LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

U. S. timber inspector Bayard, is in the city, and will remain a few days.

The Heppner stockraisers have found a very profitable market in southwest Virginia, where Oregon horses command excellent prices.

All parties holding numbers in the crayon, at D. C. Herren's gallery, are requested to be present Sept. 1st, at 2 p. m. at the gallery.

Mr. Phelps has samples of Mr. Lentz Hood river wheat, which stood as high as a man's head, full, plump berry, and threshed sixty bushels per acre.

Mr. Hood is laying in some choice hay today. It came from Mrs. Chapman's place on Camas prairie, via. White Salmon, and the steamer Regulator.

The teachers of The Dalles public school will hold a reception, Thursday evening, Sept. 1st, between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. Geo. P. Morgan.

Things about the East End begin to look bleak again. Eight teams loaded with wheat arrived today, and by the middle of next week the present dull appearances out that way will change to activity.

Michigan is considering the practicability of working her convicts for the benefit of good roads. Michigan's experiments in this direction will be viewed with very great interest by her sister states.

Mr. Frank Woodcock, who was so badly injured some time since by having a couple of saw logs roll on to him, at Lakes mill is able to be in the city today, but he is not yet able to do any kind of work.

Misses Louisa and Delia Michelbaeb, and Miss Emma Williams have returned from Mr. John Lewis' camp on Hood River, accompanied by Mr. Geo. Williams. When they left camp for The Dalles they had a big lot of trout which they distributed amongst friends.

At Leslie Butler's today were to be seen some of the richest colored and finest flavored peaches that have ever been seen on this coast. They were of the Crawford variety, and fifty-six of them filled a box. They were grown on the Columbia River Fruit Co.'s Mill creek farm.

Hon. C. M. Cartwright has reached Portland from his trip to Missouri, where it is said he made a few Weaver speeches, concluded that the country was safe, purchased a lot of fine thoroughbred sheep, and returned to Webfoot. The sheep will be taken to his ranch in Crook county.

There are some pretty bad boys out at the east end, and the attention of the marshal is called to some of their wild capers. This forenoon a Chinaman was driving into town some of these bad boys pelted him with rocks. He would have been justified in using them up badly, but he intended, but they got away from him.

Jackson Engine Co. have appointed delegates, and other companies in The Dalles department will do so; to attend Portland on Firemen's day, Monday next. It is estimated that at least sixty veteran volunteers will attend from The Dalles.

Prof. Smith tendered his resignation as principal of The Dalles public schools by dispatch from Salem today. It came at a very late hour, as schools are to begin on Monday next, and it makes the directors hustle to fill the place. The schools will open just the same.

If the campaign liars who started the report that Judge Gresham was about to take the stump for the third party ticket ever get into his court he will probably commit them for contempt. The campaign liars should steer clear of the judge. He has a great deal of jurisdiction over people of their class.

The board of state reform school commissioners yesterday appointed Prof. M. W. Smith, of The Dalles, superintendent to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation, which takes place tomorrow. Professor Smith is a well-known educator, having been principal of The Dalles public schools the past five years. Mrs. Smith will be matron.

According to the Vancouver Register, George B. Markle, of Portland, has an option on the Vancouver, Klickitat and Yakima railroad. He recently made a trip over the line and has now gone east to make arrangements to buy the road, in which event the line will be extended at once to the coal fields, sixty miles distant, and thence across the mountains to Yakima.

To manufacturers like the Royal Baking Powder Company, the public is under a large debt of gratitude for the increased purity of articles of food sold at the present day. The reports of the official government investigations of baking powders show the Royal to be stronger and purer than any other. It is quite evident that neither ingenuity, science nor expense can in any way improve upon the Royal Baking Powder as now before the public.

GENERAL READJUSTMENT.

Promising Outlook for Spokane Under the New Deal.

From the Oregonian.]

If the Great Northern shall give Spokane seaboard rates, as reported, the entire rate system for the Pacific slope must be readjusted. Seaboard points, as a consequence, will be compelled to look more to ocean transportation, through which they will still have an advantage; but if Spokane shall get mileage rates she will be still more favored, since she will get many classes of goods at lower rates than the railroads will give to seaboard points. If the expectations formed of the Great Northern at Spokane shall be fulfilled, that city will soon obtain a splendid position in the trade of the interior, and will have a growth not hitherto equaled in its history. It is a central point, it is a common point on three great roads, and many local roads radiate from it. It is the center, moreover, of a great agricultural and mining region, and its water power gives it incomparable facilities for manufacturing industry. During two years past Spokane has been recovering from the effects of her disastrous fire and consequent hard times, and now she starts forward again. Within a few years she will be a finer city than Denver, since she has natural and other advantages beyond those which Denver ever possessed.

ARTESIAN IRRIGATION.

The Oregon Assembly Should Petition Congress on The Subject.

From the Prineville News.]

