JUDGE NELSON'S DECISION.

Speaking of patent medicines, the Judge says: "I wish to deal fairly and honorably with all, and when I find an article that will do what it is recommended to do, I am not ashamed to say so. I am acquainted with Dr. Vanderpool (having been treated by him for cancer), and have used his blood medicine, known as the S. B. Headache and Liver Cure, and while I am 75 years old, and have used many pills and other remedies for the blood, liver and kidneys, I must say that for a kidney tonic in Bright's disease, and as an alternative for the blood, or to correct the action of the stomach and bowels, it is a very superior remedy, and beats anything I ever tried."

A HORRIBLE STORY.

Murder and Cannibalism Reported in Bessarabia.

TWO CHILDREN THE VICTIMS.

Four People Killed in a North Carolina Election Fight.

A SEA LION IN LAKE MICHIGAN.

Supposed to Be the One Which Escaped From Lincoln Park Chicago—Other News.

St. PETERSBURG, Nov. 11.—A horrible story of cannibalism comes from Bessarabia. A woman named Akkermap, a giantess in stature and strength, applied for shelter at the house of a peasant woman named Yooreski Sariera. They became friendly and the peasant went out to get a fresh supply of vodka when one lot gave out. In her absence Akkermap killed the peasant's baby, sucked its blood and devoured part of its body. As the peasant re-entered the hut, she saw Akkermap trying to kill her three-year-old girl. The mother tried to defend her offspring, but the giantess thrust her aside and killed the little girl with a bludgeon. The peasant, left a raving maniac, tried to kill herself. The neighbors, after a desperate struggle, in which several were hurt, managed to overcome the giantess, and tied her with ropes. On the way to jail the populace tried to lynch her, but she was finally landed in the lock-up.

A Bloody Election Fight.

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Nov. 11.—News reaches here of the bloodiest election fight on record at the polls at Big Rock creek, Mitchell county, N. C., between republican factions. Geo. K. Pritchard, republican nominee for sheriff, was opposed by Isaac McKenney, independent republican, who was defeated for the nomination by a small majority. The canvass was very bitter. The fight was precipitated by one of McKenney's adherents knocking down his opponent. Immediately the whole crowd of 50 took sides, and a desperate battle ensued. Stones, knives and pistols were used with terrible effect. Twenty were wounded, of whom four will die. The whole population is in arms, and more bloodshed is expected.

A Sea Lion in Lake Michigan.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 11.—A sea lion made its appearance in the Milwaukee drydock company's slip, where the sectional docks are moored, at 7 o'clock this morning. When first noticed it was swimming around in the slip and making the barking noise peculiar to its kind. After a time it swam off toward the rolling mills. The news of the strange visitor's appearance spread rapidly. The men in the big shipyards dropped their tools and hastened to the spot. Sailors jumped from their craft and hurried in pursuit. They were followed by longshoremen and a number of laborers, the latter armed with guns. Several shots were fired, but so far as known none took effect. At the rolling mill dock it was said that nothing had been seen of the critter, and it is supposed it had put out into the lake. The sea lion is undoubtedly the one that escaped a few months ago from Lincoln Park, Chicago. It is said that it was seen at Ludington, Mich., more than 100 miles northwest of Milwaukee, a few days ago.

Cannot Go to War.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—A rumor has reached here from New York that the Argentine republic and Peru were combining to make war upon Chili. In response to an inquiry at the Argentine legation the inquirer was informed that the rumor was absurd. In city circles the report is dismissed as utterly improbable. Peru has not a cent with which to buy war material. English bondholders hold the railways, guano deposits mines and state lands for 66 years, under a contract ratified in 1890. Argentine is in no better position to raise money for war.

Was Admitted to Bail.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Lieut. Cassidy, of Brooklyn, accused of having shot Michael Broderick during the switchmen's strike, appeared before Judge Green, in the supreme court at a special session this morning, and was admitted to bail in $10,000. Judge Advocate-General Jenks appeared as his attorney.

The Grain Crop.

The Review says a conservative estimate places this season's grain crop in the Palouse at over 10,000,000 bushels of wheat and from 600,000 to 800,000 bushels of barley. For weeks long lines of grain-loaded wagons have waited at various stations their turn to contribute to the rapidly growing mountains of wheat heaped up beside the already full elevators and warehouses. The abundant yield of the past two seasons placed farmers in such a condition financially that but few were forced to sell their entire crop this year, and as prices have been generally low those who could afford to do so have retained the greater part of their grain. Notwithstanding this, wheat is arriving at Tacoma, over the Northern Pacific, at the rate of between 100 and 125 carloads daily, and only the greatest attention on the part of elevator and warehousemen prevents a blockade. Over the Union Pacific grain is reaching Portland in equally large quantities, 24 freight trains being reported recently in one day bound for that city. Throughout Umatilla county and the remainder of Eastern Oregon more wheat is being sold than in eastern Washington. This is due to the fact that farmers generally in that section are not so well-to-do as are their northern neighbors, and can not afford to hold for higher prices. Undoubtedly much of the grain now being shipped from eastern Washington is sold because of a lack of proper facilities. Few farmers have barns or graneries large enough to hold the produce of their fields for a single season, and these, when obliged to store their wheat on open platforms, naturally prefer to sell to running the risk of damage by storms.

