JUDGE NELSON'S DECISION.

Speaking of patent medicines, the Judge says: "I wish to deal fairly and honorably with all, and when I find an article that will do what it is recommended to do, I am not ashamed to say so. I am acquainted with Dr. Vanderpool (having been treated by him for cancer), and have used his blood medicine, known as the S. B. Headache and Liver Cure, and while I am 75 years old, and have used many pills and other remedies for the blood, liver and kidneys, I must say that for a kidney ailment in Bright's disease, and as an alternative for the blood, or to correct the action of the stomach and bowels, it is a very superior remedy, and beats anything I ever tried."

THE OLD AND NEW RECEPTIONS

Sullivan and His Followers in Ugly Humor and Neglected.

ONE OF THE TRUE LESSONS IN LIFE

Corbett's Reception at the Theater in Striking Contrast to Sullivan's Sulky Mood.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10.—One of the true lessons of life is taught by the contrast as to Sullivan and Corbett's last acts, leaving New Orleans. There was some uncertainty as to whether Sullivan would consent to start. He had been drinking, and it was feared that he might become unmanageable. When he left the St. Charles in his carriage there were not twenty people to see him off. At the depot there were perhaps 100. The ex-champion went into a sleeper and sat by the window. His face was swollen and looked like a rare beefsteak. He wasn't in a pleasant mood. The followers of the big fellow, Jack Ashton and his pals, went to the station in an omnibus. Ashton was in rather an ugly mood, too. The crowd at the depot gave a pretty good cheer and one fellow shook hands with Sullivan through the window, saying: "I lost $1,300 on you, John, but I'm your friend, and always will be."

While the late champion was leaving the scene of his defeat with so little ceremony, Corbett, the new state king, was preparing for a magnificent reception at the theater where Manager Brady's After Dark was produced. The theatre was jammed and the spectators roared themselves hoarse when he made his appearance. They thought little of the broken-spirited Sullivan, sitting mournfully in a car on a dark sidetrack, almost alone in his misery. The same fate would have been Corbett's, doubtless, had he lost. President Noel handed Corbett a check for $25,000 during the performance, and the champion was given an ovation. Corbett replied very briefly, but made no illusion to the man he had defeated. All the sports have left town and the city is settling down to quiet again.

Asbury Park, N. J., will be Corbett's future home. He has negotiated for a handsome cottage and grounds, located on Deal lake, about half a mile from North Asbury. The property is known as "The Farm," and is a favorite resort for hotel guests from Long Branch and Asbury Park during the summer season. Corbett will visit the park early next week, when he will be tendered a rousing reception by his admirers.

A Pretty Surprise.

A beautifully illustrated and charmingly bound edition of Longfellow's "Evangeline," the most popular long poem ever published by an American author, and one of the most famous poems in the language, just published, is a pretty surprise for book lovers. It is in large type, numerous and excellent illustrations, very fine and heavy paper, gilt edges, remarkably handsome cloth binding, with gilt title and ornaments. No illustrated edition has ever before been published at less cost than $1.50, and that is about what you might "guess" the price of this to be, but it isn't—it sells for only 19 cents! plus 6 cents for postage, if by mail. This covers only about the actual cost of manufacture by the 100,000, the publisher's object being not profit, but to show the book-loving millions what he can do. His publications are not sold by dealers, but only direct; catalogue, over 100 pages, a literary curiosity in its way, is sent for a two-cent stamp. Every home in the land ought to have a copy of this Evangeline, so charmingly beautiful, as a poem, as a collection of artistic illustrations, and as a product of the book-making art. Address, John B. Alden, Publisher, 57 Rose St., New York.

Major Magone's Travels.

John Day Sentinel. In speaking of Major Magone, the Sidney Telegraph refers to him as Old Father Time, the Walking Wonder. We also have a copy of the Kearney Daily Hub, containing an account of the old Man's visit to their sanctum.

After Aladdin's Cave. Baker Blade, W. N. Webb was in the city Tuesday with a wheelbarrow load of huckleberries which he readily disposed of at $1.25 per gallon. The proceeds will go toward bearing the expense of driving a tunnel, which is now over a mile in the mountain, and the same imagination which has attended the old gentleman since the first shovel of dirt was removed about 15 years since, is just as strong as ever and he daily expects to uncover a solid bed of gold. Mr. Webb ran a lengthy tunnel in California in the golden days of the state and becoming discouraged sold out, and a few days thereafter thousands of dollars of the yellow metal were taken out. The old man is of the opinion that that history will again reveal itself. May his fond hopes be realized.

