RDAY - - OCTOBER 8, 1892

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Free ferry does the business for all.

Patterson was a passenger by Regulator today to Portland.

Her forecasts are fair, followed by a milder and warmer temperature.

Fresh oysters in bulk, and served in any style at the Columbia Candy Factory.

The finest line of French and home made candy ever in this city at Columbia factory.

Mrs. Lauritson and Miss Pauline Buchler, were among the number who went to Portland today.

A meeting of the McKinley Club is called for this evening. All members are urged to be present.

Mr. Gehres has located in The Dalles, and will identify himself with the business interests of the city at once.

Mayor Mays is the proud grandpa today of a pair of hearty daughters, born to the wife of Mr. A. R. Thompson.

Peterson, Gault and Hibbert will meet in Portland January 2nd, to make a new constitution and by-laws for the Press Association.

Summer resort bills handsomely framed will be among the fashionable winter ornaments in homes of wealth and refinement.

The autumnal tints of the gorgeouslyhued foliage of an Oregon woodland makes the eye of the tourist blaze with jealous admiration, about Clarno.

The last act of the Oregon Press Association at The Dalles was to vote the secretary a salary of $50 per annum.
None too much for the work performed.

The appearance of the West Side under the editorial control of Mr. E. C. Penland, confirms THE CHRONICLE'S prediction. It is now the best local journal in the Willamette Valley.

The receipt of wheat in the city yesterday, from both sides of the river, was very large and sold at an advance of the day before sales. Buyers are paying 63 cents for A 1 wheat, No. 2, 60 cents.

A Florida silver half dollar of 1790 is worth $10, while the Virginia silver half dollar of 1773 is valued at $2. The pewter continental dollar of 1776 is worth $3. Sam Campbell says the intrinsic value of the latest American half-dollar is 35 cents.

The Dalles is represented largely in Portland today. Among those who went down yesterday were Mr. A. Bettenger jr. and his sister Mrs. T. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Wheelon, Mrs. C. J. Crandall, Mr. W. C. Rupert, B. A. Benedict, and about a dozen others.

Mr. J. S. Marks is putting up a ten thousand dollar residence for Mrs.
Philip Ritz in Walla Walla. He has also the contract for Charley Logus' $5,000 corner in Portland, and expects to get the contract for E. P. Brown's $100,000 corner, on Hawthorn avenue.
He has an excellent opinion of The Dalles.

Geo. H. Himes has been appointed Historian for the Oregon Press Association. George would make a good historian for Oregon, as it was in the days of '49.

Deputy United States Marshal James-son took his hobs to Portland yesterday to stand trial on charge of selling or procuring liquors for Indians. He will pull the joint next.

There was just enough rain this morning to make the cinders stick to the door knobs on the passenger coaches. By this means the cinders were widely smeared abroad in the city.

A sample of barley produced on the dry hills by Hon. R. H. Darnille was left at this office today. It threshed sixty bushels to the acre, and the straw averaged four feet in height.

The U. P. R. working force below The Dalles have done an immense work this season. The construction trains are still at work putting from 150 to 200 car loads per day of shell rock into the gaps heretofore bridged.

Mr. C. L. Phillips has nearly lost his identity in the business circles of The Dalles, but to see him flying around the corner of Alder and Third in the Consolidated City, one must readily concede that he has found it in Portland.

Mr. Houghton has left at this office a seedling Salway peach which grew on a tree in his residence lot on Court St., and measures 11 1/2 inches in circumference.
It is firm, juicy and highly flavored, with a beautiful appearance.

Miss Rose Mitchell, of THE CHRONICLE, and Miss Sula and Nona Ruch, accompanied by friends, are visiting Spokane and the sound with the Oregon Press Association, guests of the association of our sister state of Washington.

The Columbia river, like Emil Schau-no's fig trees, is on its second raise, this season. One reason assigned for the rise is that Duke Taffe has caught all the salmon that gorged the river at Celilo and the raise occasioned above is just now running off.

The steam combined harvester which has been employed in Umatilla county during the present season will be used in plowing this fall. It is thought that the machine can pull thirty plows with ease.
It has harvested the grain on 3000 acres this fall at the rate of about 60 bushels per day.