The alliance warehouses have proved a relief to many farmers, and yet, as there are but 35 of these throughout the Inland Empire, their benefits are necessarily limited. Along the snake river, from Lewiston down, the huge piles of grain are being reduced at the rate of from 200 to 300 tons per day and although extra boats have been running on the river for weeks, they yet remain thousands of bushels of wheat piled on the banks of that stream—enough, in all probability, to keep the extra steamboats busy until the river runs too low for navigation.

The acreage sown in barley during the past season was greater than ever before, and will be largely increased again this year, it having proved in certain sections the most advantageous crop that can be raised. Everywhere plowing and seeding have been greatly retarded by a lack of rain; but as soon as the ground is in proper condition this work will be pushed, and preparations for reaping the greatest harvest next season ever known in the northwest will be completed.

The Prize is Drawn.

Review. Republicans generally manifest a spirit of prompt acquiescence in the popular will, as reflected in the election of a democratic president and congress. The country has decided that it desires a radical change of policy, at a time when it was never more prosperous, and it is willing to entrust the democratic party with the work. No one on earth knows what fruits this will bring. It may bring absolute free trade on the lines laid down by the Mills bill. The logic of the situation is decidedly with the free traders. They can say, with reason and force, that the country rejected the Mills idea in 1888, that the Morrison idea has long been under the ground, and that since the platform for 1892 calls for free trade in principle, and the democracy swept the country with that plank, the country should have free trade. On the other hand, Mr. Cleveland has said that free trade is an impossible specter, and in his letter of acceptance has promised to exercise it. Meanwhile the country will await with considerable interest democratic action which will indicate the nature of the prize it has drawn from the political grab-bag.

GOSSIP ABOUT MILES

Chicago has Proved to be an Unhealthy Place for Brigadiers.

GERMANS IN DAHOMEY ACCUSED

Where King Behanzin got His Quick Firing Rifles From.

A SUBJECT OF DIPLOMATIC WAR

Mysterious Murder in San Jose—Gypsy Kidnappers in Idaho—The New Orleans Strike.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—The rumor in army circles that General Miles has asked the war department to let him exchange places with General Howard because of the criticism by the press of Chicago on his management of the military parades in connection with the ball and dedicatory ceremonies of the world's fair, is denied by that Indian fighter. "I have made no application to the department to be removed from Chicago," said the general. "Rumors are easily started, and they grow rapidly on their travels. I have been severely criticised. Chicago has proved to be an unhealthy place for major-generals," continued General Miles, significantly; then, after waiting a moment to give the innuendo force, he went on: "General Sheridan, you know, contracted here the disease which eventually ended his life. Then there were General Terry and General Crook, who died while in command of the division."

Good Chance for a Row.

PARIS, Nov. 11.—Many accusations have been made that the German agents in Dahomey have furnished King Behanzin with quick-firing rifles. These have been denied by the Germans, who assert if Behanzin had such weapons he procured them from the British. The latter assertions are borne out by a capture just made off the coast of Dahomey. The Brandon, a French dispatch boat, cruising off the coast, surprised the British steamer John Holly, with a cargo of Winchester rifles and ammunition, beyond all doubt intended for the Dahomeyan army. The vessel was seized and the cargo confiscated. The matter will undoubtedly be made the subject of diplomatic remonstrance.

A Mysterious Murder.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 11.—Henry Planz, aged 25, recently appointed manager of the Fredericksburg brewery, was found this morning hanging to a tree on Julian street, near Guadalupe bridge. His hands were tied behind his back and his feet tied together and a handkerchief over his mouth. The ground near the tree and for a distance of thirty feet showed evidence of a struggle. The affair thus far is shrouded in mystery. It is not known what could have been the motive of any one to get him out of the way. A diamond ring was found on his finger and robbery is not thought to furnish the motive.

New Orleans Strike off.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 11.—An evidence that the agreement by the labor unions to declare the strike off was made in good faith, the street-cars began running at 6 this morning and all lines of business will doubtless be fully resumed today.

A Fool and His Money.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 11.—George Metcalf, a "crank" living on the outskirts of town, bet $100 yesterday that Cleveland would never occupy the presidential chair. The bet was taken by a down-town liquor dealer.

Has Not Shut Down.

ELWOOD, Ind., Nov. 11.—There is no truth in the report that the tin-plate factory has suspended operations. The plant was closed temporarily to put in improved machinery.
