that a glass in one of the front that a glass in one of the front doors had been broken in. He secured assistance to watch developments, and went for Otficer Gibons. The tore was then entered entered, when it was found that an Indian boy, abont 16 years old, was in the dian boy, a bont 16 years old, was in the atore. He had unlocked the store-room door, and appeared to be waiting for a door, and appeared to be waiting for a pal. The supposition is that the safe wight have been broken open, but for the timely appearance of Mr. Bills. The the timely appearance of Mr. Bills. The boy had been in town during the day, with other Indians of the Warm Springs agency. He had gone to camp with the older members of the tribe, and returned to town after nightfall. He was dised to town after nightiall. He was discovered by his white sombrero, as he covered behind some sacks in the storeskulked be had taken nothing but a room. He had room. He had taken nothing but a plentiful sapply of candy. The officers took him to jail, and he will be given an apportumity to explain the his nocturnal explorations.
There was quite a rash at the stage ofice last night of packages to be sent out this morning As the roade are very bad the stage company is perplexed huw to accommodate everybody and not overload the coaches. In order to prevent this it was decided to take ouly such sarticles as were indispensably necessary. Then the appeal was made in each case. One man brought in a package for W. Bolton \& Co., Antelope "I don't know whether this can go or not," says the affable agent, and the circumstances are related. "Well," says the would be shipper, "it is very eays the would be shipper, "it is very important that that package should go, important inat thal, package should go, becanae it is boots, and the people they are intended for are bare-footed, in the snow." "The package is marked $\mathbf{O}$. K.
