FOR PRESIDENT, BENJAMIN HARRISON, of Indiana.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, WHITE LAW REID, of New York.

A REMARKABLE MINERAL.

A late issue of Iron, describing a mineral recently found in great abundance in this region, says: "Litho-carbon, which is a mineral somewhat resembling asphalt, is the most remarkable mineral of its class known. It is claimed that it makes a perfect insulator, that as a paint it will resist heat or gases of any kind; that it is capable of being rolled into a tissue free from odor, and practically indestructible when employed in the production of mackintoshes, canvas belting, waterproof tents, etc. It possesses peculiar powers, enabling it to enter and fill the pores of iron and steel, rendering these metals impervious to acids, etc. It is also said to make common leather waterproof, and it can be applied to wood-pulp for the transformation of that material into what looks and acts like ebony or horn. The saturation of a ship's plates with hot litho-carbon frustrates the attacks of barnacles, and the plates will neither rust nor foul. A portion of the smoke-stack of the steamer Dean Richmond, where the heat, through the use of a blower, rises to 800° Fahr., was painted with litho-carbon several months ago, and remains undisturbed and unblistered, while other parts of the vessel have necessarily been painted many times. A piece of sheet-iron, covered with litho-carbon, is stated to have been subjected to an actual heat of 415° Fahr., without crack or blister, and remained so tenacious that the iron could be bent at any angle without disturbing the glossy surface. For varnishing railway and private carriages, painting iron bridges, roofs, steamships, houses, etc., this material acts as an insulator, and it is reported that it will neither crack nor blister under any known atmospheric temperature. At great heat litho-carbon will soften, but it will not take fire at any point. If all that we hear of this mineral be true, it will form one of the most widely useful substances of its class known."

The existing rivalry between Knute Nelson, the nominee for governor of the Minnesota republicans, and Ignatius Donnelly, the champion of the people's party, results from their old-time rivalry in the Minnesota state senate more than a dozen years ago. They were continually at war on points of parliamentary procedure, and as Donnelly was even then a recognized authority in that line, it nettled him to be outwitted, as he frequently was, by the keen-minded little Norwegian. One point raised by Nelson against the Baconian sage was so knotty that it gave the lieutenant-governor a three days' search of the books before he could decide it. His final decision was against Donnelly, to the great amusement of the entire state.

Thirty-five years ago last Saturday Dr. John McLoughlin died in Oregon city, the most prominent figure in the early history of Oregon and the northwest; a man of noble qualities whose deeds smoothed the way for the Oregon pioneers. Dr. McLoughlin's tomb is marked by an insignificant slab. There is no question but that greater honor is due this wise and sturdy benefactor of early settlers.

The projectors of the artesian well enterprise at La Grande have flattering prospects that their highest hopes will be realized. At a depth of about 320 feet water was struck which raised in the pipe to within two feet of the surface. The pipe was driven down to another clay formation, and it is the belief that an ample body of water will soon be reached.

Belvia Lockwood has been talking of peace before the international peace congress in the hall of the Swiss parliament. Yet she proposes to come back home and enter the raging presidential conflict only to add intensity to its bitterness and to give more lurid tone to its wildness.

The New York World wants to know who is the most remarkable woman in this country. Every married man can answer that question without a moment's hesitation.

An effort will be made by a rich Anglo-American syndicate to buy a ton of coal to exhibit at the Chicago world's fair.

Hits the nail on the head —one of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They do the right thing in the right way. They cleanse and regulate the liver, stomach and bowels —thoroughly and effectively, but mildly and gently. They persuade, rather than force. One tiny, sugar-coated Pellet's a gentle laxative; three to four act as a cathartic. They're the smallest, but the best. There's less to take, but there's more good in it, when it's taken. They're the original Little Liver Pills, and they've never been equaled. Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels, are prevented, relieved, and cured. They're the cheapest pill you can buy, because they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.
