Wanted to See the Soldiers.

A wealthy New York lady who has traveled much abroad, but who knows very little about her own country, was in Washington a few days ago for the first time. She was taken to the White House by an influential friend, and through his intercession the private apartments of the house were opened up to her, and she had an exceptional opportunity to inspect the numerous beauties of the dignified but modest mansion. As she was being helped into her carriage on departing, a shade of disappointment was detected in her face. "Well, what do you think of it?" her friend inquired.

"I must confess to a very keen disappointment," was the reply. "The rooms are all very prettily decorated, and some of them are dignified and impressive, but I am sorry not to have seen the military."

It appeared on further inquiry that this un-Americanized New Yorker had fully expected to find the president's mansion surrounded by a military guard in full uniform, and she was vehement in her assertions that the German way was "ever so much better than ours." - New York Recorder.

Man's Duty to Man.

The father may think to hide certain parts of his character from his child, not wishing him to imitate them, and may give him precepts that he has never followed, but the child absorbs what he fancies is concealed and forgets the words which contradict it. Commands and exhortations may produce or restrain certain acts, but they are powerless to inspire emotions or create desires. Often they have a reverse effect.

To give every one his due, to refrain from taking unfair advantage, or in any way enriching one's self at the expense of another, are supposed to be duties which are simply to be inculcated and obeyed, yet how is the desire of gain, so intense in many minds, to be made to yield when it conflicts with these duties? Chiefly by crediting with in the breast a stronger desire for justice and integrity. The love of rectitude, the faith in honor, the desire to deal fairly and squarely with all men, must be aroused and strengthened before any one can be thoroughly and truly just. And the same is true with regard to every good quality. - Philadelphia Ledger.

The Dear Innocents.

Some Detroit ladies, not more than a thousand miles from a barrel of salt in front of a Woodward avenue grocery store, recently organized a debating club for the development and benefit of the rights of women. It was their first experience, the dear things, so they appointed a committee to go down town and get the needed stationery, etc. When the polite and affable clerk had about finished selecting the articles they had put down in a memorandum book, he inquired of the spokeswoman of the party:

"You will want a 'Cushing's Manual,' won't you?"

"A what?" she asked sharply.

"A 'Cushing's Manual,' madam," he answered, moving out of range.

"No, sir," she said, with severity, "this society is exclusively for ladies, and if we want anything at all in that line it will be a woman's manual. How much do we owe you?"

Robert Shaw, of Snow's Falls, Me., went to sleep in a field the other day, and when he awoke he was minus a good pair of trousers. Field mice, which swarm in Oxford county, had gnawed the garment into shreds and carried it away.

Recent experiments upon the electrolytic generation of pressure from gases formed in a closed space have been very successful, and a pressure of 1,200 atmospheres has been obtained.
