A Cholera Scare.

A reported outbreak of cholera at Helmetta, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity.

By Order of the Common Council of Dalles City, made and entered on the 12th day of October, 1892, notice is hereby given that said city council is about to proceed to order and make improvements in streets in said city.

The improvement contemplated and about to be made is as follows, to-wit:

To improve Washington, Fulton and Laughlin streets in said city, by constructing a sewer of terra-cotta, from the Columbia river at the foot of said Washington street, and running thence south on said Washington street, to the junction of said street with Fulton street, and running thence easterly a one-half mile south of said Fulton street, and running thence southerly along said Laughlin street, to the alley next south of Alford street, said sewer to be of twelve inch terra-cotta pipe from the point of beginning, above mentioned, to the alley between Fourth and Fifth streets, and of ten inch terra-cotta pipe from said place, to the termination thereof, as above stated, at this 22nd day of October, 1892.

FRANK MENEFEER, Recorder of Dalles City.

A War Time Reel.

A relic of the war between the states is now on the dry dock, receiving such minor repairs and cleaning as may be necessary to commission her for harbor defense.

This was the second monitor ever built, and the record of her usefulness and her hard service may be seen in the shot dents of the turrets. These are painted in a color different from that of the surrounding iron in order to emphasize their story, and they serve as an object lesson to show that after all, when compared with our days, how innocuous were the boasted shot and shell of the rebellion.

Of course it does not make much difference whether a giant is killed by a toothpick or hoisted with a petard. He is dead all the same, and worms will eat him. But we were proud, and with good reason, of those big smooth bores and of their charges in those parlous days.

Then the theory was that for every ten pounds of shot one pound of powder was needed, a 90-pounder being fired with nine pounds of powder; today we have for each pound of powder two pounds of shot, the 10-inch guns of the Miantonomoh, the Nantucket's neighbor, using 350 pounds of powder to drive the 500-pound projectile.

The Nantucket has also a sentimental interest, for when the great Ericsson lay in state on her decks in the harbor of New York, she was the immediate representative of what his genius had evoked to save the country in time of peril, for the original Monitor went down one dismal day off our treacherous coast, and left as the second product of her wonderful type the little coast defender which now lies half hidden within the walls of the dry dock.—Harper's Weekly.
