The city council will meet Thursday evening.
Ex-Rep. Johnston of Dufur is in the city today.
Mr. James Kelly of Wapinitia, is in the city today.
Mrs. J. F. Cradelbaugh, of the Gacier, is in the city today.
Otto Yaasi of Cross Keys made us a pleasant call today.
Sale of city lots will be continued on Saturday. See advertisement.
Railway commissioners Clowe and Hamilton were in the city last night.
The case of Craft vs. Lenning is still on trial in Justice Clark's court, before a jury.
Dr. Logan was called to Dufur today to assist Dr. Vanderpool in removing a cancer.
Sheriff Ward has returned from an extended tour of the county on official business.
A. B. Hallock, once a prominent man in Portland, died in Tillamook last week, aged 70 years.
Dr. Margaret Quigley of Portland, who has been sojourning in town for the past few days, returned to Portland yesterday.
The county clerk's office is a business place just now, incident to the coming term of the circuit court on the 14th, and the election next Tuesday.
For a change of the monotonous routine of nothing doing, Recorder Menefee had one d. d. for examination today. A simple drunk, and nothing more.
A good thing for the kickers to hit a lick when they want to find fault is an adz, which Jack Staniels keeps handy, lying on the floor of the corporation shed.
The new house for the steam fire engine will be warmed up Saturday night. Brown is arranging the space in suites, and will have a very cosy and respectable headquarters for the ensuing cold season.
The death of Jake Winters, a democratic hog in Carson, suggests the thought that no republican has ever yet been discovered so afraid of soap as to excuse his ablutions on the score of party defeat.
The exhibitors from this county received $205 in premiums on fruits on exhibition at the exposition recently held in Portland. Aside from the cash premiums, Mr. Heald, of Hood River, received the spray pump, valued at $45, Mr. M. M. Cushing obtained a horse hoe and cultivator, valued at $15, and Mr. A. Anderson a grape plow and farm bell, both valued at $15.

Come to the Court house tonight.
The attending physician has a hope today that unless something happens to cause a relapse, the Woods children may recover. They are not out of danger, but their condition is improved today over that of yesterday.
Garfield now enjoys the distinction of being one of the few towns in eastern Washington where tickets for any part of the world may be obtained, the Union Pacific having recently established a first class office at that point.
The electric fluid was welcomed at 1:40 p. m. today, as it coursed through the wires and notified everybody in The Dalles that business would be resumed at the plant, at the usual hour this evening, no preventing circumstances intervening.
A Washington dispatch states that the president was at his desk in the White House again at his usual hour yesterday morning, and attacked with vigor the immense lot of business which had accumulated during his enforced absence.
At a meeting of Dalles City water works board last evening the resignation of director and President C. L. Phillips was accepted, and Hon. A. S. Macalister was chosen to fill the place as director and Hon. W. H. Wilson was elected president of the board.
Friends of Mr. Hensell of Lyle, Wash., will be pained to hear that he has completely lost the sight of his left eye in consequence of the accident on the 26th ult. He returned to his home yesterday by steamers Dalles City and Regulator, from Portland.
Henry C. Jewett of Jewettsville, Erie county N. Y., issues a circular to owners of speed horses to come there for their winter training. One of his claims is that he has "the only mile covered track in the world." He has perhaps never heard of Yamhill co., Oregon, and J. L. Hallett.
The United States supreme court has advanced, and set for argument the second Monday in January, the cases of the United States against the California and Oregon land company and The Dalles military road company. These are known as the wagon-road land-grant cases.
A sample box of Italian Prunes raised by C. E. Chrisman of The Dalles, and dried in his patent fruit dryer in 18 hours, may be seen at THE CHRONICLE office. This case has been through the exposition where it was properly awarded a premium, as was almost everything in the fruit line from Wasco county.
Postmaster M. T. Nolan is making an official inspection of the postoffices of Wasco county, by order of Postmaster Gen. Wannamaker. It is a sort of thank-you job, but as Uncle Sam makes a practice of "beating" postmasters, much of which is an imposition on the public; perhaps if Mr. Nolan doesn't kick it nobody's business.
The 20-year lease on Switzer island, in the Columbia river, which is to be transformed into an orchard, provides for the planting of 400 acres at once, with the privilege of using the remaining 300 acres if desired. Preparations are being made to irrigate the land at once and within a few years the land will be very valuable and productive.
Hon. Binger Hermann arrived at The Umatilla on the noon train today, and will address the people this evening at the Court house. He appears to be in splendid health, but like many other speakers in this campaign is afflicted somewhat by a cold. He will be able to entertain his hearers, however, and everybody is invited to be present.

