TUESDAY - - - - - SEPT. 6, 1892

LOCAL BREVITIES.

John Larson left for Colfax yesterday to make arrangements for buying wheat.

Considerable fruit for exhibit is being put up in Wasco county by the dry process.

Mrs. Eliza McFarland is in the city from Portland. She is the guest of Mrs. W. H. Moody.

The next assembly of the volunteer firemen's association, for Oregon, will be held in The Dalles.

Commencing Sept. 5th Miss Alma Schmidt will give piano instructions. For particulars inquire at residence.

Sulkies and bicycles with pneumatic tires seem to indicate that the feat of riding on air is now a realized ideal.

Old papers, suitable for carpets or shelves, can be had at this office for 25 cents per hundred. We have a large supply.

Matters and things in The Dalles are exceedingly quiet to-day. All the prayers for peace seem to have been answered.

Almost every man carries home a watermelon at least once in his life, but a wise man seldom undertakes the job a second time.

Four reasons for being a total abstainer: The head is clearer, the health is better, the heart is lighter and the purse is heavier.

The Dalles public school opened yesterday with an enrollment of 370 pupils. This is the largest roll for the first day on record in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Condon are entertaining the judge's sister, Mrs. W. R. Higgins, and her son, A. M. Higgins, of Terre Haute, Indiana.

Miss Annetto Sylvester, one of THE CHRONICLE's correspondents, is off for a merited vacation. She is the guest of Mrs. Cooley, at Centerville, Wash.

It may be an ill wind that blows nobody good, but it would take a howling tornado to blow some people good—or make them good in any other way.

Humor depends a great deal on the individual who presents it. It makes a great deal of difference in the fun whether the banana-peel slipping is done by yourself or another.

Three boisterously drunk Indians were laid away in the cooler last night, and this forenoon Recorder Menefee imposed a fine of $10 upon each one of them. Two paid, while the odd one languishes.

Col. J. K. Laing, Capt. N. H. Lane, and T. H. Johnson, of Dufur, have just rounded off a fine period of three days' bird shooting near Dufur. Capt. Lane says he had heard of the superior shooting to be found here, but it has disappointed his expectations 75 per cent.

Mr. Dunham has taken a look through Portland, in search of finer fruit than we of The Dalles can show, and he says he cannot find it. This statement is corroborated by Dr. J. E. Cardwell, who says The Dalles fruit cannot be surpassed anywhere.

School opens next Monday, and the boys will need new suits. We can fit them out complete. We have suits, with knee pants, for $2.00; youth's suits with long pants for $5.00, all beauties and in the prevailing colors. In extra pants we can give you the knee for 50 cents, and the long for $2.00. If they want hats or caps, we have them, a new lot, just arrived from the east, all the latest styles and colors. In shoes we offer you "The Waverly School Shoe" as a special, but we can give you a good shoe as low as $1.50. Our stock in all lines is full and complete. Come in and look it over.

PEASE & MAYS.

Master Boyd McCormic, a youth of tender years, left the home of his grandparents at Shedd, Linn Co., at 4 a. m., yesterday, and came through to The Dalles on time, at 1 p. m., on No. 8 passenger, where he was met at The Umatilla by his father, who was expecting him. Boyd says he has had a fine visit at the old valley home.

The first voices of the autumn are whispering in the cool evenings, and, as the night wears on, we nestle to our pleasant dreams, with the blanket in double fold tucked closely around us. The steady stream of returning sojourners is increasing day by day, and the city begins to look like its wonted self. One touch of wintry weather makes us all akin.

The remains of William Rowen and his wife, were brought in from Prineville Saturday and prepared by Crandall & Barger for transportation to the valley for final interment. They were then taken on board the steamer Regulator. Mrs. Rowen died some time ago, and Mr. Rowen died recently, of consumption. He was engaged in merchandising, and was long favorably known in Prineville.

The Firemen's Day.

The entire delegation of Dalles City firemen in attendance at Portland yesterday have returned, with the exception of Chief Engineer Judd S. Fish, who remained to attend the National Association of fire chiefs. The convention will last four days. Delegates from Oregon, Washington, California, Montana, Utah, Nevada, Colorado, Idaho, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and British Columbia will be present.

