MONDAY - - - OCTOBER 31, 1892

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. A. W. Branner, the Oregon, Idaho and California stage manager, is in the city.

The Woodmen are to meet in their new hall for the first time tomorrow night.

The gentlemen of the electric light company expect to resume lighting tomorrow night.

The Antelope Herald informs us that Hon. Geo. A. Young, has been seriously ill for some time.

Three schooners arrived in port yesterday and are discharging cord wood along the levee today.

Mr. Farrell came up yesterday and made arrangements for shipping 7,000 cases of salmon east.

The rains yesterday made the roads very slippery for a few hours, but they are just fine for traveling today.

A band of cattle came in yesterday for shipment by Hon. A. R. Lyle, of Crook county. He has some more on the way.

Grain in the ground everywhere begins to come up in the finest style possible, bodeaking a big crop next year.

Mr. W. C. Gilbert's family have arrived from Chillicothe, Ohio, and he now considers himself "at home" in The Dalles.

Today ends the St. Charles cream exhibits in The Dalles. The lady attendants go to Portland tomorrow by steamer Regulator.

N. J. Sinnott has been invited to accompany Hon. Binger Hermann to Dufur Wednesday, and take part by addressing the meeting.

Hon. W. H. H. Dufur has a beet field that beats the world. He is gathering the crop now, and has tons of them suitable for a sugar factory.

Hon. W. H. H. Dufur was in the city a short time yesterday. Hon. A. J. Dufur come in with him, and will remain in the city several days.

The U. P. R. Co. have decided to make the Hotel Erhart at Umatilla first class in every respect. An elevator, electric bells, etc., are to be put in.

Judge M. L. Olmstead of Baker City, paid The Dalles a "flying visit" yesterday. Especially when overtaking the train upon his departure at 1 o'clock p. m.

Justice Clarke's court is in session today, wrestling with a civil action for money, entitled Craft v. Lenning. Dufur & Menefee for plaintiff; Story for defendant.

Mr. A. G. Johnson returned from a hasty trip up into Sherman county yesterday. He says the farmers are all very busy and are showing their hopefulness of the future by their works.

Mrs. Juker, an old time resident of The Dalles, is in the city visiting friends.

The Athena Press, in its zeal to do Cleveland a good turn, forgets decency in its references to Senator Dolph at Pendleton. "Right wrongs no man."

Steam was raised yesterday on Kennedy's steam yacht, but she made no trip as the machinery was not in order. In a short time she will be ready to run with Arthur H. at the helm.

A youth from Telocast who had started for his home from Portland and been robbed of his money by a tramp this side of Bridal Veil, was sent on his way rejoicing by Judge Blakeley yesterday.

A plan is now on foot to establish a local industry in The Dalles which will give employment to at least 2,000 operatives. It remains with the people of The Dalles to say whether it shall come here or go elsewhere.

The attending physician informs us that there is but little change if any in the condition of the Woods children down with diphtheria in the Pines. He has no fears of the disease spreading. The oldest one of the Woods children is very liable to die.

The first item to open the day was the runaway of Butler & Co.'s lumber team. The horses took a lively spin, covering the central, eastern and western portions of the city. They stuck well to the forward wheels, and considering the long run did comparatively no damages.

Representative Hermann is making a splendid canvass of Oregon in favor of republican principles and the election of Harrison and Reid. He is a man of the people and his able and eloquent appeals to the people will have great weight with them. He is to speak in The Dalles tomorrow night.

Who says Inland Empire spuds are not potatoes this year? A box of them at The Dalles Mercantile Co.'s store today says potatoes are a crop in Wasco this year, all other reports to the contrary notwithstanding. These were Wilson's favorite, and one of them weighed 3½ lbs.

The Review says the young lady who has consented to pose as the model for the silver statue of Montana which is to be on exhibition at the world's fair, Chicago, is a native of Montana, Miss Nora Houser of Deer Lodge. She has a cousin Miss Nora Houser, a native of Multnomah county, Oregon.

The Pendleton Tribune tells of three democrats there: Bluford Stanton, Henry J. Taylor and John Durham, life long democrats too, who are loud in their denunciation of the endorsement of Nathan Pierce by the democratic machine and openly declared that they will not vote for him under any consideration.