Congress appropriated a sum of money for the purpose of conducting artesian experiments in either Oregon or Washington, whichever state should first accept it and provide a practical and economical method for its expenditure. This money was allowed to lapse back to the treasury, and the good it might have accomplished for some of the arid sections of the west remains undemonstrated. If our state legislature will petition congress with a memorial asking that such an appropriation be made for the purpose of experimenting on dry uplands of the eastern portion of the state and providing a conservative method of expenditure, it is not unlikely that an appropriation sufficient to the need will be made next session. The objection of mere local import could not be reasonably urged against an act making such an appropriation, as its beneficial results would accrue to those industries upon the success of which the prosperity of the country depends. There is too little apparent chance for success to justify the risk of private capital in the enterprise except when private interest demands that an effort of that kind be made.

It is no part of an individual's duty to engage in an enterprise that will result favorably to the government and leave him no better off than before; but it is the duty of the government to provide all things necessary to rendering its domain eligible to the use of homeseekers. There should be a concerted action on the matter by residents of Eastern Oregon, and all possible information furnished the legislature concerning the geological formation at different points where such wells would be of value. Here in the basin between the two great mountain ranges of the state, there are favorable indications of subterranean streams of artesian nature, and the opinion of those who have given the subject much thought is, that we have an excellent opportunity to successfully prospect for such streams.

FLAVEL IS THE NAME.

Final Transfer of the Tansy Point Property.

An Astoria dispatch yesterday reports the largest single cash real estate deal ever transacted in the state of Oregon. Judge Carey and Fred Strong, of Portland, attorneys for E. L. Dwyer, P. J. Burke and N. G. Reed, of Boston, and S. H. Brown, jr., of Marblehead, Mass., have been working for the past three days with Hon. C. W. Falton, of this city, attorney for Capt. George Flavel, on the transfer of the property on the west side of Youngs bay known as Tansy point, and comprising about 1800 acres. The price paid for the land was $350,000 and the deeds were signed and filed yesterday afternoon. The entire party left for Portland where they will meet the latter part of this week and organize a townsite and improvement company with a paid-up capital stock of $3,000,000. Messrs. Brown and Reed represent other eastern capitalists who were unable to be present at the transfer of the property. The new townsite located at Tansy point was named Flavel, instead of Termania, the prize name chosen by E. L. Dwyer several days ago.

Water Transportation.

This is the centenary year of the New York state canal, and the Press is now furnishing many interesting facts concerning these water routes, notably the Erie canal, which regulates the freight rates on all the railroads east of the Mississippi river, not only on the roads whose tracks run parallel with the canal, but upon those which run in the opposite direction. That was said several years ago, but Edward Hannan, superintendent of public works for New York, said in his last report to the state legislature: "Never before has such a violent and persistent war of rates existed between the trunk lines combined on one side and the Erie canal on the other. The competition was commenced upon the opening of the canal this year, and was continued during the entire season until its close, when the rates were immediately advanced to more than double what they had been during the season." The immense traffic of the canal is shown by the following statement issued by the canal union: "Starting with the navigation season of 1837, 12 years after the canals were opened, and taking 20 years, to and including 1856, we find the total tonnage of the canals for that 20 years was 50,826,487 tons, of an estimated value of $2,586,465,277. During the 21 years last past, ending with the season of 1891, we find that the total tonnage of the canals was 106,844,756 tons, of an estimated value of $3,315,699,291. In the earlier period of 20 years the tonnage was less than half the tonnage of the later 20 years—just 57,518,272 tons less.

Tennessee Jubilee Singers.

The old original Tennessee Jubilee Singers will give one of their famous concerts in Armory hall, Saturday eve., Sept. 3d. A Traveling Man's Experience With Diarrhoea.

I am a traveling man and have been afflicted with what is called chronic diarrhoea for some ten years. Last fall I was in Western Pennsylvania, and accidentally was introduced to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I ventured to make a trial and was wonderfully relieved. I would like now to introduce it among my friends. H. M. Lewis, 24 Freeman street, Cleveland, Ohio. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

Auction Sale.

In pursuance of an order of the county court, of Wasco county, dated July 15th, 1892, I will sell at public auction at the stock yards of W. E. Saltmarsh & Co., Saturday, September 10th, 1892, twenty-five or more head of horses, mares and colts belonging to the estate of W. J. Meins. They are all gentle horses, some of them broke to work. They will be sold for cash or approved security. Sale to begin at 2 p. m. sharp.

Saved His Child's Life.

A. N. Dillerburgh, York, Neb., says: "The other day I came home and found my little boy down with cholera morbus, my wife scared, not knowing what to do. I went straightway and got a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and gave it according to directions. You never saw such a change in a child. His limbs and body were cold. I rubbed his limbs and body with my hands, and after I had given him the second dose he went to sleep, and as my wife says, 'from a death-bed he was up playing in three hours.' It saved me a doctor bill of about three dollars, and what is better, it saved my child. I can recommend it with a clear conscience." For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.