Eddie Michell, Willie Frank, Victor Sampson, and THE CHRONICLE Imp of Satan Harry Fredden are taking in the Exposition at Portland today. The boys reached the Consolidated City at 11 a. m. yesterday, and started right out for a round of pleasure, beginning with a charter of the cable line for the Heights.

The problem of the sand drift in this country has at last been solved, by the discovery by a tramp, that boards set up a few inches from the ground keeps the sand moving off till it just quits from sheer exhaustion (lack of wind) and is left where it will do nobody harm. The tie-walker and beam-rider who made this discovery is now an important employee of the company.

A tourist, so Conductor Fowler says, may be a great scientist, a profound philosopher or a mighty statesman with the logical brain of a Webster, and yet no railroad conductor can make him understand why a ticket bought for a certain train on a certain railroad is not good for some other train on any other railroad. He may get out his purse and pay his fare, but he does it with the feeling that he is being swindled.

Klickitat wheat is delivered direct to the steamer Regulator now in large quantities.

Mr. J. S. Schenck of the First National bank is taking in the exposition at Portland.

It was the intention of the Oregon Press Association to pass a set of resolutions Wednesday, congratulating Maj.
Magone on his successful trip to Chicago, but in the confusion incident to the delay at Celilo, the matter was overlooked. The Oregon Press regard Maj-Magone very highly.

Now that the Oregon editors have seen for themselves what ought to be done and what can be done by the state in the way of opening the Columbia river to an uninterrupted commerce, we hope to see them make a manifestation of the power of the press by uniting their voice in a demand for an appropriation for a portage road.

Mr. Benton Mays, eldest son of Hon.
Robert Mays, is in the city from his Wallowa home. From Mr. Mays we learn that prosperity has spread to that part of the Inland Empire, but it is not a grain country on account of frost. The winter snows protect the grass, and stock-raisers find it profitable to feed 2 1/2 or three months every winter. It is a fine stock country.

Mr. Jacobson has encouraging reports from the Silgo mining region of Mount Adams. A Goldendale Dispatch says:
"There is much excitement here over John J. Golden's recent find of silver ore near the foot of Mount Adams.
Three pack-trains started out last Monday. Those who have returned report it very rich. Charley Slade, the stage man has arranged to take passengers from Grant's through to the mines."

THE DALLES CONVENTION.

Returning Members of the Association Send Us Greetings.

Portland Telegram. The members of the Oregon Press Association have never had a more enjoyable time at any of their annual excursions than at the one recently held at The Dalles. The people of that beautiful little mountain city were unstinted in their hospitality and gave the visiting editors a welcome that could not have been exceeded in cordiality. Their reception to the editors was the finesse in the art of entertaining.
The weather was charming and everything tended to enhance the pleasure of the occasion.

The visit of the Oregon editors to The Dalles was productive of good in at least one respect. It gave them an enlarged view of the importance of the Columbia river to the commerce of the Northwest.
They were impressed with the necessity for an open river, and they learned from actual observation that the surest reliance for opening the river was by means of state appropriations, hence they adopted a resolution memorializing the next legislature to make immediate provisions for building a state road to Celilo falls.

The editors looked upon the unfinished work at the cascade locks, and saw there a monument of extravagance and useless waste of time. There has been time and money enough expended there under federal supervision to have built a dozen locks. While the work at the cascades has been progressing, the Suez canal has been completed, and the "Soo" canal has been built. As a result of the latter improvement, wheat is now being shipped from Duluth to Liverpool for less than it costs to ship it from The Dalles to Portland.

Our Friends at Sea.

WHY FOR THE CHRONICLE.
On sails our brave Anaconda, O'er the waters dark and blue, Sailing at storm or tempest Bearing her gallant crew.

Happy the hearts of the sailors As only such true hearts can be.
With the stars and the stripes floating o'er them As they sail o'er the wide heaving sea.
They sing of home and of loved ones,
For soon their bark homeward will turn;
To the hearts that were saddened at parting, Yet still for sailor lads yearn.

Oh brave the wild storms Anaconda, As you sail o'er the fierce dashing foam:
May the Father of Heaven protect you, And again we will welcome you home.
—Jennie.