Mr. A. A. Bonney, of the market, corner of Third and Washington streets, has a grave charge to bring against some of The Dalles boys. One of their pranks last night was to run his delivery cart off, and it took considerable time and trouble to find it. These boys are known, and if they persist in such annoyances, must in the end suffer for it.

Mr. Bonn returned from Mt. Angel Saturday night. He was absent from The Dalles but twenty hours, and had four or five hours to spare. Having information that his son Guss was ill he went to see him; but found the young man all right, recovering from a slight indisposition. He speaks very flatteringly of the attention of the teachers, and the school generally, at Mt. Angel.

Five hundred black bass have been placed in the Willamette river above Salem. They were shipped from Quincy, Ill. In spite of all that has been urged against this infraction of the rights of our people, and the destruction of our Royal Salmon, there appears to be no law to punish the crank, be he high or low, guilty of such indiscretion.

Pacific county cranberries are beginning to be an important crop. Last year 2,000 barrels were marketed, valued at $16,000, and this season the crop will be much larger. The berries are equal in quality to the Cape Cod product. The owners of the marsh live in Oakland, Cal., and have been cultivating the berry in Pacific county for over ten years. You can buy them in The Dalles next fall.

A 20-foot draft waterway has been proposed between Chicago, Duluth and Buffalo, and Gen Poe has been authorized to let the contracts necessary, the work to begin as soon as the ice breaks up next spring, and be completed within four years. Thus it may be seen that the largest commercial centers are working for open water communication as industriously as we of the Inland Empire are for an open Columbia river.

The populists had a rousing demonstration at the Court house Saturday evening. M. V. Rork, one of the noted professional rainbow chasers of Oregon was present, and kept just as far from Truth as he could possibly, and Weaver seemingly plausible story. In private conversation at the Umatilla house, he told a friend that he was having "an awful hard time" educating the masses, and then holding them through the campaign. He is a populist for revenue only.

Frank G. Lenz was telling his "terrible road" story in San Francisco, one evening last week, of how he pushed his wheel into The Dalles over 100 miles, when he got into a dispute with a web-footer who thought he knew better. Press dispatches tell the balance: "Mr. Lenz and his associates started to paint the town a vermilion hue. They succeeded in demolishing considerable furniture in Brunnell's saloon and were making preparations to raid other resorts near by, but were intercepted by the police and arrested for disorderly conduct."

The Dalles Portage.
Arlington Record. This question is the most vital of all others to the people of this section of Oregon. Never before in the history of this region have the prospects for an open river been so bright as now. Our representatives from this section will either go as a unit in favor of this appropriation or else they should go prepared for the well merited condemnation of their constituency. They will also have the full advantage of the many artful schemes that have so often and so long defeated the people in their clamor for their honest rights against corporate greed. Our immediate relief now rests with this body, and there seems little doubt of their fair and honest consideration of a portage, which means its speedy construction by the state.

Attention Woodmen!
A meeting of Mount Hood Camp No. 59, Woodmen of the World, will be held in the new hall over A. Keller's store on Second street, at 7:30 p. m. sharp Tuesday Nov. 1st, 1892. A full attendance of members is requested. By order of J. M. HUNTINGTON, C. C.

PROSPERITY JUST AHEAD.

A New Development of The Dalles Resources Contemplated.

THE CHRONICLE still holds to the view that so soon as it becomes known that there is any assurance that the canal and locks at the cascades are to be completed within a reasonable time, people looking out for investments will take a tumble in this direction rather more rapidly than ceremonious. This opinion has been confirmed to our mind upon three different occasions within three days. One of the most important plans for development of resources tributary to The Dalles is the construction of a railway a few miles south of here to a belt of choice timber, such as there is a scarcity of on the coast, and for which there is a big demand everywhere. If the parties who are looking the matter up; there are two separate companies interested; decide to take hold of the enterprise, either will require terminal facilities in the city, and some inducements to place their manufacturing plants here, as well as assistance to secure right of way. The Regulator company have extended to them several favors, and the representatives of the different companies are expecting to return to The Dalles soon, when the whole plan will be made public. It of course depends somewhat upon the cascade canal and locks completion at an early day, but with THE CHRONICLE that no longer figures as a doubt, and The Dalles people might just as well get ready at once for the dawn of prosperity, just a little way ahead.