We have talked with Henry Maier, Frank Roach and F. W. L. Skibbe, and, judging from their accounts and the jolly appearance of others whom we have seen, they have had a royal good time. The veterans and the volunteers threw open the gates of the city to The Dalles boys, and, besides the banqueting and many social events, decided to stay with it; and at the meeting, in the regular order of business yesterday afternoon, in return for the kind attentions bestowed upon them, The Dalles volunteers invited them to come here next year, and the invitation was accepted.

Permanent organization was effected by electing officers for the ensuing year as follows: President, A. B. Stuart; first vice-president, Harry Morgan; secretary, J. J. Kelly; treasurer, H. W. Trembath, of Oregon City.

The Ochoco Mines.

Referring to developments in the Elliott discovery, the Review says the offer of $140 per ton by the Salt Lake reduction works for the ore has awakened considerable interest among the people there, and has caused stock in the mine to take a sudden jump in value. Considerable stock has changed hands during the last week, the highest price paid being $1.12 1/2 cents per share. The company was incorporated about six months ago with a capital stock of $3,000 in shares of 50 cents each, and since incorporating the company has continued developing their property, until now they have the mine fairly opened, and have about three hundred tons of ore on the dump. The property is located thirty miles from Prineville. There will be a meeting of the directors of the company next Monday, and it is thought steps will be taken to put up a mill this fall. The mill contemplated is a four-stamp prospecting mill, capable of working from seven to ten tons of ore in twenty-four hours, and will meet the present demands in prospecting the mines. The Review has always held to the idea that there were valuable mineral deposits in that county and has frequently urged the business men of Prineville to encourage prospectors, and it now has reason to believe a rich thing has been struck on Ochoco, which will develop into a paying and extensive mine.

Died.

The Wheat Yield.

Hon. W. H. H. Dufur is in the city today. He reports peace and plenty in that part of the country. A tract of wheat land belonging to his brother, which last year produced only 150 bushels of wheat this year produced 1,400 bushels. This corresponds with other reports which frequently have reached THE CHRONICLE. Yesterday Mr. P. J. Driver, who has been threshing for himself and brothers, and others since harvest, reports some of the results of operations as follows:

Robert Mays, 45 bushels of barley, 20 bushels of wheat, per acre.

Mike Kennedy, 46 bushels of wheat per acre.

Brazil Savage, 43 bushels of wheat per acre.

Frank Woodcock, over 40 bushels per acre, wheat.

Driver Bros', headed about 300 acres of wheat which averaged 33 bushels per acre. They got fully 3,000 bushels more from it than they expected. All the grain they have threshed is the very finest, clean, plump, and free from wild oats, obnoxious seeds, etc. All throughout the region; a large amount of hay has been harvested. Oats is not quite up to the Standard generally. It didn't fill so well.

Bird-a-Brac.

Carl Schurz is billed for some campaign speeches in Wisconsin, the state in which he first took up his abode when exiled from Germany.

Lord Salisbury, who has just been turned out of office, has received from Emperor William a full-length portrait of that remarkable young sovereign.

The oldest living graduate of Harvard, Dr. W. L. Russell, aged 93, has been playing a game of croquet in Harre, Mass., with his brothers, youngsters of 83 and 85 years.

The French actor Got, whose name is pronounced "Go," is expected to retire in 1894, on the completion of his fiftieth year with the Theatre Francaise. He will not ask for a benefit, as he has saved up 8,000,000 francs.

When the modern young man wears of boarding houses, he marries a modern young girl and lives on canned goods.

Senator Blair, of New Hampshire, is going to run for congress in the 1st district. The last we heard of him he was a candidate for the republican nomination for president of the United States. It would seem natural to see Blair in congress again, and there is no reason to believe that he has forgotten how to be assiduously attentive to his constituents during his absence from that body.

CASS SPEAKS AGAIN.

Affairs About Cascade Locks.—Some Historical Suggestions. (Special to The Chronicle.)