An Indian Trick.

Athena Press. One of our business firms last spring opened an account with a mixed-blood resident of the reservation, and took a mortgage on the growing crop as security. It afterward transpired that no crop was put in but the man got something like $300 worth of merchandise before the trick was discovered. The fellow had other wheat, however, and the firm lost no time in securing themselves. Such acts as these will not be tolerated after those claiming and holding Indian rights on the reserve are allotted their lands and they become citizens, and not wards of the government. If a white man had been guilty of such an offence, he would stand a good chance to go to the pen.

Unpleasantly Fixed.

Review. The democracy have a dilemma in New York which has two exceedingly unpleasant horns. A democratic official has brought forward staggering evidence in support of the McKinley bill. If his motives were as high as he pitches them, the democratic position on the tariff is all wrong. If, as is being charged, he was put up to the deed by Senator Hill, the knife is already out and gory with execution.

History Repeats Itself.

Review. Mr. Sullivan can console himself with the reflection that he but shares the fate of champions. In his day he tumbled Mr. Ryan off the pedestal of fame; now Mr. Corbett has tumbled him. Unless death should intervene, Corbett's time will come later on. He will do well if he holds his laurels for ten years.

An Eloquent Silence.

Oregonian. There is an absence of "hold-your-wheat" circulars this fall that is eloquent in its silence of the wisdom that comes of experience. The calamity orators still wildly howl, but there is not so much cawing and chattering among the dear friends of the farmers as there was a year ago.

Arch Bishop Gross Lectures.

Heppner Gazette. Arch Bishop Gross assisted in conducting the services at the Catholic church on Sunday. The bishop is a very interesting speaker, and his lecture given on Sunday was a good one.

THE DISCOVERY OF CALIFORNIA.

Three Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary on September 29th.

THE PACIFIC WHITE SQUADRON.

Hard Trip of a Couple of Waiters Who Mysteriously Disappeared From a New York Hotel.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—A dispatch just received from Visalia says the town is on fire, and is probably doomed to destruction. A dozen buildings are already destroyed, the fire running up Main street from the east end. The engines seem powerless to cope with the flames.

The Discovery of California.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 9.—The Sun today publishes for the first time the official programme for Cabrillo, or Discovery day, the celebration of which will occur on the 28th and 29th of this month, the 350th anniversary of the discovery of California coast. The white squadron of the Pacific will be present. There will be a great naval and military parade. Brigadier-General McCook will be present with his staff; also General Thomas H. Ruger, commanding the department of California, and Gov. Lewis E. Torres and staff, of Lower California.

Slept The Boozie Off.

BIRMINGHAM, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Station Agent Finch, of the Erie, was notified yesterday afternoon that noises had been heard inside a freight-car standing on a siding, and with an officer he began an investigation. "They are in that car loaded with coffee," said a brakeman. The seals were broken, the door opened, and out crawled three young men who gave the names of Thomas Fox, Michael Jarney and Frank Burke, and said they resided in Jersey. The men were well dressed. They said they were waiters in a New York hotel. Last Sunday while drunk they crawled into the car at Jersey to sleep. When they awoke the car was in motion, and for four days they had been without food, water, air, or light. They were taken to the station-house in the patrol wagon and given food. This morning they were allowed to return to New York.

The Crow Reserve.

Helena Journal. It is now expected that the part of the Crow reserve ceded to the United States two years ago will be opened for settlement this fall, on account of a new treaty recently concluded with that tribe. In the ceded portion are valuable agricultural and mineral lands.

A Great Oversight.

Seattle Telegraph. It was a fatal oversight on Mr. Harrison's part, we fear. He omitted to even mention the Lake Washington canal.

Do You Wish the Finest Bread and Cake?

It is conceded that the Royal Baking Powder is the purest and strongest of all the baking powders.

The purest baking powder makes the finest, sweetest, most delicious food.

The strongest baking powder makes the lightest food.

That baking powder which is both purest and strongest makes the most digestible and wholesome food.

Why should not every housekeeper avail herself of the baking powder which will give her the best food with the least trouble?

Dr. Haines, of Rush Medical College, Consulting Chemist of the Chicago Board of Health, says: "Royal is not only the purest, but the strongest baking powder with which I am acquainted."