The crowd which gathered at the Michelbach hall last evening on the occasion of the butterfly social, given by the young ladies of the Congregational church, was proof that the efforts of the young ladies to afford a pleasant evening and at the same time promote the welfare of the society, were appreciated. The hall was beautifully decorated with flowers, and butterflies were seen flying in all directions, the most beautiful being those who at a later hour in the evening flew by distributing the lunch. A short programme was rendered, which added greatly to the evening's pleasure.
The U. P. R. Co., are now putting a car load of freight into Spokane seven days from Chicago. Should the business justify it more than one car can be similarly handled. In all kinds of business it is often necessary to make quick shipments of goods on which the profit is so small that it would not pay the receiver to have the goods shipped by express because of the high rate which would be charged. It is for this kind of business that the U. P. R. Co. have made the arrangement mentioned and it is believed that enough business of this kind can be secured to load at least one carload every day for Spokane.
The Great Northern has made another reduction in freight rates which will cause a decided decrease in the price of coal from west Superior, Duluth, St. Paul and Minneapolis to Spokane, and the portion of country tributary to that city. The new rate will go into effect today and will cover all through shipments of hard coal from the mines in the lake Superior mining district. It is expected that the reduction will be met by competing lines, which also carry large shipments of coal, but the Great Northern has taken the initiative and this step is said to be only the beginning of a reduction in the freight on a number of articles of common use.
It is plain to be seen that the railways are in for a great many reductions and cut rates in the near future. Probably by January 1st an entirely new rate sheet will go into effect. The freight business of the Inland Empire has assumed proportions which were unexpected even by the officers of the railways, and this business is constantly on the increase. No rate war is predicted, but as the connection of the Great Northern and other transcontinental lines with the Transcontinental association ends on the 1st of January, the roads will be free to make any rate they desire. The natural inclination is toward a reduction in freight rates, the increasing business of the roads making it possible to change the tariff without a proportionate decrease in the receipts from that kind of traffic, all of which will result in benefits to The Dalles as well as other points.
Mr. Thomas Batty of Wapinitia called today and from him we learn that work on the water ditch is going ahead at a lively rate. There are already about 60 men at work, and 50 more will soon be added to the number. The ditch is 12 feet wide on the bottom and the grade depth is four feet. Water will be taken from Clear creek, where a dam four feet high turns it into the ditch. The ditch covers a splendid farming region, and the farmers appear to be delighted with the prospects of getting plenty of water another season. Mr. Batty says the company that is building this ditch may rest assured that they will be well patronized, and they have the best wishes of the community.

THE BEEF TRUST.
Meet Organization With Organization. Is Advised by The News.
Commenting upon the damages resulting from the Beef Butchers Trust in Portland, as given through THE CHRONICLE last week, the Prineville News says: "This same price depression applies equally to the cattle raisers of the plains. They can no more keep up the price of their herds against the attempts of the butchering companies to put them down than can the farmers who have annually from three to a dozen or more beeves to turn off. One advantage they do have however, is that it costs them less to prepare a steer for market at three or four years old than it does the farmer who has not his 'herds on a thousand hills.' The only way to meet organization is with organization. This is shown in every transaction of life.
"Therefore it would seem that the cattlemen of Crook county are in need of a railroad and further development of feeding facilities, which would enable them to handle their own output themselves and thus release themselves from the pond of necessity which now compels them to accept the price of the packing companies and yield to them the major portion of the profit from their beef herds. They had just as well monopolize their share of the beef business as not, and by securing rapid transportation facilities and the organization of progressive butchering companies with themselves as the share holders they might by reason of the number of animals controlled and the cheap manner of production, be able to compete with the older firms for a portion of the city markets that would absorb all their available output at prices which would add largely to the revenue now derived from their ranges. It will come day by day, and the quicker the better, for the halcyon days of the range are gone, and cold, practical, unromantic business is creeping over every bunch of grass on our ranges."
There's a patent medicine which is not a patent medicine—paradoxical as that may sound. Its a discovery! Its the golden discovery of medical science! Its the medicine for you—tired, run-down, exhausted, nerve-wasted men and women; for you sufferers from diseases of skin or scalp, liver or lungs—its chance is with every one, its season always, because it aims to purify the fountain of life—the blood—upon which all such diseases depend. The medicine is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The makers of it have enough confidence in it to sell it on trial. That is—you can get it from your druggist, and if it doesn't do what its claimed to do, you can get your money back, every cent of it.
That's what its makers call taking the risk of their words.
Tiny, little, sugar-coated granules, are what Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are. The best Liver Pills ever invented; active, yet mild in operation; cure sick and bilious headaches. One a dose.