CASCADE LOCKS, Sept. 5.—Events transpiring during the past week have not revealed anything of importance, save the old routine, which is reposing on the couch of delay, and is cause for comment. You were informed that the plans and specifications of the locks and canal were partly completed, and sent to the chief of the engineer department at Washington, and that the other portion would be forwarded in a few days; which I believe has been done, or will be done in a short time; and as soon as examined and passed no doubt will be advertised, if former advices are to be relied on. There is a deal of red tape in the whole thing, and there is a great deal of railroad influence for and against it, continually worked in, and it will be one of the seven or eleven wonders of the world if you or I ever have an opportunity to get through the great thoroughfare any other way than on sole leather.

The D. P. & A. N. Co. flatter themselves that they soon will send their steamers through to Astoria, laden with the products of the Inland Empire, by this route. We think they may, but when they do, their steamers will be new ones, instead of what they are running now.

We hear that some of your enterprising citizens are planning to bid on the canal; also, that there are several large contractors in Portland hankering after the job when the good time comes.

Forest fires, and especially fires along the river, have done a deal of damage. A few days ago, Mr. Hamilton had nearly one hundred cords of wood burned near Herman creek, and several farmers had fences burned and more or less property destroyed. These fires along the railroad track, which are frequent, are caused by sparks from engines, without a shadow of doubt.

HISTORIC REMINISCENCES.

The old block-house, just opposite, is almost ready to lay its glory down, and be numbered with the things that have been. This old structure was built in the winter of 1855-56, by order of Gen. Wool, I believe, and was occupied by a detachment of infantry for a short time during the Yakima Indian war. Just below, on the river bank, about two miles away, was another one, in which Gen. Sheridan, then second lieutenant, was quartered, and where, it is said, he "smelled the first gunpowder." This one has long since fallen, and partly washed into the river, by the crumbling banks giving away to the influence of floods. The place is only known now by the name of Sheridan Point.

The upper block-house, while historic in a degree, has none of the glory that hovers over the spot of Sheridan Point, for there was where men's souls were tried in defending themselves and those who were under their care, against the hostile tribes who congregated at the Middle Cascades for the purpose of massacre and to hold the whole country from being occupied by the whites. I think the last log is gone, and the spot is only known in memory.

Col. Sinnott, of your city, conceived the plan of taking down the upper block-house some time ago, and removing it to the world's fair at Chicago. The idea was good enough, in its way, but if the Colonel will put it in repair where it is, and terrace the hill on which it stands, and beautify the grounds by putting in fountains, etc., and make a summer resort, which he is thoroughly capable of doing, he will have a better thing; and, besides, hand his glory down to future posterity, as what he is, a pioneer of marvelous works. The day is coming when the cascades will be the center of attraction for summer resorts, and whoever gets there first will be in the swim. CASS.

Dissolution of Co-Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the firm of E. Jacobsen & Co. has been dissolved by mutual consent. O. S. Savage has this day sold his one-half interest in said firm to E. Jacobsen and said E. Jacobsen is now sole owner of the business and will continue the same at the old stand. He will collect all accounts due the firm of E. Jacobsen & Co. and pay all demands against said firm.

Saved His Child's Life.

A. N. Diferbough, York, Neb., says: "The other day I came home and found my little boy down with cholera morbus, my wife scared, not knowing what to do. I went straightway and got a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and gave it according to directions. You never saw such a change in a child. His limbs and body were cold. I rubbed his limbs and body with my hands, and after I had given him the second dose he went to sleep, and, as my wife says, 'from a death-bed he was up playing in three hours.' It saved me a doctor bill of about three dollars, and what is better, it saved my child. I can recommend it with a clear conscience." For sale by Blakely & Houghton, druggists.

A Traveling Man's Experience With Diarrhoea.

I am a traveling man and have been afflicted with what is called chronic diarrhoea for some ten years. Last fall I was in Western Pennsylvania, and accidentally was introduced to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I ventured to make a trial and was wonderfully relieved. I would like now to introduce it among my friends. H. M. Lewis, 24 Freeman street, Cleveland, Ohio. For sale by Blakely & Houghton, druggists.

Stock Holders Meeting.

The regular annual meeting of the stock holders of THE CHRONICLE Publishing Company will be held in the hall over THE CHRONICLE office at 8 p. m., October 14th, 1892. Directors for the ensuing year will be elected, and such other business as may properly come before said meeting will be transacted thereat. V. G. BOLTON, secretary. 9.2td
