LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Mr. R. A. Laughlin of Wapinitia, is in the city. Mr. M. K. McLeod of Kingsley, is in the city. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. H. Dufur left for home this morning. Capt. Sherman took the helm on the steamer Regulator this morning. Sunshine and shadows alternate today. With little drops of water from skyward. At Bake Oven at three o'clock yesterday morning it was snowing, and the fall continued briskly until 6 a. m. Thos. Callaghan, who is farming extensively in Sherman county, will winter his stock at Dufur the coming season. Don't let the weather be an excuse for remaining away from the entertainment at the M. E. Church tonight. Miss Rosa Stannus will appear. A. W. Branner, the Oregon, Idaho and California stage manager, was a passenger on the train down this a. m., which ran on to the land slide. The Astorian type setting machine may be a thing of beauty, but it cannot be a joy forever, as the proof sheets cannot be corrected with a bodkin. W. F. Cornell, long and favorably known among Oregon printers, is now the San Francisco agent of the celebrated Campbell press and Manufacturing Co. Hon. D. P. Thompson has been tendered the portfolio of American Minister to Constantinople, and if he can so arrange his business matters as to leave, will depart for Turkey on the 1st of December.

The fog and snow combined hanging on the crest of Klickitat hills early this morning, resembled a huge drift. It was a beautiful winter scene, witnessed by many in The Dalles from cheerful apartments in homes facing northwesterly. The grand jury is in session, inquiring into numerous cases on the criminal docket, for the usually law-abiding community composing the population of Wasco county. Of course the criminal is ubiquitous and of great public expense, but THE CHRONICLE is proud that he is not so numerous in Wasco county as rated. It was pretty much like winter on DesChutes hill yesterday, where the stage driver reports four inches of snow. Rain in The Dalles, with the temperature as it was yesterday, means snow on the high hills. The Dalles is 116 feet above the sea level at Astoria; DesChutes hill is twenty-five miles from The Dalles, and is 2,350 feet above sea level.

J. B. Hosford late of the Moro Observer, and F. M. Bixby present editor of that wide awake journal, are in the city. Messrs. B. F. Laughlin and H. Glenn, of the D. P. and A. N. Co., leave for Portland in the morning by the steamer Regulator. Corridors of The Dalles hotels are filled with visitors from abroad. Jurors, witnesses and attorneys in attendance upon the circuit court predominating. There is considerable choice fruit in The Dalles market yet. J. Folco, the East End confectioner is packing and shipping a fine assortment daily. Michael Baegen of Rutledge, is a democrat, who has a fellow feeling for a fallen foe, hence has enrolled himself with the increasing number of patrons of THE CHRONICLE.

Among the most jovial democrats of Wasco county in the city today none are more enthusiastic than Mr. W. L. Ward. Why should he not be jolly; Ohio is his native state. Gobble, gobble, gobble, is the popular language of the fowls at J. H. Cross' corner today, and gobble is the word in Portland, which demands all the fat turkeys in the land for the 24th. It is the most natural thing in the world for The Dalles people to enter the postoffice immediately after lunch time. They are generally rewarded but this is one of the days when "the Nasby officials fooled 'em."

The whole Masonic-fraternity of Antelope went over to Fossil Saturday morning to be in attendance at lodge meeting at that place. The Herald says the Masons will organize a lodge at Antelope in a short time. Hood River is largely represented at the circuit court. From among these we acknowledge calls from Messrs. S. F. Blythe, F. E. Wickens, C. P. Heald, Doug. Payton, H. F. Davidson, F. C. Sherrick and J. S. Ingalls. We understand that The Dalles electric light company contemplate some material changes soon, one of which will be a removal from the present site on Union street, to a more eligible location on Main street, just below the depot, recently secured. A large number of Dalles City and Wasco county democrats will leave by the steamer Regulator Thursday morning to attend the grand democratic ratification. Fare for the round trip has been placed within the reach of all. See notice by Agent Alloway in another column. From the way the tickets are selling it is evident that there will be a crowded house tonight at the Methodist church to hear Miss Stannus. Those who wish good seats will have to come early, as there is no choice, no seats being reserved. The recital begins at 8 o'clock. We are informed that there is an error in regard to Mr. Isenberg, working for the democracy at Hood River. As a republican judge he simply insisted that when a man wished to vote the democratic ticket he should not be switched off to the Weaver wing of Murphy's adoption. No one need be reminded of the great things to come off in the Baldwin buildings tomorrow and Thursday. The display of chrysanthemums will exceed the fondest hopes of those interested, and the tables loaded down with good things will more than repay those who partake. The public in general, as well as the friends of St. Paul's guild, are cordially invited to be on hand any time between the hours of one and ten o'clock.

