OFFICIAL PAPER OF DALLES CITY AND WASCOCO COUNTY.

National Republican Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT, BENJAMIN HARRISON, of Indiana.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, WHITELEW REID, of New York.

FOR PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS, J. F. CAPLES, of Portland. H. B. MILLER, of Grant's Pass. G. M. IRWIN, of Union. D. M. DUNNE, of Portland.

TO BRIDGE THE ENGLISH CHANNEL.

One of the most recent of the many large projects advanced by modern engineers is a proposition devised by two Frenchmen, Messrs. Hienant and Schneider, for the bridging of the English channel. Schemes for traversing that bit of agitated brine have not been rare. The idea of the tunnel has been suggested repeatedly. Boats which would overcome the sickening pounding of choppy waves have been peculiar opportunities for winning fame by flying over the difficulty. The bridge plans of the French engineers are believed to be at least possible of completion, but numerous objections have already been advanced. First of these is the moral certainty that the bridges would be constructed at immense cost of life. During the construction of the Forth bridge, where caissons had to be sunk to a depth of only twenty-four meters, many workmen died and many more became decrepit for life. Compressed air is not good for steady inhalation. It begets anemia, paralysis and congestion. The depths whereto the caissons in the channel would be sunk are far greater than at Forth, and the treachery of the ill-famed channel waves would make bridge-building still more precarious. It would be an immense convenience to travel from Paris to London without a dose of mal de mer. Mercantile interests might also gain from the shortening of the time of freight between the two capitals. But it is questionable whether the advantages to be obtained would repay the world for its trouble.

The Illinois Pentagraph last week, before the election which "snowed Weaver under" in Georgia, commenting upon the inevitable, said: "General Weaver must be aware of the fact that when the people's party orators want to speak anywhere in the North they are given a respectful hearing, although the republicans of this section fully realize that the only effect of the populist ticket, if it carries any Northern state, will be to throw the next election of the next president into the democratic house. The difference in the treatment accorded the populist candidate in the republican North and the democratic South must be apparent to Weaver and must convince him that he is playing into the hands of his worst enemies in seeking to carry any of the states of the Northwest. The thing then for Weaver to do is to come home and withdraw his name from the race and take the stump for President Harrison. It is only when the principle of free debate and honest ballot is fully established in the South that any other party than the democratic will have a ghost of a show, and it is only by keeping the republican party in power that this principle can be eventually established in all sections of the country."

Henry Watterson is responsible for the remark that "Mr. Cleveland, in his letter of acceptance, drives straight to the root of the tariff question." If so why did Mr. Watterson at the Chicago convention ruthlessly set aside the free-for-all plank of Major Jones and others on the tariff and demand an out and out free trade plank? And why does Mr. Watterson insist that any democrat who is not a free trader had better leave the party and join the republican? Mr. Cleveland's letter says that its author is not a free trader, then how does he "drive straight to the root of the tariff question?" It appears to us that Mr. Watterson is endeavoring to hedge.

An old farmer up in Polk county, who has been voting the democratic ticket for forty years, tells the Valley Transcript that he thinks the time has come to turn over a new political leaf. He finds that the products of his farm bring him more money now, on the average, than ever before; and at the same time the money goes farther in purchases. This is the kind of oppression that the farmers throughout the country are heartily in favor of.

Since the republican party placed a protective tariff on wool in 1861, domestic production of fleeces and American manufacture of woolsens have increased 500 per cent. as shown by the statistics compiled by the government. If the Sun is foolish enough to call for free wool and protected woolsens in the face of these facts, let it sail in.

Always open - the offer made by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It's a reward of $500 cash for an incurable case of catarrh, no matter how bad, or of how long standing. They'll carry it out, too. It's a very one thing to make the offer. It's a very different thing to make it good. It couldn't be done, except with an extraordinary medicine. But that's what they have. By its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Remedy cures the worst cases. It doesn't simply palliate for a time, or drive the disease to the lungs. It produces a perfect and permanent cure. Try it and see.

If you can't be cured, you'll be paid. The only question is - are you willing to make the test, if the makers are willing to take the risk?

If so, the rest is easy. You pay your druggist fifty cents and the trial begins. If you're wanting the $500 you'll get something better - a cure!

Stock Holders Meeting. The regular annual meeting of the stock holders of THE CHRONICLE Publishing Company will be held in the hall over THE CHRONICLE office at 8 p. m., October 14th, 1892. Directors for the ensuing year will be elected, and such other business as may properly come before said meeting will be transacted thereat. V. G. BOLTOX, secretary. 9.2td

Too Much of a Risk. It is not unusual for colds contracted in the fall to hang on all winter. In such cases catarrh or chronic bronchitis are almost sure to result. A fifty cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure any cold. Can you afford to risk so much for so small an amount? This remedy is intended especially for bad colds and croup and can always be depended upon. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

WINANS

THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large sightly lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil, pure cold water and shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort and for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is also unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 150 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse power in its dashing streams and waterfalls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufacturing will center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agriculture, and with transportation already assured you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.
