

W. E. GARRETSON,
Leading Jeweler.

SOLE AGENT FOR THE

All Watch Work Warranted.

Jewelry Made to Order.
138 Second St., The Dalles, Or.

Kranich and Bach Pianos.

Recognized as Standards of the highest grade of manufacture.

JUDGE NELSON'S DECISION.

Speaking of patent medicines, the Judge says: "I wish to deal fairly and honorably with all, and when I find an article that will do what it is recommended to do, I am not ashamed to say so. I am acquainted with Dr. Vanderpool (having been treated by him for cancer), and have used his blood medicine, known as the S. B. Headache and Liver Cure, and while I am 75 years old, and have used many pills and other remedies for the blood, liver and kidneys, I must say that for a kidney tonic in Bright's disease, and as an alternative for the blood, or to correct the action of the stomach and bowels, it is a very superior remedy, and beats anything I ever tried."
J. B. NELSON,
Yakima, Wash.

At 50 cents a bottle. It is the poor man's friend and family doctor.

JOHN PASHEK,
Merchant - Tailor,

Next door to Wasco Sun.

Just Received, a fine stock of Suitings, Pants Patterns, etc., of all latest Styles, at Low Prices.

Madison's Latest System used in cutting garments, and a fit guaranteed each time.

Repairing and Cleaning Neatly and Quickly Done.

CHAR. STUBLING. OWEN WILLIAMS.

Stubling & Williams,
The Germania,
SECOND ST.,
THE DALLES, - OREGON

Dealers in Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Milwaukee Beer on Draught.

W. H. Young,
Blacksmith & Wagon Shop

General Blacksmithing and Work done promptly, and all work Guaranteed.

Horse Shoeing a Speciality

Third Street, opposite the old Liebe Stand.

The St. Charles Hotel,
PORTLAND, OREGON.

This old, popular and reliable house has been entirely refurnished, and every room has been repapered and repainted and newly carpeted throughout. The house contains 170 rooms and is supplied with every modern convenience. Rates reasonable. A good restaurant attached to the house. Free bus to and from all trains.

C. W. KNOWLES, Prop.

Clothing.

* * *

Our Fall Line

Of Clothing and Furnishing Goods is now complete. You can

Save Money

By seeing our stock before making your purchases.

A. M. Williams & Co.

DRUGS

SNIPES & KINERSLY.

—THE LEADING—

Wholesale and Retail Druggists.

PURE DRUGS

Handled by Three Registered Druggists.

ALSO ALL THE LEADING

Patent Medicines and Druggists Sundries,
HOUSE PAINTS, OILS AND GLASS.

Agents for Murphy's Fine Varnishes and the only agents in the City for The Sherwin, Williams Co.'s Paints.

—WE ARE—

The Largest Dealers in Wall Paper.

Finest Line of Imported Key West and Domestic Cigars.
Agent for Tansill's Punch.

129 Second Street, The Dalles, Oregon

J. O. MACK,

FINE WINES and LIQUORS

DOMESTIC AND KEY WEST CIGARS.

THE CELEBRATED PABST BEER.

FRENCH'S BLOCK.

171 SECOND STREET, THE DALLES, OR.

WM. BUTLER & CO.,

—DEALERS IN—

Building Material, Rough and Dressed

Lumber, Lime, Plaster, Hair and Cement.

A liberal discount to the trade in all lines handled by us.

JEFFERSON STREET, between Second and Railroad, THE DALLES, OR

DOLPH IN PORTLAND.

He Opens the Campaign With a Rousing Demonstration.

THE MARINE BAND AT THE HEAD.

The Plaza Crowded With Enthusiastic Citizens and Visitors.

PROCESSION TO THE TABERNACLE.

A Whirlwind of Greeting--The Grand old Party--About Harrison--A Stirring Speech.

