Wild geese, floating placidly by The Dalles this fall on the bosom of the Columbia, remind us of that phrase of the "fat duck setting upon the pearly edges of prosperity" which Portland swiped from us back in the sixties.

Figs were raised in The Dalles that reached a high stage of perfection in June this year. Three branches were contributed by Mr. E. Schanno for the exposition yesterday that are marvels. These branches were filled with the fruit in the stages of second and third crops. Mr. Schanno imported the cutting of his finest figs from Europe.

Mr. Ed. Wingate of Antelope, is in the city.

A genuine hobo of the genius tramp was lead up to the Hotel de Cross Bar last night by Deputy U. S. Marshal Jameson, for procuring whiskey for an Indian Caroline. He hails from Seattle.

Mr. Emil Schanno is converting a large portion of his pear crop into vinegar, his grapes into white wine, and is drying his prunes. There are more ways than one to dispose of the orchard products in Wasco county.

A very handsome piece, representing a printers frame and cases, to be elaborately decorated with fruits and flowers, has been prepared by the skillful hands of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks as an ornament for the President's table at the Press Association convention tomorrow.

One of the handy inventions for fruit producers is Chrisman's patent dryer. Yesterday we saw two boxes of prunes going to the exposition that were as perfectly cured as anything could be in the fruit line. One of the lots of Italian prunes from which the sample was taken, was dried in eighteen hours. Silver prunes were dried in twenty hours.

Mr. John Born of this city has tobacco stalks that measures six feet in height. It was his purpose only to produce this article for the juices to be used in spraying fruit trees, but the samples he will show at the court house will inform the editorial fraternity that tobacco may also be considered a prolific product of Wasco county.

Divers have been at work for a week past removing drift in the Columbia about a mile above the Celilo cannery. Some logs have been taken out that appear to have laid in the water since the days of Noah. It has been piled up on the beach, and after it has dried out so it will burn, Mr. Taffe will log and burn it. Some of this timber would make fine material for violins and other musical instruments, but as Mr. Taffe is only fixing for a seining grounds, he has no use for the drift.

A new hatchery for salmon has to be established on the Sandy this fall, as the Clackamas does not furnish a supply any longer. The coming assembly will be asked to take more decided action on the fish question, if our salmon are not wholly exterminated. Capt. Campbell, one of newly elected representatives from Clatsop county, says: "To allow a few selfish cannerymen to carry on a business that is a detriment to the community at large is foolish in the extreme. The Sunday law is a hoax; it was only intended for a political job, and should be abolished. The hatcheries may be made a success if young fish are allowed a chance but never otherwise."

IN MEMORIAM.

Lines on the Death of Mrs. Ida Winaler.

Hark? the angel voices singing
Welcome to a heavenly guest,
One who left this world of sorrow,
And has entered into rest.

Rest so sweet, in Jesus bosom,
In his arms of endless love;
Could we mourn our dear departed
Call her from her home above?

Though we miss the gentle foot-steps
And the smiles of love and cheer
And the voice which softly whispered
'All I leave in Jesus care.'

Yet we call thee not dear Ida
From the world of peace and rest,
But we hope when life is over,
We'll be numbered with the blest.

A Visit From Tourists.

Judge G. W. Lewis and wife, of Medina, Ohio, on a tour of the Pacific coast, made the trip to The Dalles Saturday via steamers Dalles City and Regulator, and after remaining here over Sunday left by steamer Regulator this morning for Portland, where they take the Southern Pacific for San Francisco and the east. We have met a great many highly pleased tourists this year at The Dalles, but have conversed with none more delighted than Judge and Mrs. Lewis. They had their first feast of speckled trout, and luscious fruits, here; and Judge Lewis' enthusiasm concerning mountain climbing and lofty views was indulged in by many rambles over the summits about The Dalles. Accompanying them on their return today they have some of the fruits and flowers of Dalles city gardens, but nothing compared to what they might have had, with a little more time on a week day, to make the collection.

The meeting will be called to order by President Noltner immediately upon the departure from the Cascades. The wife of a member is welcome to attend the association and will be given transportation. The citizens of The Dalles have invited all members and ladies to become guests of that city during the session, and all told, 120 have accepted the invitation. Dalles Horses at Walla Walla.

The Dalles delegation at Walla Walla report having a splendid season. Our Dalles horses have made fine records for themselves, and won many laurels. Mr. J. O. Mack's horses, Anita, Parole, Sireata, and Mamie S., carried the day in several leading contests last week, in some of the prettiest races of the tour. On Saturday Anita won the first purse in the 2:38 contest $350, time 2:29½; and first prize for the finest exhibition trotting horse on the track. When at Salem Anita took second purse and prize. On Wednesday, at Walla Walla, Parole took the purse, $250 in the three-eighth dash. In the same race Sireata took the second purse, $50. On Thursday Mamie S took first purse, $200, in the quarter dash. The delegation will be at La Grande this week, and will then return to The Dalles to be in attendance at the fair to be held here, beginning on the 11th, continuing five days.

Old Nursery Favorites.

There was Tom, the Son of the Piper, Jack Sprat, and Merry King Cole, And the Three Wise Men of Gotham, Who went to see in a bowl; The woman who rode on a broomstick, And swept the cobwebbed sky, And the boy who sat in the corner, Eating his Christmas pie.

These were some of the old favorites, but they have been supplanted by the "Pansy" and "Chatterbox" stories, "Little Lord Fauntleroy," and "Five Little Peppers." The old fashioned pills and physics have been superseded, and wisely, too, by Pierce's Purgative Pellets, a mild, harmless and effective cathartic. They are pleasant to take—so gentle in their action that the most delicate child can take them, yet so effective that they will cure the most obstinate cases of constipation, stomach, liver and bowel troubles. They should be in every nursery. As a gentle laxative, only one for a dose.

Saved His Child's Life.

A. N. Dillerbough, York, Neb., says: "The other day I came home and found my little boy down with cholera morbus, my wife scared, not knowing what to do. I went straightway and got a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and gave it according to directions. You never saw such a change in a child. His limbs and body were cold. I rubbed his limbs and body with my hands, and after I had given him the second dose he went to sleep, and, as my wife says, 'from a death-bed he was up playing in three hours.' It saved me a doctor bill of about three dollars, and what is better, it saved my child. I can recommend it with a clear conscience." For sale by Blakely & Houghton, druggists.
