ALAS FOR ALASKA.

According to Gov. Knapp Alaska is . . . In his annual report he says the lack of proper transportation facilities is a serious hindrance to the prompt and efficient administration of the laws of the territory. Rosy hued reports of Alaska as an agricultural Eldorado, says he, should be read with allowance. It seems wrong to tempt poor men to invest their all in traveling expenses to reach a land where disappointment and hardship await him, and the governor considers it his duty to urge conservatism in organizing colonization schemes for settlement of the territory.

As to the seal islands, the governor says, in part: International complications regarding the taking of seals in the ocean and Behring sea outside the three-mile limit have added to the embarrassment of the lessee company in its business upon the islands, which has already been seriously impaired by the wanton destruction of seal life by pelagic sealing. Only 7,500 seals were authorized by the government to be killed on the islands in 1891, but some 6,000 were slaughtered before the order was given, so in all 13,500 were actually killed. It was deemed necessary to allow this number for the purpose of securing the carcasses for food for the natives, who otherwise could suffer. The governor believes it not an overestimate that the 52,087 seals taken in the ocean in 1891 indicates the destruction of 30,000 more, three-fourths of which were females. Of the whole catch the Victoria fleet is stated to have taken 43,502 and the American fleet 8,858.

Through frequent references to them in the press, the reading public are well acquainted with the doings of Chris Evans and John Sontag, the noted California outlaws, but no one imagined that a newspaper man would hunt them out and interview them, but this is what Henry Bigelow, of the San Francisco Examiner, claims to have done, and the last issue of that paper contains a page of what purports to be an interview with the noted robbers and sanguinary desperadoes. The fugitives tell a complete story of their doings ever since they sought safety in flight, and, although they have killed several of their pursuers, they claim that they spared the posses a score of times when they might have added to the list of killed had they so desired. The outlaws ridicule the officers who are making a pretense of capturing them, and style them a pack of cowards. They are both in the best of health, and have ample provisions to last them during the winter. The reporter claims that their stronghold is almost inaccessible, and that they will be able to baffle all pursuit for a long time to come, so familiar are they with the rugged country which surrounds them. Bigelow says the settlers about the vicinity of the desperadoes haunt, are particularly down on the posse who have been saucy and mean to them as they passed through the country.

P. J. Connolly, "Peter the poet," at Klamath falls, could not come to the Press Association convention as much as he desired, as the interest of his Star was in the ascendancy.

A gentleman who has lately revised his politics has been explaining "why I am a populist." We infer that a disrespect for his native language had something to do with it.

Sixteen Chinese have submitted to being photographed and registered. The six companies are not entirely superior authority to the United States.

Chicago is going to build a hotel "in the shape of a hog," to advertise its pork. The doors should represent a hack, at $22 a day wholesale.

Idaho democrats refuse to fuse. Ditto Kansas democracy. This is one of the years when fusion leads to confusion.

Cicero is rising against Hawthorne. In spite of appearances this is not a literary note.

The owner of Mascot knows very well what's in a name.

Checked—the frightful inroads of Scrofula and all blood-taints. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses the system of all impurities, and restores health and strength. It cures all diseases arising from impure blood. Consumption is one of them. It's simply lung-scrofula. In all its earlier stages, the "Discovery" effects a cure. It's easy to see why. The medicine that masters scrofula in one part, is the best remedy for it in another. It is the best. It's warranted. It's the only blood and lung remedy that's guaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money will be refunded. No other medicine of its class does it. How many would be left if they did?

It's the cheapest blood-purifier, sold through druggists, (no matter how many doses are offered for a dollar,) because you only pay for the good you get.

Your money is returned if it doesn't benefit or cure you.

Stock Holders Meeting.

Directors for the ensuing year will be elected, and such other business as may properly come before said meeting will be transacted thereat. V. G. BOLTON, secretary.

Too Much of a Risk.

It is not unusual for colds contracted in the fall to hang on all winter. In such cases catarrh or chronic bronchitis are almost sure to result. A fifty cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure any cold. Can you afford to risk so much for so small an amount? This remedy is intended especially for bad colds and croup and can always be depended upon. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.