Resuming Navigation.
McMinnville Reporter. It is not improbable that before spring people will witness what they have not beheld for a number of years, steamboats ascending the Yamhill river. The sound of the steamboat whistle would be familiar music to many of them. The work now being done by the government employes in removing obstructions ought to render navigation as practicable as before the advent of the railway, when the bulk of the local traffic was carried on by water. While it is not probable that boats will ascend frequently during the winter months, our merchants and shippers should adopt a policy of encouraging river transportation, and if some enterprising citizen should take a notion to build a boat and name it The McMinnville, he should obtain substantial aid if needed.
Attention Woodmen!
A meeting of Mount Hood Camp No. 59, Woodmen of the World, will be held in the new hall over A. Keller's store on Second street, at 7:30 p. m. sharp Tuesday Nov. 1st, 1892. A full attendance of members is requested. By order of J. M. HUNTINGTON, C. C.
Please Report.
Subscribers will oblige THE CHRONICLE by promptly reporting if their papers are not delivered, or the delivery boys do not place them in a safe place. The distribution of the papers is one of the most perplexing questions to be solved by a newspaper. If you do not get your paper, kick. We are endeavoring to keep things straight.
Examination of Teachers.
Notice is hereby given that for the purpose of making an examination of all persons who may offer themselves as candidates for teachers of the schools of this county, the county school superintendent thereof will hold a public examination at his office in The Dalles, beginning Wednesday, November 9th, 1892, at one o'clock p. m. All teachers eligible for state certificates, state diplomas and life diplomas must make application at the quarterly examinations. Dated this Oct. 31, 1892.

A Cure for Cholera.
There is no use of any one suffering with the cholera when Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can be procured. It will give relief in a few minutes and cure in a short time. I have tried it and know—W. H. Clinton, Helmetta, N. J. The epidemic at Helmetta was at first believed to be cholera, but subsequent investigation proved it to be a violent form of dysentery, almost as dangerous as cholera. This remedy was used there with great success. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

NOTICE: SALE OF CITY LOTS.
Notice is hereby given that, by authority of Ordinance No. 257, which passed the common council of Dalles city, September 3d, 1892, entitled "An ordinance authorizing an ordinance to provide for the sale of certain lots belonging to Dalles city," I will, on Saturday next offer for sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, all of the lots and parts of lots situated in Gates Addition to Dalles City, Wasco county, Oregon, not heretofore sold, as previously advertised.
Each of said lots will be sold upon the lot respectively and none of them shall be sold for a less sum than the value thereof as above stated.
One fourth of the price bid on any of said lots shall be paid in cash at the time of sale, and the remainder in two equal payments on or before one and two years from the date of such sale, respectively, with interest on such deferred payments at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, payable annually. Provided that payment may be made in full at the time of such sale at the option of the purchaser.
The sale will begin at the hour of ten o'clock a. m. of said day and will be continued from time to time until all of said lots shall be sold.
Dated this 1st day of November, 1892.

The Fence of the Future.
There are a number of strong points in favor of the Tuna Hedge as the fence of the future, the advantage of this kind of a fence may be briefly enumerated as follows: It becomes a perfect barrier against all kinds of domestic animals after three years growth; does not sap or impoverish the ground, being a strictly atmospheric plant, and will not grow from the seed or by cutting the roots hence will not spread, it grows only to a certain uniform height and therefore does not require trimming, it has been thoroughly and successfully tested in northern climates and does not kill out in the winter time, it serves the double purpose of usefulness and ornamentation, as it is an evergreen and blooms during three months of the year, an invitation is extended to thoroughly test its merits, and every one will be convinced that it possesses all the advantages claimed for it. Messrs. Johnson & Payne are now taking orders for the Tuna Hedge and have met with uniform success. Any one wishing a living growing fence something that will not spread and will be a fence for all time to come should give their orders now and get their fence started this fall.
