FRIDAY - - - - - SEPT. 9, 1892

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Senator Lee is in the city today on business.

J. R. and H. F. Woodcock, of Wamic, are in the city.

Mrs. Cooley, of Centerville, is in the city, at Mrs. Hoods.

The machinery for Lakes new Wamic saw mill has arrived.

Con. Howe's sickness is keeping him in a long time. He is still unable to be about.

W. S. Cram returned yesterday from a flying trip up the Northern, via Portland.

Ex-County treasurer George Euch is registered at the St. Charles in Portland today.

The ways are laid for launching the U. P. R. upper Cascade wharf boat in this city.

Ice cream and other refreshments will be served at the Regulator moonlight excursion tomorrow night.

A special train of fifteen cars loaded with cattle passed through last evening ahead of the regular freight.

Mr. Mallory, one of the leading farmers in the Heppner region, was in the city yesterday on business.

Fred Stewart and Miss Maggie Swan of Prineville were married at the Skibbee hotel last evening by Justice Schutz.

Jas. McGill was proven guilty by the jury of vagrancy, and was fined $25 by Recorder Menefee. He is out of luck.

The Dalles City Brass Band will accompany the moonlight excursion by steamer Regulator tomorrow evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Jeffers, of Astoria, passed through yesterday, en route to Goldendale, on a visit to Mrs. J.'s parents.

The noon passenger was delayed about one hour today because of the failure to couple on the locomotive, No. 546, which had been overhauled and was too high for the cars.

Fagan & Fisher sport the finest line of samples in gents clothing to order that ever one saw. Call and take a look. Fagan will give you fits, and Fisher will do the talking. It is a great combination of style, quality, etc.

Maier & Benton have everything in the party badge line, from Grandfathers hat to Ben, Cleve, Steve, etc. They keep a full stock of hard wear, which would be incomplete without these articles.

The wheelbarrow brigade from Seattle, Lou Howard and two men, who passed The Dalles, en route to Chicago, last March, arrived in the Garden-City on the 31st ult. The dispatch says Lou received $5,000 for the trip, but it don't say that anybody saw anybody hand over the money. One of the trio dropped out before reaching Chicago, and the report credits "Mr. and Mrs. Howard" with having made the trip together.

School opens next Monday, and the boys will need new suits. We can fit them out complete. We have suits, with knee pants, for $2.00; youth's suits with long pants for $5.00, all beauties and in the prevailing colors. In extra pants we can give you the knee for 50 cents, and the long for $2.00. If they want hats or caps, we have them, a new lot, just arrived from the east, all the latest styles and colors. In shoes we offer you "The Waverly School Shoe" as a special, but we can give you a good shoe as low as $1.50. Our stock in all lines is full and complete. Come in and look it over.

PEASE & MAYS.

Klickitat wheat has commenced to arrive.

Mrs. C. M. Cartwright and Miss Susie Cosgrove are at the Cascade springs.

J. W. Bennett, formerly of Arlington, has removed to Portland and engaged in business.

The Astorian notes that Mr. Jud. S. Fish is in the city by the deep sad sea, a guest at The Occident.

The Regulator gives a moonlight excursion down the river to-morrow night, from 8:30 to 11 o'clock.

Members of the Mandolin Club gave an entertainment at Grand Dalles last night, after a moonlight excursion on the river. Mr. Ainsworth's boat was used for the excursion, and it was handsomely illuminated. The entertainment was given on the platform above the Regulator landing, and consisted of vocal and instrumental music, closing with a dance.

Mr. Anderson of the Chenoweth fruit farm returned from a business trip to Portland last night. He is in favor of the Wasco producers combining and handling their own fruit in that market, to realize the best prices. The suggestion is worthy of consideration.

We are sorry to hear of the loss of the Whaleback steamer Wetmore, near Coos bay, from Tacoma for San Francisco with coal. She went ashore in the fog. We had a hope of giving this pioneer in the modern line of Marine architecture on the Pacific, a welcome to The Dalles in about two years. Her career has been eventful from the beginning.

The boys in the dining room fear that John L. will hereafter have to "sling bash" for a living. The Oregonian suggests that "he will hereafter look well behind a saloon bar." To this The Dalles Home Protective Mutual Amalgamated Bartenders Association say: "Not much." Alas, the old bruiser has no companionship left to him.

Antelope was represented in the city yesterday by A. M. Kelsay and two sons, John F. Bensell and Miss Minnie Newton. The latter couple will return as Mr. and Mrs. Bensell, having been united in the holy bonds by Judge Blakeley, in open court yesterday afternoon. They went to Portland this morning by steamer Regulator.

After reading an account of the pumpkin production on Missouri bottoms, Dakota, where a full grown "pumpkin" measures about 16 feet in length and about three inches in diameter Fenn Batty conceived the idea of a cross with the Cello cel, and as soon as he can secure a patent on the process, and an active partner, he will go into the business here.

Fruit and Produce.

Referring to the demand for fruit in Portland yesterday the Oregonian says: "The local markets were active and prices as a rule were unchanged. A satisfactory demand was felt both in the merchandise and produce lines. The fruit dealers were handicapped by the scarcity of the principal varieties, but as the demand was good, the feeling was a firm one. Prunes, apples, pears and grapes find most favor and sell rapidly. It is not thought that there will be anything more in melons this year. Heavy receipts and only a fair demand broke up the business from a standpoint of profit, and all dealers have cut down their orders. The vegetable market is fairly well supplied with all reasonable truck and steady prices are in vogue. The potato crop is still suffering from a lack of rain, and the indications are that prices will be high this season."

