 Mr. Frank Taylor of Centerville, is in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Maier returned from Portland this morning.

Leave orders for Thanksgiving Turkeys at J. H. Cross' Feed Store.

Mr. A. B. Craft of Rufus, is in the city. We acknowledge a call today.

Gov. Penoyer has commissioned Judge J. B. Condon a Notary Public.

Messrs. B. F. Laughlin and Hugh Glenn returned from Portland last evening.

Fresh bread of the Geo. Ruch bakery, for sale at the Columbia Candy factory, Campbell Bros., daily.

Messrs. Pauline and Irene Adams and Jeanette Meredith left on the Regulator this morning for Salem.

Pease & Mays White House of buttons, and "Cleveland is in it," makes a fine window display today.

Mr. J. H. Shearpr expects to leave for the east on Monday, to look after his wool, en route to Boston from The Dalles via Cape Horn.

A million torches, etc., more or less, in use at the Portland ratification, came up on the steamer Regulator last night for The Dalles democracy tonight.

Messrs. Alex. McIntosh of Grants, J. O. McKinney of Walla Walla, and M. A. Leslie of Moro, arrived on the west-bound passenger this morning, and are in the city on business.

The Regulator will make a trip tomorrow, Nov. 20th, and connect with Dalles City at Cascade Locks for Portland, leaving The Dalles at 8 o'clock a. m. This is the reliable through time just now.

Mr. D. Finlayson of Centerville, who was in yesterday, says there is considerable wheat to haul to The Dalles yet from the farms of Klickitat. About twenty loads came in today, and the roads are still improving.

Mr. Jacob Bills, of Oakland, Cal., brother of Mr. Chris Bills, our city patrolman, Henry Bills and Mrs. Crate and Mrs. Wynham, left for Oakland by the steamer Regulator yesterday, accompanied as far as Portland by Mrs. Crate and Mrs. Wynham. He expects to settle up his business in California and return to The Dalles permanently.

Mr. W. H. Wells arrived in the city early this morning. He says that neither snow nor rain is doing the region in which he lives, beyond the Des Chutes any good. What rain has fallen has about dried out, the region is dusty, and vegetation has stopped growing. That portion of the country certainly needs the benefits of irrigation.

The case of the state of Oregon v. Wm. Bergfeld, indicted on suspicion of poisoning Mrs. Matilda Rogers, will come up for trial next week. It is not known whether new evidence has been brought before the grand jury, but the case excites wide interest and the trial will be largely attended.

The Regulator last evening brought the Oregonian of yesterday morning to The Dalles four hours ahead of the U. P. R. train, due here at 1:05 p. m. The D. P. and A. N. company's boats are now the most certain medium of getting into Portland and The Dalles on time every day in the week, Sundays excepted.

Our young friend across the way, true to his word, has from all appearances gone into the wood business in dead earnest. The young ladies of THE CHRONICLE force, although deeply interested as to whom the partner may be, are none the less solicitous as to whether the wood and hardware will interfere with the confectionary business.

Hon. Geo. A. Young, now carries a beautiful time piece, the works, case and all the manufacture of a nephew, Mr. S. L. Young, who has been with the Elgin works for the past thirty years. It is an open-faced hunter cased gold watch, with Elgins best works, and on the dial plate above the center and below the figure 12, has a photo of a beautiful thoroughbred Spanish merino buck.

The prize bouquet of the chrysanthemum exhibit was purchased by Dr. Whitcomb of Dufur, and after being carefully packed was sent to friends in New York city; where people enjoy (?) the rigors of winter at this time in three feet of snow; as a greeting from the sunny Dalles, where these beautiful flowers are yet blooming in out door flower gardens. It is a gift which will be very highly prized. After Dr. W. finishes up some business on hand here he intends paying a visit to Southern Oregon on business.

The Eye of the Inland Empire is upon the Oregonian, and one of The Dalles most influential citizens asks if the Oregonian referred to Blagens 2 1/2 million bid for cascade canal completion when it said: "From this it will be seen that it will cost about the same to have the work done by contract as by the government." Is Mr. Blagen still in the employ of the Union Pacific railway company? is at this time a significant inquiry perhaps.

The County Poor.