The republican campaign opened in Portland with a rousing demonstration Saturday night. Chief of police Spencer, says the Oregonian report, may have had good grounds for arresting every participant for disturbing the peace, but it was a disturbance that was appreciated and applauded by the thousands who thronged the sidewalks, and in many cases obstructed the street crossings. A more hilarious crowd was never before seen in a public demonstration at Portland. There were several bands in the procession, the marine band at the head, which took in a large part of the city. A halt was made at the plaza, which was crowded with enthusiastic citizens and visitors. The Vancouver republicans turned out in large numbers. The procession was a pretty one. Three bands played, and the capes of the flambeau bearers cut quite a figure. There were transparencies in abundance, and the mottoes were appropriate. The Blaine club displayed a handsome transparency on which were painted in colors the pictures of Harrison and Reid. This was partly responsible for the deafening cheers that greeted the popular club along the line. When the procession reached the tabernacle it was soon filled with people, and it was an inspiring scene that Senator Dolph gazed upon when he stepped to the front of the platform, and it was a whirlwind greeting that the senator received. For fully two minutes he was prevented by the din from doing ought but bow appreciation for the great compliment bestowed upon him, but just as soon as there was a lull in the storm he plunged right into an address that kept his audience interested for two hours.

"It would be pleasant," he began, "to talk to you about something upon which we all agree, but politics is my theme to-night, and politics means difference of opinion. My politics are known to you. My first vote for the republican party was cast in 1856, and my first speech in advocacy of republican principles was delivered when Lincoln was at the head of the ticket. I cast my lot with the republican party because it represented my views on the slavery question, and since that time it has steadily been in accordance with my views on all great issues. I have always urged party organization as the surest means of perpetuating the republican party's supremacy and attaining its ends. When I last addressed you, two years ago, I dwelt upon the importance of the congressional campaign then pending, and Oregon elected two republicans to congress. I also referred to the still greater contest in which the parties are now involved. Even then it was evident that Cleveland would be the democratic candidate for the presidency, and Harrison's splendid administration has already assured him a re-nomination. Then I said that the people would soon be called upon to decide whether we shall continue to have our rivers and harbors improved, our old soldiers treated with justice, our fishermen protected in their rights, our wool grown at home and our lumber interests advanced. Now you are called upon to decide those questions. I am not afraid of your decision. Last June I heard that the republicans of Portland fall away sometimes in local contests, but they are always firm in a presidential campaign. Let this statement be verified by a rousing majority in this county for Harrison and Reid."

When the applause subsided sufficiently to enable the senator to proceed, he gave a brief review of the republican party's record. "Today," he continued, "the party that liberated the slave and bestowed upon the nation a splendid prosperity, is working hard as ever to promote the country's welfare. It is advocating the establishment of a navy commensurate with the nation's maritime importance, is urging an increase of our merchant marine, is doing everything to enhance the popular happiness. What does the democratic party offer to offset these promised boons? The conduct of its overwhelming majority in the house indicates what the party would do if it had the entire control of the government."

The senator's eulogy of Harrison was an eloquent effort. "Four years ago," he said, "the people elected Benjamin Harrison because of the principles he represented and because of his distinguished and patriotic services as soldier, lawyer and senator. Since his election he has grown vastly in favor with the people. They have heard his fit and clean-cut speeches, and they have admired the statesmanship displayed in his executive acts. His foreign policy, vigorous while conservative, has enhanced the respect in which our flag is held abroad and assured the people at home that the rights of American citizens abroad will be asserted at any cost. Under no preceding administration did the country advance so rapidly on the highway of prosperity. President Harrison's administration commends itself, and needs no defense. It will re-elect him and give the country four more years at least of progress and peace with honor."

Hood River Glacier.

OCTOBER 1.—The Glacier says: The water meeting Thursday was not as well attended as it should have been, but those present, showed a determination to go ahead. The committee reported $8,000 subscribed, and a thousand more promised. The committee at the request of its chairman was discharged, and on motion a new committee of five, consisting of M. B. Potter, J. E. Hanna, A. Disbow, J. F. Armor and G. L. Stranahan were appointed, with instructions to report in two weeks. We believe we express the sentiment of all in saying that if present attempts are not successful, that it will be useless to again attempt to procure water by local enterprise. The whole matter rests with ourselves, and if we are true to ourselves the next meeting will settle the matter definitely. It will do this certainly, for if by that time we cannot incorporate and go ahead, we can set ourselves down as failures, and give up the gun. Are we ready to do this?

Mr. F. G. Lenz making a tour of the world, traveling principally on a bicycle, led his riding animal down the railroad track to this point. In company with J. E. Rand, he obtained a fine view of Mount Hood, which he proceeded to take with his camera, himself and Mr. Rand being in the foreground and each larger than Mt. Hood.

