LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. Lem Burgess of Bake Oven, is in the city today. Hon. W. H. Biggs of Wasco, is in the city on business today. Hot clam broth today, after 4 p. m., at J. O. Macks. A fine lot of furniture going very low at Crandall & Burget's new store. A choice lot of Tygh Ridge potatoes for sale by Chas. F. Laner, 74 Second street. Mr. Newton Burgess of Bake Oven, favorably known by our young people, is in the city for a few days. This morning the sidewalks were quite white with a thin coating of snow which fell about midnight. Messrs. J. W. and D. M. French left for Portland last evening to attend the funeral of the late W. S. Ladd. Mr. Littlefield of McMinnville, brother of Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw, is in the city, and will remain during the winter. The Chautauquan, circle will meet at the residence of Mrs. S. L. Brooks this evening. The quotations are about Pericles. Mr. Thos. Burgess, a leading stock man of Bake Oven is in the city today. Mr. Burgess reports the ground clear of snow and stock are doing well. Mr. Frank French, who has been spending the holidays with his parents in this city, returned to his studies at the Portland university yesterday. Mr. Buckley, of the stock firm of Kerr & Buckley of Sherman county, came into the city today. He reports no snow and farmers plowing in his section, and that stock are doing finely. Mr. G. W. French of Highland Prairie, Wash., is in the city today. Mr. F. informs us that stock in his section is doing well. As he came over the Klickitat hills today the sun was shining and the whole Columbia valley beneath him was enveloped in a heavy fog. Mr. Otto Kohler of Karlen & Kohler, large sheep men east of the DesChutes is in the city and in conversation with him we learn that sheep are in fine condition since the storm, and farmers are busy plowing making preparations for the largest crop of grain ever produced in that county. The Young Men's dancing club effected an organization and elected officers on Saturday evening. A large number were present, and plans for the future were adopted. There will be a considerable change in the affairs of the club; but, without doubt, the new arrangement will be much more satisfactory. At the meeting of the A. O. U. W. last Saturday evening the following officers of the order. Paul Krest, M. W.; Fred Halfpapp, P. M. W.; Hans Hanson, Foreman; Mr. Love, Overseer; T. N. Jones, Recorder; W. S. Myers, financier; Geo. W. Jones, Receiver; John Filloon, Guide; Jesse Simonson, J. W.; Jas. Fisher, O. W.

Hon. W. H. H. Dufur and wife were in the city yesterday. Postmaster Edmonson, at Grizzly, was mortally wounded by a man named Wheeler using a knife at a dance given there a few nights ago. He died in a short time after the assault. Mr. A. R. Wilcox who was sent to the hospital at Portland after the accident which occurred to him at Antelope, is now able to be about, and has removed from the hospital to the Quimby House. The Methodists commenced last evening to hold a series of revival meetings. There will be preaching service at the church each evening at 7 o'clock until further notice. The services are being conducted by Rev. J. Whialer. Mr. A. J. Shrum of Mitchell, Mr. Thomas Burgess, Samuel Burgess and I. N. Burgess of Bake Oven, Hon. W. H. Biggs of Wasco, and several others who are deeply interested in the welfare of Inland Empire are in the city. It somehow leaked out during the day that part of the party are headed for the 3rd house now in session at Salem. Mr. Biggs was in great haste to get there and take a hand in affairs, notably to see that the county divisionists do not chop off more than they can properly handle.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, as we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Snipes & Kinsersly's druggists.

FUNERAL OF WM. S. LADD.

Universally Loved, Greatly Respected, Sincerely Mourned.