THE MILITIA SACRIFICES.

New Phase of the Question of Protection in a Just Manner.

At a meeting of A company, Oregon National Guard last night, one of the serious questions respecting militia duty, freely discussed among the members in an informal way, was the lack of protection extended to the members in cases where their situations are jeopardized by answering the call of the state to arms in times of emergency. It is surely a new phase of the strikes question, and a new problem to puzzle over. For instance: Many members of the New York militia are young men holding salaried positions in stores and offices. It is now reported that on account of their enforced absence upon military duty at Buffalo some of these young men have been incontinently discharged by their employers. They were patriotic enough to enlist their services on behalf of the commonwealth, and the time came when the commonwealth, acting in self-defense, had to make use of them. Because it did so some of these young men, who can ill afford to lose their incomes, are thrown out of place. If this is permitted it is evident that the incentive to enter the militia service will be minimized. To serve one's state is well enough, but if the state cannot at least protect its servants, young Americans cannot be blamed for avoiding the one-sided partnership. The question is: In future strikes and difficulties demanding the presence of the militia are the members serving to have the assurance that by their patriotism they will not incur the penalty of surrendering their incomes?

Current Topics.

Matters about the New York quarantine are serious, but there is a prospect for a fair change today. The Stennington has been purchased to put the cabin passengers in from the infected vessels. Not only are there new cases breaking out every day among the storage passengers of the ill-fated Normania and Rugia, the former of whom are on Hoffman island, but the disease is now settled well among the crew of the Normania who are on board.

Robert Holman was made chief of the Portland fire department yesterday, and the man who will hereafter have charge of the electrical department is D. F. Leigh. Both are good men.

Petition Denied.

The majority of the people at Hood River are determined that no license shall be granted for the sale of intoxicating liquors in that embryo city. The county court was again obliged to deny the petition of Jos. T. Delk for a license today, as the remonstrance was more numerous signed than the petition.

Was he waiting for it.

Oregonian. The president seems to have delayed his letter of acceptance, waiting for the report of Labor Commissioner Peck of New York. It would be difficult to convince the friends of Mr. Cleveland that he did not know it was coming.

Good Out of Evil.

Seattle Press-Times. A genuine cholera scare can accomplish more in the way of cleaning cities than a dozen street commissioners.

THE TOMATO PACK.

Another Local Industry That Should be Established in The Dalles.

Now that The Dalles surplus fruit is to be provided for by the canning process another season, it may not be inappropriate to mention the fact that there is this year a large surplus of fine tomatoes which is very liable to be greatly increased next year and thereafter annually, which might find a profitable market abroad if properly put up. Statistics inform us that the tomato pack of 1883 was 2,943,579 cases of two dozen cans each. In 1885 it fell back to 2,363,760. In 1888 it passed the three million mark, the pack for that year having been 3,543,137. The average pack for nine years, 1883-1891, has been 2,765,446. The average for the three years 1889-'91 inclusive, has been 3,185,769. Thus has a great industry been built up within a recent period. Like the salmon trade, tomato packing met with difficulties, but it surmounted them by energy and pluck. The consumer as well as the packer has benefited by this growth. In 1887 prices ranged from 35 cents to $1.10, while last year the highest and lowest prices were 80 and 85 cents per dozen, respectively. There is a close affinity between fruit and tomatoes. There is much instruction to be derived by packers from the careful study of the above details. Wasco farmers may ponder over them with profit, and inquire why they, who can raise tomatoes by the million bushels, gain so little by this profitable industry.

Unwarranted Extravagances.

Conservative Oregonians will chuckle to themselves over the satisfactory evidence of wisdom in not voting big salaries to a set of people to represent the state at Chicago next year, when they read in the Tribune, which can hardly be deemed a harsh critic, of the methods in vogue in the preparations for the Columbian fair. The Tribune speaks out with considerable emphasis about the extravagance which has crept into the management of that enterprise. An example of what is meant is furnished by the list of salaried directors, who have had nothing whatever to do up to date. The local director of foreign affairs, for example, receives $10,000 for doing nothing except to look important; the traffic manager gets $5,000 a year for carrying around his title, and the head of the department of publicity gets $7,500 for the easiest job he ever had in his life. The head of the Latin-American department is likewise a paid servant of the general government, and gives the fair only nominal service. He gets $6,000, and a similar salary is paid to the choral director, whose duties are equally arduous with the others. The same extravagant notions appeared to have governed the arrangements of the salary list of the hundreds of subordinates, and it is allowed that it is in part owing to such recklessness as this that Chicago got only half the appropriation it asked for from Congress. It is not surprising to hear that a horizontal cut-down has been ordered.

Oregon should be represented at the fair, but until people come down to the level headed way the Centennial was handled by Hon. A. J. Dufar, of this county, "not much" must be expected; and we speak of this to the credit of Oregon.

Saved His Child's Life

A. N. Dillifrough, York, Neb., says: "The other day I came home and found my little boy down with cholera morbus, my wife scared, not knowing what to do. I went straightway and got a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and gave it according to directions. You never saw such a change in a child. His limbs and body were cold. I rubbed his limbs and body with my hands, and after I had given him the second dose he went to sleep, and, as my wife says, "from a death-bed he was up playing in three hours." It saved me a doctor bill of about three dollars, and what is better, it saved my child. I can recommend with a clear conscience." For sale by Blakely & Houghton, druggists.
