OUR MERCHANT MARINE.

From Washington today we have the annual report of the commissioner of navigation, in which is advanced some new ideas as to what is most needed to improve our merchant marine.

"While American steam navigation has been entirely driven from the trans-Atlantic trade, it survives on the Pacific ocean, first for the reason that American trans-Pacific lines are liable to sustain themselves through the association with an absolutely protected steamer line between New York and San Francisco, and the benefit of protection which arises from their association with a transcontinental railway line."

While the tonnage of American built vessels employed in the protected domestic trade of the country has advanced, the unprotected foreign commerce branch of our merchant marine has declined.

The committee designated by the treasury department last August to establish a dividing line between shearing sheepskins, the wool on which has no commercial value and may be admitted free, and those on which the wool is sufficiently long to be subject to classification and subsequently to duty, has reported that the "wool on all shearing has a commercial value, but from investigations made by this committee we are of the opinion that the wool on shearing sheepskins, which does not exceed a quarter of an inch in length on the body of the pelt, is of such little value that all should be passed free of duty; that all shearing skins where the wool exceeds a quarter of an inch in length should be subject to duty."

A Denver dispatch says that Dr. A. J. Overbelt and Silas Hutchett, two of the electors on the Weaver ticket, refused to permit their names to be used as the head of the Cleveland democratic ticket.

The people of Washington will see to it that John L. Wilson is reelected to congress, for they believe that one good term deserves another.

A Boston gang of counterfeiters has floated $30,000 in spurious coin in that city.

Peter is Married.

Peter the Poet, the famous editor of the Klamath Star, last week married a Klamath Falls widow named Mrs. Mayfield, and here is the graphic description of the "sub" gives the interesting affair: Peter the Poet has gone and got married. He and his girl had been fooling around the rosy whirlpool a considerable time, but they were carried completely under Wednesday evening, their two lives of single blessedness being delightfully crushed into one.

A Significant Fact.

Post Reveille. Many readers of the Reveille who attended the encampment held at Washington, were in daily attendance at the Randall house where Gen. Hobson had rooms. And all will remember how gayly and in fact elaborately the buildings in this vicinity were decorated, Grand Army Hall, Willards, Randalls, and in fact every house on Pennsylvania avenue from 14th to 15th, excepting No. 1429.

Shut the door against disease. Danger comes oftenest through impure blood. Keep your blood in order, and you keep in health. For this, nothing equals Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.
