Something new, those Aristo photos at Herrio's gallery over the postoffice. The finest polish in the land. New eastern ethnic background. We lead, others follow. We originate, others imitate.

The young mens dancing club will hold a meeting this evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of effecting an organization at the office of H. H. Riddell. All members are requested to be present.

The Dalles is just now, and has for some time past, been one of the most excellent places for studying the moon's phases. The evenings are delightful, and promenade by the light of the moon have become quite the style.

At the regular monthly meeting of the M. E. Sunday school board, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. S. French, superintendent; Mrs. Emma Graham, 1st assistant; Mr. T. Kame, 2d assistant; Mr. C. H. Brown, secretary; W. A. Kirby, assistant secretary; Miss I. Adams, treasurer; Miss L. Buch, organist; Miss A. Sylvester, assistant organist; W. A. Kirby, librarian; Jno. Parrott, chorister.

The weather is something unusual for this time of the year. The days are more like April than January. North-east of us the farmers have pretty generally commenced plowing, the ground being in excellent condition for that purpose. Should it continue warm and clear for a week longer the farmers will be about as far advanced with their plowing as a year ago, although much less work was done in the fall than the

Mr. J. H. Cradlebaugh of the Glacier, is in the city today.

Rev. J. C. Baker will preach in the academy tomorrow morning.

The town is unusually lively today. Many farmers from the surrounding country having come in.

We call attention to the ad. of Mr. A. Velarde in another column. He is well fixed for house moving, etc.

The millenium has certainly come, at least it looks that way. For the first time in many years Baker city is without a fire tank and her royal Deugal highness has succumbed to the inevitable.

Gov. Penneyer has forwarded to the secretary of state at Washington, certificates of the election of Caples, Dunne and Irwin, republicans, and Pierce, people's democrat, the presidential electors of Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Faurie, late of Illinois, have arrived in The Dalles to remain. They became converted to this section of the Inland Empire by having had THE CHRONICLE sent to them the past six months. They will certainly never regret the change.

In putting a pulley on the derrick at Winans fishery this morning Mr. M. P. Neff had his fingers pinched considerably. The fishery is only about three miles above the city, but when the report reached the town it was to the effect that one of the expensive crabs for the superstructure had washed out, entailing damages of at least $1,000.

Mr. James Cameron of this city was married in Buffalo to Miss Maude Burnside, daughter of Rev. G. R. Burnside on the 28th ult. Mr. and Mrs. Cameron will make their home in Oregon. The ceremony was performed at the Dearborn street Baptist church by the father of the bride. The International Gazette says the presents were numerous and of a costly nature.

During the past two years there have been 757 commitments to the state penitentiary at Salem. This is one thing in which Wasco county has been exempt. There are none charged up against us in the statistical reports of crime in Oregon, as entering that institution. Multnomah heads the list with 309; Umatilla is next highest, having sent sixty-three; Marion forty-seven; Douglas thirty-two; Union twenty-eight. Thirty counties are in the list.

The annual masquerade ball of Jackson Engine Co. should receive liberal patronage, as this is the pioneer fire company of The Dalles, having been organized in 1863. During the many devastating conflagrations that have visited the city, this company has always done its duty towards saving property. Nearly all of the original members have passed away to the "silent shore," and among those who still remain are Judge Liebe and Mr. Henry Whitmore. These are the only ones, it is said, who are alive whose names are on the charter.

Clifton D. Stevens, a young man about 20 years old, a student of the university of Oregon, at Eugene, was killed about midnight Sunday night by a shock from the electric light wire. He was with a party of friends returning from a watch party, and playfully jumped and swung his weight on the cable which suspends the arc light. His weight raised the lamp so as to turn the current into the cable which he was holding, and when he touched the ground he was immediately killed. His death should be a warning to others, not to fool with elec-

The Salem Organization.

Salem reports say no one appears to have arisen yet to contest the presidency of the senate with Hirsch or the speakership of the house with Keady. For chief clerk of the senate, the natural selection would be O. P. Miller, both on account of his admirable work in the same capacity two years ago and the unwritten law in the party which returns a man to a place he has once filled well. Whether as secretary of the race-course at the state fair, or as United States deputy marshal, or in the councils of his party, Mr. Miller's tireless industry and accommodating ways endear him to all he comes in contact with. He appears to have no formidable opposition. For the corresponding place in the house, John Michell, editor of The Dalles Times-Mountaineer, will have a strong following, and if he makes an effort for it will probably succeed. A. C. Jennings, ex-representative from Lane county, is also a candidate, and R. P. Hays, who voted for Harrison at Minneapolis. Whether "Bob" can make his peace with the faithful remains to be seen. M. C. Starr, of Salem, has announced himself as a candidate for reading clerk of the house. J. B. Eddy will probably be reading clerk of the senate. He comes with two or three terms to his credit, and the added prestige of his "native son" speech, in nominating J. C. Leasure for congress at the last state convention. The position of sergeant-at-arms of the senate, it seems to be conceded, M. Pomeroy, of Columbia county, an ex-representative, can have if he will allow his name to be used. J. C. Blundell, of Douglas county, will most likely capture the corresponding place in the house.