According to the wish of Mr. Wm. S. Ladd, that when he died his funeral should occur in the morning, arrangements were made for his burial at 10:30 today, from the First Presbyterian church in Portland, of which he was an honored member. It is safe to say that it was the largest funeral that has ever taken place in Portland. No man has ever died in Oregon who was so universally beloved, none more sadly mourned. THE CHRONICLE gave a short sketch of his life on the evening of his death. The exchanges reaching the office since then from within the range of possibility to secure the news, all contain sorrowful evidences of the loss which the community has sustained by his death. It appears that Mr. Ladd spent many of the gladsome holiday hours of the past festival season on his bed of sickness. The first of last week, however, the Welcome says, although still enfeebled, he attended a meeting of the water commission, of which he is an interested member. Before the close of the session Mr. Ladd made a brief speech, of a somewhat pathetic character, to his fellow-members of the board. Among other things, he said that chief of the fond ambitions of his life is a bountiful supply of purer and cheaper water for the city of Portland. The water at present supplied the Portland people is detestful and deleterious to the public health, and he would hail the day of the completion of the Bull Run system and be glad of the hour when water should be free. Rates at present are too high, and the added cost of sickness in consequence of the water's impurity, is a grievous burden, especially upon the poor. In a tone of earnestness he added that he had long desired to witness the erection, at Riverview cemetery, of a chapel worthy of that beautiful spot. Such an edifice he declared a necessity of our civilization. He also hoped for an unobstructed river to the sea, a channel so deep that the greatest ships afloat may safely navigate it. The gentleman spoke with an unusual depth of feeling, closing with the words that time was leaving its touch upon him and that he might not live to witness the consummation of his hopes. When he had concluded his short address his fellow members of the board grasped his hand and in words of honest candor expressed the hope that the speaker might live to view the completion of these improvements and many others time will demand. It was plain that his auditors were affected by his address. Many incidents are related showing deserved tributes to an honest citizen. A few months since, says one of these, an institute for the cure of the liquor habit and kindred afflictions was established in Portland. It had not been long in existence when a distant acquaintance, one with whom he had conversed less than a dozen times; took the treatment and was pronounced cured. A short time afterward, Mr. Ladd sent a note to the gentleman. It said he wished a private interview with the man. In that conversation he desired an honest opinion as to the merits of the cure, and being assured of its efficacy he said: "I have been asked to become treasurer of the concern, and after what you have said I will consent that my name be used. I pity those poor fellows who have fallen from drink, and I am willing to lend my influence in any honorable direction that will tend to their redemption. One of the brightest of my acquaintances and a dear friend (referring to a gentleman well known in Portland) has, I am told, been treated at the institute, and I pray that his cure may be thorough and permanent." Mr. Ladd talked for fully five minutes of the curse of rum, and the great blessings that would accrue to humanity if a cure for the debasing affliction had really been discovered. To a recent biographer, alluding to his wealth, Mr. Ladd said that if all the property he owned in his own right and had transferred to his eldest son could be converted into cash at its actual value, the amount would probably foot up to $18,000,000. He added, however, that the statement was not for publication.

Mr. Ladd was not an autocrat. With all his wealth, he was a plain, every-day citizen. In the home of many a poor man in Oregon his death will be sincerely mourned. Several friends from The Dalles were in attendance at the funeral among them Messrs. D. M., J. W. and Smith French, relatives of Mr. Ladd and, alas! very many from different portions of the coast, will mourn the fact that they may never see his pleasant face any more. Crandall & Burget are now settled in their new store in the Michelbach brick on Union street, next door to Floyd & Show's. Call around. You can carpet your rooms at about your own price by calling on Crandall & Burget, at the new store on Union street.

You've tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription have you and you're disappointed. The results are not immediate. And did you expect the disease of years to disappear in a week? Put a pinch of time in every dose. You would not call the milk poor because the cream doesn't rise in an hour? If there's no water in it the cream is sure to rise. If there's a possible cure, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is sure to effect it, if given a fair trial. You get the one dollar it costs back again if it don't benefit or cure you. We wish we could give you the makers' confidence. They show it by giving the money back again, in all cases not benefited, and it'd surprise you to know how few dollars are needed to keep up the refund.

Mild, gentle, soothing and healing is Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Cures the worst cases permanently. No experimenting. It's "Old Reliable." Twenty-five years of success.