At the late session of the county court, at the annual letting of contracts, a bid was received from Mrs. E. Fulton of Hood River, for keeping the county and non-resident poor for the next year, beginning with November 21st, 1892, Monday next, and it being considered the lowest bid: $1,197 for the county, and $4.00 per week for non-resident poor; it was ordered that the bid be accepted, and bonds filed in the sum of $2,500. It is expected that the bonds will be filed today. The poor ye always have, and as Mr. Cushing has taken extra good care of them, it is to be hoped the county may not regret the change which has become necessary under the present method of attending to such business. The time is coming when the county will have to own a hospital and farm for this purpose, and manage it with a salaried superintendent, as this unfortunate class of people should not be subjected to speculations, and lowest bids for food.

Circuit Court.

The jury in the case of the State v. Herman Hansen, brought in a verdict for the defendant last night, and he was discharged and bondsmen were exonerated.

In the case of McClure v. the railway company, for damages from forest fires, the following jury was impaneled this morning and the cause is now on trial: J. M. Leadford, Tim Mayhew, W. L. Vanderpool, M. B. Potter, E. W. Trout, S. F. Blythe, G. W. Runyan, J. B. Hawley, Wm. Lander, J. R. Nickelsen, T. E. Wickens, and Wm. Heisler. Other jurors for the term were excused until Monday morning.

The McD. Lewis Sale.

Messrs. Floyd, Gov. Moody and others who attended the sale of personal property at the farm of the late Hon. McD. Lewis, have returned. Bidding was quite spirited, and prices ruled high for everything. Hay $8.00 per ton; 200 lb. hogs $12.50 each; Milch cows from $20 to $28 each; Yearlings $6 to $10 each; oats 1 1/2, and barley 1c. per lb. The sheep sold equally as well, ewes at $3.55 per head, lambs $2.30 each.

About Portland Traffic.

Passengers leaving The Dalles by railway for Portland should be informed as to the conditions of things. This has not been done. Tickets sold for Thursday morning, upon which the passengers expected to reach Portland in time for business, were good for nothing after reaching the big land slide. There was no boat there to transfer, and down-right falsifying was indulged to prevent passengers from taking the steamer Dalles City when she came along on her daily down trip, but this did not prevent about seventy-five passengers from embarking by the Regulator line, and they were well cared for on board, fed and made comfortable, and landed in Portland between 4 and 5 o'clock p. m., but they had to pay the D. P. and A. N. Co. an extra dollar, for the reason that there are no favors coming to the Peoples line from the U. P. R. Co. The railway company, it is presumed continue to sell tickets to people who expect to get through on time; but do they tell the purchaser that a departure from The Dalles for Portland this afternoon at 4:10, providing that the train is on time; means an arrival in Portland tomorrow sometime? Or, do they say to the passenger leaving The Dalles at 3:05 a. m., you may not get in before 9 p. m.? The true situation of affairs should not be suppressed.

Wanted by a lady: A position as nurse. Inquire at CHRONICLE office.

W. MAXX, Mill Creek.

Thanksgiving eve, Nov. 23d, 1892, the long record of dullness under which The Dalles has been suffering from the recent destruction of the opera house, is to be broken by the advent of Prof. G. W. Kent with his famous lecture on the subject of Charles Dickens and his greatest work "Old Curiosity Shop" assisted by a series of beautiful dissolving views illustrative of the story of "Little Nell" operated by his clever partner Mr. Leon Borles. Amongst the beautiful pictures of child life which Mr. Dickens has given us there is not one so touching, so appealing to all hearts as that which Messrs. Kent & Borles have selected for the entertainment of our citizens. Due announcement by posters will be given as to prices.

Attention.

All democrats who desire to join the mounted division at the torchlight procession have to report at 7:45 Saturday evening to Capt. Ad. Keller, in charge of the division assembly at Union street, between Second and Third. COMD.

ON THE SUBJECT OF
CHARLES DICKENS
 and LITTLE NELL

A beautiful story of child life appealing to all hearts.
 PRICES OF ADMISSION, 50c and 25c.

It was Ben Johnson, we believe, who, when asked Mallock's question, "Is life worth living?" replied, "That depends on the liver." And Ben Johnson probably saw the double point to the pun. The liver active - quick - life rosy, everything bright, mountains of trouble melt like mountains of snow. The liver sluggish - life dull, everything blue, molehills of worry rise into mountains of anxiety, and as a result - sick headache, dizziness, constipation. Two ways are open. Cure permanently, or relieve temporarily. Take a pill and suffer, or take a pill and get well. Shock the system by an overdose, or coax it by a mild, pleasant way.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the mild means. They work effectively, without pain, and leave the system strong. One, little, sugar-coated pellet is enough, although a whole vial costs but 25 cents.
