the Great Chicago World's Fair This Year.

A private note from the business-like and operose superintendent, R. W. Mitchell, of the Portland exposition, informs us that premiums this year exceed, in amount and number, those of all former years, notwithstanding the alleged fact that "times are as hard as the winter of 1881."

The Portland Industrial exposition for this year will be the repository of the Chicago exposition of 1893. This should be sufficient inducement to suggest to every enterprising man, woman and child in the state that an unusual effort be made towards presenting something from every part of the state, to the end that the same, at the proper time, may be forwarded to Chicago. They will give free storage and take good care of any and all exhibits at the close of the Portland exposition, which exhibits are intended for Chicago. Participation means a rehearsal for the great showing of 1893. Mr. Mitchell says:

"Twelve counties have already signified their intention of coming in with county exhibits. It is our desire to give every county an opportunity to show what it boasts of, and what it has in the way of inducements to settlement. To enable each county to exhibit, the different transportation lines have given greatly reduced rates. These rates took effect August 16th and are as follows: All articles for exhibition at the Portland exposition, on which full tariff rates may be paid to the exposition, will be returned free to point of origin, if on the railroad line, and to junction point if on an originating or connecting line. All that is required is that the shipper shall present, within five days of the close of the exposition, a certificate, signed by the secretary, stating that the articles have been on exhibition, and have not changed ownership. The only exclusion is race horses. Articles of a perishable nature that, for any reason, may not be returned and on which full tariff rates have been paid to the exposition, will be treated as follows: Consignees of such articles shall be refunded amounts paid, on presentation and surrender to the agent of the original expense bill, accompanied by a certificate from the secretary of the exposition to the effect that the goods were on exhibition, have not been sold, and no revenue derived from them."

"The Portland Industrial Exposition was never started with the idea of making money, or a holy show of itself; it was organized for the benefit of other people. We believe it should be supported, not in luxury and style, but in a plain, every-day sort of way. It is willing to, and has, for the past four years, at least, earned its support. This year, it will present a dress rehearsal, so far as the Pacific northwest is concerned, of what is expected of us at Chicago. We will have a pretty big exposition. It will be ahead of anything yet given to the people of Oregon, rich or poor. For the first time, we have succeeded in getting manufacturers to agree to operate their exhibits; and this alone will attract like a new magnet another woman. All the exhibitors are in with us, and we anticipate a real good time. Come and see us on press day. We will be busy, but will be on deck. Yours for an Enlightened Press."

R. W. MITCHELL.

Our dear little daughter was terribly sick.

Her bowels were blocked as hard as a brick.
We feared she would die.
Till we happened to try
Pierce's Pellets—they cured her, remarkably quick.

Never be without Pierce's Pellets in the house. They are gentle and effective in action and give immediate relief in cases of indigestion, biliousness and constipation. They do their work thoroughly and have no bad effects. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. One a dose. Best liver pill made.

All parties holding numbers in the crayon, at D. C. Herren's gallery, are requested to be present Sept. 1st, at 2 p. m. at the gallery.

A Reliable Man.

M. J. Griner, a Justice of the Peace at Prineville, Michigan, says one bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy saved his life. He had been down with bloody flux for three weeks when he commenced using this medicine. It soon cured him, and he believes saved his life. He also says it saved the lives of three railroad men in that vicinity. 'Squire Griner is a reliable and conscientious man, and whatever he says can be depended upon.