The Hotel Perkins.
J. W. Hodson and Geo. E. Good, of Salem, have leased the popular and centrally located Perkins hotel in Portland, for a term of ten years, and took possession last Monday afternoon. They pay $25,000 for the furniture and a rental of $1,800 per month for the building, including the bar room, restaurant and five stores. They receive $800 per month for the restaurant, bar room and stores, leaving them $1,000 per month to pay for the hotel. It is one of the best hotels in Portland, is rapidly gaining in favor, and with good and liberal management, such as will keep the rooms full, the new proprietors ought to each make a comfortable fortune in ten years.

Examination of Teachers.
Notice is hereby given that for the purpose of making an examination of all persons who may offer themselves as candidates for teachers of the schools of this county, the county school superintendent thereof will hold a public examination at his office in The Dalles, beginning Wednesday, November 9th, 1892, at one o'clock p. m. All teachers eligible for state certificates, state diplomas and life diplomas must make application at the quarterly examinations. Dated this Oct. 31, 1892.

NO REWARD OFFERED.

The Reasons Why County Courts Cannot Aid Financially in Apprehending Criminals.

In Portland last week one day the attention of Judge Moreland was called to a criticism passed upon him for a failure to offer a reward for the arrest of the fugitive murderer, Burdette Wolfe. For a reply Judge Moreland took from a shelf a copy of the 16th Oregon supreme court reports and turned to page 279, where a decision bearing upon the subject of rewards is given. In May, 1886, the county court of Multnomah county offered a reward of $250 for the arrest and conviction of any person violating the bribery laws at the coming June election. Thomas J. Mountain subsequently secured the arrest and conviction of Herman Wise and Julius Center in the federal courts. The county court thereupon made an order in Mountain's favor for $500, and the decision was appealed to the supreme court. Judge Thayer, in a lengthy and exhaustive opinion, held that the "power to make such a contract is not possessed by the county court." "There is no authority, therefore," said Judge Moreland, "for the county to offer a reward for Wolfe's capture, much as I should like to do so. If there ever was a case where justice would be served by such an offer, this certainly is one. The parents of the girl cannot do so, and I regret exceedingly my inability, to move in the matter, but there is no help for it."

The Fence of the Future.
There are a number of strong points in favor of the Tuna Hedge as the fence of the future, the advantage of this kind of a fence may be briefly enumerated as follows: It becomes a perfect barrier against all kinds of domestic animals after three years growth; does not sap or impoverish the ground, being a strictly atmospheric plant, and will not grow from the seed or by cutting the roots hence will not spread, it grows only to a certain uniform height and therefore does not require trimming, it has been thoroughly and successfully tested in northern climates and does not kill out in the winter time, it serves the double purpose of usefulness and ornamentation, as it is an evergreen and blooms during three months of the year, an invitation is extended to thoroughly test its merits, and every one will be convinced that it possesses all the advantages claimed for it. Messrs. Johnson & Payne are now taking orders for the Tuna Hedge and have met with uniform success. Any one wishing a living growing fence something that will not spread and will be a fence for all time to come should give their orders now and get their fence started this fall.

Oh, this ringing in the ears!
Oh, this humming in the head!
Hawking, blowing, snuffing, gashing,
Watering eyes and throat a-rashing,
Health impaired and comfort fled,
Oh! I would that I were dead!

What folly to suffer so with catarrhal troubles, when the worst cases of chronic catarrh in the head are relieved and cured by the mild, cleansing and healing properties of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It purifies the foul breath, by removing the cause of offence, heals the sore and inflamed passages, and perfects a lasting cure.

A Cure for Cholera.
There is no use of any one suffering with the cholera when Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can be procured. It will give relief in a few minutes and cure in a short time. I have tried it and know.—W. H. Clinton, Helmetta, N. J. The epidemic at Helmetta was at first believed to be cholera, but subsequent investigation proved it to be a violent form of dysentery, almost as dangerous as cholera. This remedy was used there with great success. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.
