AND WASCO COUNTY.

National Republican Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT,
BENJAMIN HARRISON,
of Indiana.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
WHELAN REID,
of New York.

FOR PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS,
J. F. CAPLES, of Portland.
H. B. MILLER, of Grant's Pass.
G. M. IRWIN, of Union.
D. M. DUNNE, of Portland.

Late Election News—Concluded.

The vote of Indiana is considered more favorable for Cleveland than Harrison. At the republican headquarters the state is still claimed, but not with much show of confidence. The best information obtainable indicates that the state has gone democratic 3,000 to 4,000; that the democrats have elected 10 out of 13 members of congress, a gain of 1; and that the legislature is republican in both branches.

The result in Wisconsin is still in doubt, both sides claiming the state. Chairman H. C. Payne, of the republican state committee, claims about 10,000 plurality for Harrison and Spooner. Chairman Wall, of the democratic committee, stands by his claim of 12,000 for Cleveland and Peck.

The Michigan republican state ticket is elected. The electoral vote is divided by the gerrymandered districts. Returns to Chairman Breidenthal from 29 counties in Kansas show a fusion majority of 9,400. Late returns at republican headquarters show a great falling off in the republican vote and indicate the election of Lewellin, fusionist, for governor, and the Weaver electors. The republican state ticket is probably elected, and Jerry Simpson is defeated.

A Washington dispatch says President Harrison went about his public duties this morning as if nothing had happened and seemed the least disturbed of any body around the White house. A friend said he would lay down the cares of office without a single personal regret. He declined to talk to reporters about the result.

THE VERY LATEST.

PORTLAND, Nov. 9.—Both parties are claiming California. Ohio may be added to the Cleveland column.

WAS IT A LANDSLIDE?

It was an avalanche, and the republicans have alighted, dismounted, got down. The figures in the electoral college resemble those of 1860 when the democracy was put to flight by the result of the election which changed the administration for the first time in many years, and brought on the "irrepressible conflict," only there will not be any the scenes of 1860-'61 to follow this election. The country is too prosperous to sustain any serious losses because of this sudden change of administration. As to the causes of the landslide they are numerous, and may generally be traced to the lack of judgment and the force of circumstances such as "downed" Matt Quay, froze James G. Blaine out of the cabinet, and made Steve Elkins and "Calico" Charley Foster right bowlers of the president.

W. T. Stead, editor of The Review of Reviews, has taken up with his accustomed vigor the cause of Mrs. Maybrick, the hapless American woman now lying in Working prison because she either did or did not poison her husband, and the English lawyers have never been able to find out whether she did or not. So, reversing all law and precedent which hold an accused person innocent until he has been proved guilty, these brilliant British judges sent Mrs. Maybrick to jail. They confessed to having, a prejudice against her because she had been gossiped about. That of itself unfitted them to judge her case, but on the strength of it they condemned her to imprisonment for life. Mr. Stead makes a powerful appeal for the woman in his magazine. "Ought Mrs. Maybrick to be Tortured to Death?" is the title. He says in his paper absolutely that both he and Sir Charles Russell have received the deathbed confession of a man in South Africa—Henry Wilson—who says he and a woman whose name is not given put arsenic in Mr. Maybrick's medicine during his last illness. If this is true, then the cruelty and meanness of so called English justice appears more vividly than ever. Mr. Stead is right in saying that the matter may become a cause of diplomatic complications with the United States. The United States will not see one of its citizens "tortured to death." Stead says Mrs. Maybrick will die unless soon released.

Extray Notice.

Taken up on the 15th of Oct. 1892, at the point of starvation, a light red and white spotted cow with notch in upper side of left ear, and brand on right hip, not discernable, and red calf, the owner may have the same by proving property and paying costs of keeping and advertising. Hits the nail on the head —one of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They do the right thing in the right way. They cleanse and regulate the liver, stomach and bowels—thoroughly and effectively, but mildly and gently. They persuade, rather than force. One tiny, sugar-coated Pellet's a gentle laxative; three to four act as a cathartic. They're the smallest, but the best. There's less to take, but there's more good in it, when it's taken. They're the original Little Liver Pill, and they've never been equaled. Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels, are prevented, relieved, and cured. They're the cheapest pill you can buy, because they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

Please Report.

Subscribers will oblige THE CHRONICLE by promptly reporting if their papers are not delivered, or the delivery boys do not place them in a safe place. The distribution of the papers is one of the most perplexing questions to be solved by a newspaper. If you do not get your paper, kick. We are endeavoring to keep things straight.

Examination of Teachers.

Notice is hereby given that for the purpose of making an examination of all persons who may offer themselves as candidates for teachers of the schools of this county, the county school superintendent thereof will hold a public examination at his office in The Dalles, beginning Wednesday, November 9th, 1892, at one o'clock p. m. All teacher-eligible for state certificates, state diplomas and life diplomas must make application at the quarterly examinations. Dated this Oct. 31, 1892.

THOMAS SHELLEY,
County School Superintendent of Wasco County, Oregon. 10.31dwtd

The Fence of the Future.

There are a number of strong points in favor of the Tuna Hedge as the fence of the future, the advantage of this kind of a fence may be briefly enumerated as follows: It becomes a perfect barrier against all kinds of domestic animals after three years growth; does not sap or impoverish the ground, being a strictly atmospheric plant, and will not grow from the seed or by cutting the roots hence will not spread, it grows only to a certain uniform height and therefore does not require trimming, it has been thoroughly and successfully tested in northern climates and does not kill out in the winter time, it serves the double purpose of usefulness and ornamentation, as it is an evergreen and blooms during three months of the year, an invitation is extended to thoroughly test its merits, and every one will be convinced that it possesses all the advantages claimed for it. Messrs. Johnson & Payne are now taking orders for the Tuna Hedge and have met with uniform success. Any one wishing a living growing fence something that will not spread and will be a fence for all time to come should give their orders now and get their fence started this fall.

Too Much of a Risk.

It is not unusual for colds contracted in the fall to hang on all winter. In such cases catarrh or chronic bronchitis are almost sure to result. A fifty cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure any cold. Can you afford to risk so much for so small an amount? This remedy is intended especially for bad colds and croup and can always be depended upon. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

Hood. It is also unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 150 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse power in its dashing streams and waterfalls, easily harnessed.
