

National Republican Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT, BENJAMIN HARRISON, of Indiana.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, WHITE LAW REID, of New York.

FOR PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS, J. F. CAPLES, of Portland. H. B. MILLER, of Grant's Pass. G. M. IRWIN, of Union. D. M. DUNNE, of Portland.

A startling story comes from Salt Lake city as the reason for the postponement of the case of the board of trade against transcontinental lines for maintaining higher rates to Salt Lake than to San Francisco. It appears that the preparation of the case was in the hands of Secretary Sears of the board of trade. Matters seemed to be progressing favorably until last Saturday, when sixty-six of the most prominent business houses in Salt Lake united in a petition to the interstate commerce commission for a continuance on the ground that they had no confidence in the prosecution. Before this the Union Pacific, it being mainly interested, was in receipt of letters from a writer calling himself E. E. Edwards and offering to sell to the road the argument of the prosecution, copies of all the affidavits and lists of names of all witnesses. The correspondence was kept up until the Union Pacific became satisfied from the reports of detectives and from slips in the correspondence that Edwards was the pseudonym of the son of Secretary Sears. The investigation did not connect Secretary Sears with the attempt to sell the testimony in advance, but the Union Pacific claims there is no doubt of the guilt of his son. The correspondence with the elusive Edwards was closed by the affirmative reply of the commission to the petition of the Salt Lake merchants.

The artesian well at McMinville only yields up wind. It has a pressure equal to thirty-eight pounds to the square inch. A test of the temperature showed fifty-three. It is a very remarkable phenomenon, and gives rise to a great deal of speculation. The question naturally arises, how extended is the chamber in which compressed air is retained, and is the air practically inexhaustible. If so, there is a hitherto unknown source of mechanical power stored beneath the earth's surface. Such a jet as that properly converted would amount to several horse power. If the source is inexhaustible, of course it could be duplicated indefinitely. The doctors of learning will find employment for their talents in formulating a theory as to how this air came to be pent up in the bowels of the earth. If the flow had been water instead of wind they would have said it was forced up by gravitation from a reservoir having a source higher than the surface vent; but we suspect they really know as little about the facts in one case as in the other. The same compressing force, acting upon a body of water, without reference to its source, would cause an artesian flow.

This is a curious political year, with plenty of tickets in the field. With so much confidence of success we are apt to be careless. Republicans must work, and work hard and persistent, this year. This is not because their cause is weak or that there is any lack of arms and ammunition. Indeed, the fight before them is probably harder than it would be if there were weak spots in the cause, detective arms and insufficient ammunition. It is just because everything is in their favor—so much so that it may fairly be said that "even the stars in their courses fight for them"—that there is danger. That feeling of confidence which makes a man careless about going to the polls is not the right sort. And there are evidences that we have too much of it.

That was a happy thought of Supt. R. W. Mitchell; but almost invariably his thoughts are happy ones. From expressions of opinions heard on all sides from the Odd Fellows who visited our great Portland Exposition last night, the conclusion can be reached that they were surprised at the splendid showing, and will carry away flattering impressions of the resources and industries of Oregon.

Persons whose zeal outruns their discretion and whose tempers discount their judgment do not take disagreeable consequences into consideration when joining a mob or urging men to violence. It is the old lesson, older than the proverb which declares that "the prudent man foreseeth evil and hideth himself, but the simple pass on and are punished."

They poulticed her feet and poulticed her head. And blistered her back till it was smarting and red. And she said, "Oh, how I wish it was nothing but 'nerves'!"

The torturing pains and distressing nervousness which accompany, at times, certain forms of "female weakness" yield like magic to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and adapted to the delicate organization of woman.

It's a legitimate medicine—an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening urvaine, and a positive remedy for "female weaknesses" and ailments. All functional disturbances, irregularities, and derangements are cured by it. There's nothing like it in the way it acts—there's nothing like it in the way it's sold. It's guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or the money paid for it is promptly refunded.

Read the guarantee on the wrapper. You lose nothing if it doesn't help you—but it will.