Land Slide Accident Near Dodson's Station This Morning. Train No. 1, passing here at 3:05 a. m. ran on to a slide below Bonneville, ditching two cars. Reports say it was a big slide, a Cleve-land slide; but fortunately nobody was hurt. It has been impossible in this case, as in all other cases of railway accidents, to obtain any definite information respecting the extent of the damages, or possible delays. Unofficially we have been informed that it will require twelve hours to clear the track. As the accident occurred probably about 5:30, this would prevent a train passing the scene of the wreck early enough to bring the mails due at The Dalles at 1:05 before perhaps 5 or 6 o'clock p. m.

The Cascade Canal. Mr. John Tranna, an official at Cascade locks who was in the city last evening, says there have been bidders and bidders at that place from all portions of the United States, who have put in bona fide bids, with all the collateral necessary to secure for them proper recognition, and he has not a particle of doubt but that the bids will be opened today, according to the best of intentions, and the contract duly let as congress has provided in the act. A quarry of stone, acceptable for the work, has been found above the cascades, convenient to barges, by means of which it may be floated to the works. He thinks that the routine of letting the contract can all be finished up inside of thirty days, so that construction will begin immediately following the holidays.

Testimonial. To whom it may concern: April last I was thrown from a horse near The Dalles and was seriously injured on my head. I held two policies in the Standard Accident Insurance Co. of Detroit, Michigan, at the time, and if I had waited I should have drawn indemnity for 52 weeks. I needed funds to enable me to visit California for change of climate and scenes hoping to get relief therefrom and last week I compromised my claim with the company and received from C. F. Briggs general manager of Portland full indemnity for 33 weeks being nearly ten months full indemnity and advance payment from the date of settlement of my claim. The honorable treatment received from the Standard prompts me to commend it to my friends and others needing insurance. G. W. INGALLS.

Wapinitia Letter. The Oak Grove Ditch Being Rapidly Pushed Ahead. The Oak Grove ditch is being rapidly pushed to the front. It is twelve feet on the bottom, and passes through the finest belt of timber to be found anywhere. They have near one hundred men at work, and all the teams they can get; and expect to work as long as the weather will permit. When it storms in the mountains they will move into the valley and continue the work. When completed it will insure the prosperity of the finest section of country in Eastern Oregon. They have good soil and plenty of it. Plenty of timber, and a good road up Tygh Hill; and room for a hundred more families. Two good schools, a church, and any amount of good climate. This enterprise is of great importance to Sherman county, and also Bake Oven, Antelope, Deep Creek, and country east of Des Chutes river. As this company intend to furnish everything in the line of lumber, wood, posts, etc., establishing lumber yards at different points on the Des Chutes river, for persons wishing to get homes, there is no location furnishing a better opportunity for settlement. This enterprise is deserving of all encouragement possible, for it will increase in a few years the wealth of Wasco county fully one-third. Having had the privilege of hauling water a part of the year every year, and seeing my neighbors do likewise, I feel like giving three cheers for the men who are engaged in this enterprise. WAPINITIA. Bake Oven Party. Antelope Herald. One of the most enjoyable balls ever held in southern Wasco county was given last Tuesday night at Bake Oven, under the auspices of New Burgess. A fine new 24x40 ft. hall has been built at that place for dancing and other purposes, and it is one of the best dance halls in this country. About forty numbers were sold, the majority of boys and girls hailing from Antelope. Music was furnished by E. M. Shutt, 1st violin, K. N. Staebler, 2d violin and Ed Smith, who manipulated the organ. The mazy dance was participated in with the greatest interest until about 12 o'clock, when the guests were all invited to Burgess' hotel, where they sat down to one of the best and most tempting suppers mortal man was ever permitting to slap his lips over. The good things were prepared by Mrs. Burgess and others, and we venture to say a more delicious repast was never gotten up in this country. After supper the dance was resumed with renewed vigor until about four o'clock in the morning, when the dancers disbanded, all being satisfied that it was the most enjoyable ball given in this country for a long time. A Forecast of Winter. The Klickitat hills, and some of our own Wasco county hills in sight from The Dalles; yesterday morning looked white in their new robes of winter, suggesting the coming. When the Prineville stage came in last night, and reported four inches on DesChutes hill, the words of the poet came to the front: The snow and sleet and fog may come, And all the world grow dreary; Upon the glass rain-fingers drum, And men outside be weary; But once inside a well-warmed room, Feet traced upon a radiator, What need one care for outer gloom— Why should one be a winter hater?

Miss Rosa Stannus who gives the dramatic entertainment in the interest of the Epworth League this evening, combines the best results of both eastern and western training, having studied with Madame Melville in San Francisco, and then in the Chicago Athenaeum Oratorical school, and finished up with Madame Bishop in Del Sarte. It is rumored that she is an Oregon born girl; if it is so, she is only one of many young men and women of this state who are winning justly deserved laurels in the eastern world. From the reports that precede her it is evident that the Epworth League have done a wise thing in securing Miss Stannus for an entertainment. She is drawing large houses all over the northwest, and leaving behind the reputation of being a true artist. This will be her only visit to The Dalles, as she is on her way east and thence to England and Ireland, in the latter of which countries, she is going to make a study of Irish peasant life, with a view to improvement of her character sketches, her Irish brogue is said now to be inimitable.