The A. F. O. T. B. O. U. boys last evening made a number of New Years' calls which the broken Zither string prevented them from on Monday, and although New Years day had passed they preferred not to await the advent of another first of January. They visited quite a number of places (and a corresponding number of hearts were gladdened with one of John Booth's "Quaker Oats" cards.) The boys finally reached the residence of Mrs. Mary L. Booth, where a pleasant surprise awaited them. They found a number of young ladies who had been invited in, and the evening passed right merrily, an elegant little supper was served, and those present gave practical demonstration of their appreciation of Mrs. Booth's culinary skill. A novel feature was the exquisitely entrancing music of the Xylophone. With music, singing and pleasant conversation the time passed rapidly, and with such evident enjoyment that it will be long remembered by those present, who were: Ruth Cooper, Laura Thompson, Maybel Mack, Florence Lewis, Caddie Booth, Kate DeHuff, Rose and Annette Michell, Messrs. N. J. Sinnott, E. H. French, Edw. Patterson, F. A. French, F. Garretson, H. H. Riddell, John Booth and F. W. Wilson.

Vancouver, B. C., is sending a missionary into Oregon and Washington to ascertain the condition of the settlers and state the advantages of British Columbia for settlers. He will be absent about one month and will report his results to the minister of the interior.

A WAIF'S ADVENTURE.

A 10-Year-Old Boy Boards the Pilot of the Night Passenger.

One of the touching incidents of life that "makes the world akin," occurred in the early part of the week. An east-bound passenger engineer, while walking around his engine during the customary stop at Hood River, observed a little ball of humanity curled up on the pilot of his engine, who was shivering with cold and obviously very miserable. As is frequently the case in some natures, the big fellow sought to check the big lump rising in his throat by doing something harsh; so he shouted: "What in — are you doing here?" The mock menace completely overcame the already straining nerves of the little fellow, and breaking into a wail, he sought to escape from his position. Ere he could do so the engineer gathered him in his arms, and, as tenderly as an infant, carried him to his cab, and warmed him, and then the story was told.

He was 10 years old, had lost his parents, and was living with strangers at Fairview, a short distance this side of Portland. His life, for some reason, was unhappy and he thought he would escape by getting aboard the engine of the night train, where he would probably be unobserved. He had a married sister living a mile and a half from Pendleton, and thither he was bound.

His story was told with the sincerity of childhood, and the engineer was satisfied he was speaking truly. Arriving at The Dalles he made arrangements the following day for the continuance of his journey to his destination.

Had the engine have struck any object whatever the boy must have been killed during his miserable journey from Fairview to Hood River. The reporter regrets that it is not his province to further follow the fortunes of the little waif and tell of his reception by his sister, but, unlike the novelist, that pleasure is denied. But in all likelihood he will be well cared for.

Labor Commissioner Peck of N. The officers claim that Portland is well supplied with counterfeit money that can be detected only upon close examination. The banks have to exercise great care in order to escape being victimized, but business men are not so particular, and the money is easily passed upon them.

Deserving Praise.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, as we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. There remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Snipes & Kinersly's druggists.

Secretary Sargent, of the State Horticultural society, gave us the following recipe to protect fruit trees from the ravages of rabbits: For a bucket full mix a thin white wash, into which put three hands full of sulphur, one pound of salt, half a pint of gas tar, mix with earth to a paste, and apply to the tree. It is a sure preventive, and will not injure the tree.

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds.—If you have never used this Great Cough Medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at Snipes & Kinersly's drug store. Large bottles 50c and $1.00.

Lost.

A gold watch charm with a small piece of chain attached, between J. P. McNerny and Leslie Butlers. A reasonable reward will be paid for return of same to Maier & Bentons.

You can carpet your rooms at about your own price by calling on Crandall & Burget, at the new store on Union street.

We're not waiting for the bats and moles, but for men and women who have eyes and use them, who have brains and reason! There's a new world for them—suffering and sickly as they are—a new world created from the brain of a skillful physician—a discovery—the "Golden Medical Discovery."

Years ago Dr. Pierce found out that the secret of scrofula, bronchial, throat and lung trouble lay—in the beginning at least—in impure blood and the weak tone of the system; that the way to cure these effects was to remove the cause, that human nature being the same, the same results might be looked for in nearly all cases. So confident was he that the exceptions were uncommon that he took the risk of giving the medicine to those it didn't benefit for nothing, and the results have proved that he was right.

And "Golden Medical Discovery" is the remedy for the million! The only guaranteed Liver, Blood and Lung remedy. Your money back if it doesn't help you.