Duel Over a Senorita.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 7.—Duels among hot-blooded Mexicans are becoming of frequent occurrence in this section of Texas, the latest affair of honor taking place last evening in the Charlo community, Godlio county. Pierre Eldoro and Catarino Montez, two cotton-pickers, attended a dance Wednesday night, given at the house of Manuel Flores, who has a pretty daughter named Francesca. The two dusky cotton-pickers became enamored of the charms of the fair senorita, and the dances of the fandango were evenly shared by her with her two ardent admirers. Eldero and Montez met yesterday morning in the cotton-fields and began discussing the belle of the night previous, when Montez asserted with a taunting air that he had made a successful conquest of the heart of the pretty Francesca. Eldero challenged the statement, and they soon became involved in a quarrel which resulted in their making an agreement to meet on the field of honor at sundown with 38-caliber pistols at 20 paces.
They met at the stated time. Each man was accompanied by two seconds. Eldoro was killed at the first shot. Montez escaped unscathed, and immediately fled to avoid arrest. He is being pursued by officers.

THE DALLES FRUIT RAISERS.

List of Men Who are The Pioneers in Establishing a Name For Wasco Fruit.

It must be admitted that the day is coming when The Dalles will be more famous for its fruit than any one locality now known. Then it will be important to know who the men were that pioneered this wonderful business. In order that they may be known THE CHRONICLE has collected data by which we are enabled to present the following list of those engaged more or less extensively in the cultivation of fruits and vines within a radius of five miles of The Dalles this year, with the exception of two names. All get their mail at The Dalles postoffice, however: Seufert Brothers, M. M. Cushing, Ed & Wm. Sharp, Samuel Creighton, David Creighton, Frank Creighton, W. H. Taylor, Theodore Messpie, Sandoe Brothers, C. W. Denton, T. M. Denton, C. J. Anderson, George Snipes, Henry Klindt, Jos Stadelman, A. H. Varney, Mrs. Jas. Coventon, L. L. McCartney, Marshall Hill, A. Y. Marsh, A. Y. Marsh, Robert Cooper, Andrew Urkhart, H. Rice, A. Bolton, W. A. Miller, Columbia River Fruit Co.

Old Nursery Favorites.

There was Tom, the Son of the Piper, Jack Sprat, and Merry King Cole, And the Three Wise Men of Gotham, Who went to sea in a bowl;
The woman who rode on a broomstick, And swept the cobwebs from the sky,
And the boy who sat in the corner, Eating his Christmas pie.

These were some of the old favorites, but they have been supplanted by the "Pansy" and "Chatterbox" stories,
"Little Lord Fauntleroy," and "Five Little Peppers." The old fashioned pills and physics have been superseded, and wisely, too, by Pierce's Purgative Pellets, a mild, harmless and effective cathartic. They are pleasant to take—so gentle in their action that the most delicate child can take them, yet so effective that they will cure the most obstinate cases of constipation, stomach, liver and bowel troubles. They should be in every nursery. As a gentle laxative, only one for a dose.

A Rival Movement.

West Coast Trade. The "green-goods" man has sent a big batch of his circulars to merchants and others throughout the state again, and his proposition to increase the currency, giving a more equal distribution of wealth, is looked upon as a rival movement in solving a vexed question without third party aid.

A Cholera Scare.

A reported outbreak of cholera at Hel-metta, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the disease was not cholera, but a violent dysentery, which is almost as severe and dangerous as cholera. Mr.
Walter Willard, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetta, says Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has given great satisfaction in the most severe cases of dysentery. It is certainly one of the best things ever made. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

Portland Exposition.

The Dalles, Portland and Astoria Navigation Co. will sell round trip tickets from The Dalles at $3, including admission to the exposition. Tickets on sale daily at the office or on board the Regulator. W. C. ALLAWAY, Gen'l Agent.

On October 7th the U. P. arranged for a cheap excursion land for train leaving The Dalles 3 a. and 4 p. m. at the very low rate of $3.50 for the round trip, including admission to the Exposition. Tickets will be good returning up to and including October 9. For detailed information inquire at ticket office. E. E. LYTLE, Agent.

A Cure for Cholera.

There is no use of any one suffering with the cholera when Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can be procured. It will give relief in a few minutes and cure in a short time.
I have tried it and know. —W. H. Clinton, Helmetta, N. J. The epidemic at Helmetta was at first believed to be cholera, but subsequent investigation proved it to be a violent form of dysentery, almost as dangerous as cholera.
This remedy was used there with great success. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

The Portland Exposition.

The Union Pacific system will extend to its patrons the usual reduced rates on round trip tickets which will include admission to the exposition, selling on