Mr. George W. McCoy has written us a letter, in response to a statement made last week that "his rights would cut no figure," stating that the company he represents intends to begin work on their ditch within the statutory period, and that his rights will therefore "cut some figure."

There is no doubt but that Mayes & Crowe of The Dalles, have the finest hardware store in the state. You can get anything you want in their line from a locomotive to a gimp tack, and their stock of cutlery cannot be excelled. Just walk into their half-acre store and see if we are not correct.

It is probable that this is the last week that Cloud Cap will be kept open, though it will take a week or two to put the road in condition to stand the winter rains.

Misses Annie and Bessie Lang of The Dalles have been at Cloud Cap Inn for a week, getting views of the magnificent scenery of Oregon's grandest mountain.

Mr. Cotton, general attorney for the Union Pacific, and Lient. Taylor of the Cascade Locks, were guests of Cloud Cap Inn for three days this week.

We understand that Geo. Herbert is to quit the hotel business to-day. George has made many friends here, who hope to see him remain with us.

An Interesting Move.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 3.—The Canadian Pacific has made a shrewd move by issuing to its agents an official circular announcing that it will assume the tolls on freight through the St. Mary's canal and deduct the same from accounts of shippers. The effect of this has compelled American competing roads to make the same deductions to shippers, which practically nullifies the President's proclamation. It also virtually reduces freight rates on the railroads from what they were before the toll was established.

IN THE OREGON PEN.

The Famous Clan na Gael Case and Dr. Cronin's Murderer.

THE CHICAGO TIMES SENSATION.

Thomas Geoghegan, Now in the Salem Penitentiary, to be Sent for.

THE GRAND ARMY ENCAMPMENT.

It Left Many Pleasant Memories in Its Train—A Source of Gratification in Washington.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—The report that the Times of this city had unravelled the mystery of the murder of Dr. Cronin, was confirmed yesterday by the appearance in that journal of a lengthy article detailing the whole affair. The Times claims that the long-sought-for murderer has been found, and that he is Thomas Geoghegan, confined now in the Oregon penitentiary under the name of Thomas Cloeman. He is a well-known crook, and was here at the time of the murder, but has not heretofore been suspected of complicity in it. He is said to have been the man who actually dealt the fatal blows. The Chicago police denied that they have been looking for Geoghegan, or that they want him on any particular charge, but the Times has dispatches from Oregon proving that penitentiary officials there admit that an application has been made to have the man brought here. One of the attorneys who assisted in the prosecution of the Cronin murderers states that it was always known that one of the murderers went to the Pacific coast, but all traces of him were lost there. It was thought they had the right man in California, but now the Times is confident that the right man has been found, and that he actually sought the seclusion of the Oregon penitentiary to shield himself from the public search. It is a big sensation in Chicago.

Inauguration Next.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The G. A. R. encampment has come and gone, but many pleasant memories are left in its train. The presence of so many thousands of old veterans was a source of gratification to the citizens of Washington no less than to the old soldiers themselves, and everything possible was done to render their sojourn pleasant and memorable. That these efforts were entirely successful were evidenced by the general expressions of satisfaction indulged in by the visitors, and Washington set a pace in this regard which other cities where the encampment may henceforth be held will find difficult to maintain. Some of the veterans were here for about a week, the last days of their stay being utilized in seeing the sights of Washington and visiting the battle-fields contiguous thereto. Now, however, they have all taken their departure, and Washington will begin to turn its attention to the coming inauguration, the occasion of its next big gathering.

The Roslyn Robbers.

The last heard of the Roslyn bank robbers they were heading for the Columbia below Wallula. They have probably escaped. Descriptions given of three of the men, all of whom had good horses, are as follows: Robber No. 1 is a small man, about five feet, three inches in height, of sandy complexion. He has a beard of about a week's growth, and is about 33 years old. He wore a slouch white hat. No. 2 is of medium height, red complexion and slightly stoop-shouldered. He wore a mustache, and his beard was of about a week's growth. A front tooth is missing from his mouth. He is about 35 years old. No. 3 is dark complexioned, 5 feet 8 inches tall, erect and strongly built, about 35 years of age, and wore a black mustache and goatee.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE